Nation-Wide Conspiracy to Hamper Government

OUTRAGES OF THE I. W. W. FORCES TO CRIPPLE DEFENSE

Plots That Contemplated Sweeping

THE EVIDENCES OF THIS ARE PILING UP

Washington, Sept. 7.—Reports and disclosures to officials here in connection with the seizure Wednesday of I. W. W. documents throughout the country indicate, it was said today, that there has existed for some time a nation-wide conspiracy to hamper the government in almost every conceivable way in carrying on the war.

Opposition to the draft law, then left to visit some historic spots on the Marne battlefield. Democratic Simplicity. The French president's reception was marked by democratic simplicity. He was dressed in his familiar blue knickerbocker suit with leather leggings and wore, as usual, a simple blue yachting cap. The review was held on the top of a plateau in the American training area and when President Poincare and his party arrived early this morning the troops were drawn up at attention in regimental squares, a formation which seemed wonderfully formidable.

They were massed in great solid squares and marching quickly to spirited American music presented a spectacle of unusual martial splendor.

President Poincare, addressing the soldiers, said that he had witnessed their demonstration with great emotion and felt that events were every day bringing the French and American peoples closer and closer together.

The French president, accompanied by Paul Painleve, minister of war and marine; General Petain and several other French generals, was met at the American field headquarters by General Pershing and General Sibert. Today was the anniversary of the birth of Lafayette as well as the beginning of the battle of the Marne and President Poincare said that he had specially selected the date to pay his first visit to the American troops. He inspected several American barracks and billeting quarters in French villages and

Summary of the Day's War News

Although the Austrians apparently still retain a precarious hold upon Monte San Gabriele, their last remaining mountain stronghold, northeast of Gorizia, the end is in sight for them in this region, according to Italian belief.

Gen. Cadorna's report today shows the Austrians still resisting desperately, but staggering under the heavy losses which the incessant Italian pressure of the last few days has inflicted upon them. This pressure is being maintained and is becoming decisive, the commander of the attacking forces announces. The Italian reports are invariably conservative and it has been noted that Gen. Cadorna has a habit of withholding an announcement until he is sure of his ground. The confident tone of today's communique from Rome therefore is considered significant.

HERE'S PICTURE OF NATION'S FLAG BEARER AT HEAD OF THE NI

Woodrow Wilson stepped out ahead, down Pennsylvania avenue from the peace monument to the White House, as leader of the parade of the selective service soldiers of the District of Columbia. It is the first time in the present generation that a president, nominally the nation's standard-bearer, has acted as an actual standard-bearer, carrying the nation's flag.

MORE THAN 8,000 WAVE FAREWELL AS SOLDIERS LEAVE

"We Will Bring the Old Flag Back Without a Stain," Shouts One Member as He Boards Train.

PROGRAM IN FRONT OF ELKS TEMPLE

Company E, one hundred and thirty-five valiant men strong, was sent away at 8:45, eastern time, Friday morning, amid the flutter of handkerchiefs and the call of "Get the kaiser!"

Hundreds of citizens gathered before the Elks' temple in the clearing minutes of early morning to hear the farewell orations by soldiers of other days and at least 8,000 men, women and children followed the impressive parade to the L. E. & W. station for the last word of parting.

The "good-bye" for Company E was one of the most ardent sendoffs of the year. Every man in the parting company shook a half score of hands before he was allowed to board the waiting train at the Lake Shore station.

At the depot there was the grand effort to "send them away with a smile." Now and then a mother or sister broke down and gulped big lumps in their throats as they kissed and hugged their farewells but there was never a hysterical wave in all the vast assembly. Fathers patted their uniformed sons on the shoulder and urged them to "fight 'er out to the finish." The real expression of sorrow came when those left behind turned away after the last waving hat had disappeared with the leaving of the train.

"Loyal Old Fort Wayne." "We certainly thank loyal Fort Wayne for the favors she has extended this organization," said Captain Ray McAdams as a parting word at the station. "The local public is responsible for the good spirit in which the men are starting out. The boys are full of cheer and full of fight. Every man of them expects to come back in a halo of glory."

"We are all in line and expect to stay there to the finish," said Jimmie

SUPREMACY AT SEA DEFENDS FREEDOM

Premier Says America Has Never Been Beaten and Never Will Be.

Birkenhead, Eng., Sept. 7.—Premier Lloyd-George in a speech here today on receiving the freedom of the city declared that the whole allied cause and the freedom of the world depended on supremacy at sea and that he was certain it would be maintained. German statesmen, he said, had been at great pains to impress upon their people that the submarine figures given out by him in the house of commons recently were inaccurate. He declared these figures were absolutely correct and that they put an end to all hopes of the enemy to win.

The premier asserted he was absolutely convinced that the German submarine never would be able to beat down the strength of the British empire or beat down the hopes of the alliance by all the efforts the Germans could make with the submarine.

"America, who has now come into the conflict, has never known defeat and on this occasion, too, she with her allies will triumph over her foe."

"For all these reasons I ask you to be of stout heart. There may be stony paths to climb, but we will climb them. Our foot paths may be stained with blood, but we shall reach the heights and then in front we shall see the rich valleys and plains of the new world."

The premier said the news from Russia in the last few days had not been good. He thought when the revolution came that it would have the effect of postponing victory, but he had expected an earlier recovery.

Has Faith in Russia.

"However, through all we must exercise patience," he added. Mr. Lloyd-George said the Russian leaders, all brave and patriotic men, knew the enemy attempt in the Riga region involved the fate of the revolution, the fruits of which they would do their

COMPERS HEADS LABOR ALLIANCE FOR GREAT WAR

EXEMPTION OF YOUNG MEDICS TO BE SETTLED

New York, Sept. 7.—The question of the exemption of medical students is expected to be definitely settled today, according to Dr. S. S. Caldwell, chairman of the mayor's committee on medical and hospital facilities, who said arrangements had been made a week ago which will keep the medical students at home as members of the reserve corps.

"Under the plan suggested by the mayor's committee, and adopted by General Crowder," he said, "medical students need not leave the concentration camps, but may pass directly into the enlisted reserve corps."

FRENCH BILL OF WAR FOR THREE MONTHS IS VAST

Paris, Sept. 7.—The budget committee of the chamber of deputies have commenced an examination of the war credits demanded for the final three months of 1917. The total amount is $1,200,000,000, francs (the highest since the war).

AERIAL ATTACK BY GERMANS ON THE AMERICANS

ITALY SEEMS NEAR A DECISIVE RESULT

London, Sept. 7.—The Germans yesterday made an aerial attack on the American hospitals occupied by St. Louis and Harvard contingents, killing one officer of the American army medical corps and wounding three others severely. Reuters correspondent at British headquarters telegraphs today. Two others of the rank and file were killed and sixteen wounded, five of the latter being Americans.

Numerous such attacks have been made within the last fortnight. Late in August a hospital behind the Verdun lines was bombed and thirty persons, including twenty nurses, were killed.

On Wednesday night last, there was another attack on the same hospital, nineteen persons being killed and twenty-six wounded in a systematic effort which was carried on with brief intervals during more than six hours.

ITALY NEAR VICTORY.

Rome, Sept. 7.—Italian pressure against the Austrians in the region northeast of Gorizia is becoming decisive, the war office announced today. The enemy has suffered extremely heavy losses for several days in his desperate resistance.

NOT IN GREAT DANGER.

Petrograd, Thursday, Sept. 6.—Although Petrograd in the opinion of various military authorities is in no immediate danger on account of the fall of Riga, preparations are being made against the eventuality of an unexpected descent by the Germans.

The temporary government has appointed a special commission with authority to preserve order, suppress seditious meetings, suppress the publication of newspapers and where desirable clear the city of undesirable elements. The cabinet has decided that there is yet no need for the government to be transferred elsewhere.

Although there are no signs of a panic there are elements in the population, particularly members of the wealthy class who are leaving, or attempting to leave, in large numbers. Many business firms are considering transferring their headquarters to Moscow, or Nijni Novgorod or some other provincial city. According to the newspapers the present Russian front represents the arch of a circle from the mouth of the river As southeastwards about forty miles from Riga. Dvinsk, according to reports, is still holding out.

PEACE CULT IS FIRED FROM ITS NEW YORK HOME

New York, Sept. 7.—The People's Council of America was reported to be looking for a combination of suitable offices and a friendly landlord today, following the notice served upon the organization yesterday that it must vacate the premises on Fifth avenue, where its present offices are located. The order to move is effective Sept. 12 and was issued by the landlord, it was said, following a notice from the police department that the law was being violated.

SILLIE SALLIE SEEMS TO HAVE VANISHING JOB

Buffalo, Sept. 7.—Miss Margaret Fotheringham, arrested with other suffragists for picketing in front of the white house, will be dismissed as a teacher of domestic science in the Buffalo public schools if Dr. Henry P. Emerson, superintendent of education, has his way.

"I have received many protests against continuing Miss Fotheringham as a teacher," Superintendent Emerson said. "It is no credit to the city to have on its pay roll a teacher who persists in insulting the president of the United States."

GREAT DEMAND FOR PLACES AS CLERKS IN WAR

Washington, Sept. 7.—Anxiety of men to go to France as army clerks is indicated by receipt at the war department of many more applications than positions open. In the engineers' corps 150 places as clerks are sought by 4,000 men, and for fifty positions as draftsmen there are 300 applicants with scores of others coming daily. Similar conditions will be given by other branches of the army.

INDIANA WILL GET NEAR HALF MILLION FEDERAL ROAD AID

Washington, Sept. 7.—Indiana will receive $406,230 for the construction and maintenance of rural post roads from the federal government for the year ending June 30, 1919, according to the apportionment to the states of the fund of $14,550,000 announced today by Secretary Houston, of the department of agriculture. The law calls for the apportionment of $20,000,000 for 1920 and $25,000,000 for 1921. The apportionment announced today is the third to be made under the law, $4,850,000 was the amount for 1917 and $9,000,000 for 1918. The amount announced for some of the other states follows: Michigan, $435,357; Ohio, $558,042; Illinois, $468,325; and Kentucky, $392,264.

J. H. LONES DIES
OF PNEUMONIA

Well Known Pennsylvania
Agent at Warsaw Expires
After Brief Illness.

News of the death of J. H. Lones, which occurred at his home in Warsaw at 5:30 o'clock Friday morning, was a severe shock to his railway friends in this city, many of whom had not heard of his illness. Mr. Lones was taken ill a few days ago with pneumonia and his condition at no time was considered serious until Thursday night, when he began to fail rapidly and the end came Friday morning.

Mr. Lones was born in Bucyrus, O., August 20, 1853, and was just a few days past 64 years old. He had been with the Pennsylvania company since February 9, 1875, beginning in the capacity of freight brakeman. March 3, 1876, he was transferred to Fort Wayne and given employment as a clerk in the freight house. Then came a series of promotions, during which he was transferred to the transportation and later to the passenger department, going from the latter position August 31, 1883, to Warsaw to take the office of agent for the company. He remained there continually in that capacity up to the time of his death. Mr. Lones became quite prominent in social, business and fraternal circles in Warsaw. Everybody knew him and admired and respected him for the many good traits of character he possessed. He was a member of the Scottish Rite Masons and of the I. O. O. F. and had held office in each. The arrangements for the funeral have not been completed and cannot be announced until tomorrow. Mr. Lones is survived by the widow. There are no children.

TWO MORE PROMOTIONS.

Henry C. Gollmer and W. H. King
Advanced.

The resignation of George M. Ecker as private secretary of Chief Clerk C. N. Brentlinger, of the Pennsylvania motive power office, to take a position at Pittsburgh with W. L. Wilt, mentioned by The Sentinel yesterday, has been followed by the appointment of Henry C. Gollmer, secretary to Mr. Brentlinger and the transfer from the valuation department and promotion of W. H. King to the position of chief clerk to Fred T. Huston, assistant superintendent of motive power, to succeed Mr. Gollmer. These changes are the result of good and efficient service in former positions held by the men affected and are complimentary to their abilities and faithfulness. They are popular with their associates and are receiving congratulations from them. Other changes will probably be made early next week.

WILL HAVE "HIKE" SUNDAY.

Bowser Military Club Plan for a Day in the Country.

The Bowser Military club, composed of employees of the big plant, and considered by many the best drilled and neatest uniformed club in the city, will on Sunday morning at 8 o'clock hike to somewhere. Captain Guy Drevitt, "the guy that drew it fame," would not divulge his plans for publication, but a leak occurred and following is as near a program as could be obtained: On arrival at "somewhere" the members will undergo some of the most intensive drilling they have as yet been subject to. At noon the bugle of the unit will sound mess call and the club members will be served a meal, "not army rations," prepared by the club's cook. After dinner there will be a baseball game, which will be played in big league style. At 6 o'clock the club will break camp, shoulder guns and return from "somewhere" to the city.

Here's a Headline You May Read Any Day: Extra 2,000 Killed in German Air-Sea Raid On New York City

What Will Happen When Kaiser's U-Boats and Battleplanes Strike at United States? News Dispatches Say Sending of Troops to France Brings This Retaliation Near

HERE'S ARTIST'S PICTURE OF DEVASTATION IN NEW YORK HARBOR AND BUSINESS DISTRICT GERMAN AIR AND SEA RAIDERS COULD CAUSE—THE DRAWING IS BASED ON DATA COMPILED FROM ESTIMATES FROM SUCH CONSERVATIVE AND EMINENT AUTHORITIES AS SIMON LAKE, SUBMARINE INVENTOR, REAR ADMIRAL ROBERT E. PEARY AND HENRY A. WISE WOOD, LEADING AIRPLANE AUTHORITIES.

(Staff Special.)

New York, Sept. 7.—Does Germany plan a naval and aerial attack on New York, the "solar plexus of America?" Here are reasons in late news dispatches for believing such an attack is possible:

1. German and British scout cruisers engage in battle in the North sea.
2. British officers announce belief German fleet is seeking to evade blockade and reach Atlantic.
3. Submarine reported off this coast, resulting in closing of port of New York temporarily.

4. Germany announces a super-Deutschland, with a cruising radius sufficient to patrol even the Pacific coast.
5. German papers announce national "hate" is turning from Great Britain to America.

Accepting these facts as indications that Germany may plan a sea and air raid on this city—what would such an attack mean?

The Sentinel's correspondent has compiled a conservative estimate of what it would mean, from such eminent authorities as Simon Lake, inventor of the submarine; Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, aeronautic expert, and Henry A. Wise Wood, one of the nation's foremost airplane authorities.

The possibilities of this raid have been written in the form of an actual telegraphic dispatch describing the country's greatest war menace.

This is a story the wires may carry at any day:
New York, August 7.—A fleet of German war and merchant submarines, letting loose a flock of airplanes which, like vultures, tore at the city's very vitals and bomber its biggest skyscrapers, raided New York harbor and the business section before daylight this morning.

A loss of life already officially placed at nearly 2,000, and property damage estimated at over $50,000,000, bring home to Americans today what real war means.

Complete figures, not obtainable before daylight at the earliest, are not expected materially to increase the death toll of this first flashing sweep of the war scourge across the sea. Present estimates of property damage may be doubled.

Two great liners, both laden with munitions, and one bearing 1,000 American troops booked to sail for France this morning, were torpedoed and sunk, with almost a total loss of life.

Scores of smaller craft, including three coastwise freighters and one South American packet, were either torpedoed or set on fire by bombs or burning oil floats.

The Flatiron building is in ruins. The tower of the Singer building has fallen, and at least one side of the famous Woolworth building will have to be rebuilt.

A chance bomb shattered one of the downtown subway loops, entirely blocking subway traffic below Herald Square. A hair's breadth, and the entire downtown subway system would have been flooded.

From sea and air the U-boats and their air cultures showered death and destruction upon New York. The city was not prepared for the sudden deluge of death.

Since the announcements that successful dispatch of heavy forces of U. S. troops to the French front had goaded the Germans into desperate retaliatory action, steps to protect New York, the nation's nerve center, from naval and aerial attack had been rushed. But the present world business center was still far from the perfection of the London air defense system which the British mission two months ago outlined for our use.

United States battleships lay at the mouth of the harbor, and destroyers were stationed within, but the London high angle gun defenses were lacking, and even some of the searchlights recently installed were not operated.

The defense aircraft were in adequate and unorganized.

Miles of steel nets, stretched across the harbor mouth and the entrance to Long Island sound, were apparently cut like cheesecloth by the new German shearing device.

Ten war submarines joined in the destruction within the harbor, and all but three escaped.

Best accounts are that four combined merchant-war submarines, of the Deutschland type, but armed, came to the surface far off the coast at nightfall and set free over twenty warplanes, so built with collapsible wings as to be easily transported and quickly assembled.

Wireless spies on outgoing merchantmen must have signaled the attack, timing it to catch the troop liners to France. These were torpedoed in six or seven places simultaneously, and sank almost immediately. Of a total of 1,200 troops and 1,000 civilians aboard, less than 1,000 were saved.

Explosive and ignition bombs and floats of burning oil worked a havoc that can never be told on all harbor shipping, with a loss of several hundred lives. Destroyers were taken unaware and fire boats were helpless.

Over New York's magnificent skyline the German warplanes dropped a new type of explosive bomb more powerful than human ingenuity was known to have invented. The city's night life became a bedlam of night death. Loss of life in the city is placed at 500 to 700. Only the hour, 2:30 a. m., held down the total.

Under this first impact of the German slogan to "strike first and strike hard" New York, quivering but not demoralized, is now rushing its retarded defenses. Within a month a network of battleships, a fleet of defense aircraft, and a system of high angle guns, connected by telephone and constantly manned, will be ready for future invasions.

THIS IS WHAT YOU MAY EXPECT TO READ IF GERMAN SUBMARINES OR OTHER VESSELS RAID NEW YORK.

Loss of life—2,000, distributed thus: 1,200 on troop liners ready to sail for France, more than 300 on harbor shipping and more than 500 in city.

Property damage—$50,000,000 to $100,000,000.

Buildings destroyed or damaged—Flatiron building, Singer building, Woolworth building and a score of smaller structures.

Submarine torpedoes, oil floats, explosive bombs of undreamed of force, and ignition bombs used from sea and sky in raid.

Vessels sunk or burned—two trans-Atlantic liners, three large coastwise freighters, about 65 smaller craft.

Downtown subway system wrecked.

Participating in attack—ten war submarines, four U-boats of Deutschland type and 20 battleplanes they carried.

Battleship cordon, high angle guns and defense planes being rushed to repel future raids.

Here Are the Facts

Why we are forced to raise our price in order to maintain the same standard of value we have always put into Sherman's Clothes.

- 1st. Enormous purchases made by the United States and Allied Nations of thousands of uniforms and blankets—has stripped the mills and factories of their woolen cloth, practically paralyzing the clothing industry.
- 2nd. This making a shortage of woolen cloth, boosting the price of cloth from 50% to 100% per yard. So you see what has happened.
- 3rd. The high cost of living has forced the tailors to demand an increase of salary from 20% to 30%.

We would not consider lowering that quality of the excellency of value that we have always sold to our patrons. There was no alternative, but to raise the price.

Read This Over Carefully.

The cloth we contracted for almost a year ago has increased in value from 50% to 100%. With our foresight and courage to go into the market months ahead of the ordinary clothing people secured for us only a limited amount of cloth, that we can make up and sell to our trade at the price $10.

In Fairness to the Public.

To retain the confidence of our customers which we have so faithfully served—so that every man may have a chance to buy his clothes before our advanced price goes into effect, for now and for future wear, and save that extra $2.50 for himself—WE WILL CONTINUE TO SELL AT OUR PRICE, $10 AS LONG AS THIS MERCHANDISE LASTS.

GERMANY STRENGTHENS HER AVIATION BRANCH

Entrance of America Has Spurred Kaiser to New Aerial Activity.

Paris, Sept. 7.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The entrance of America into the war and the probability that it soon would be lending the allies tremendous aid in the aerial department of the struggle, has led Germany to re-organize and strengthen its own aviation branches materially, according to The Temps. This re-organization does not date exclusively from the break with the United States, but rather from the battle of the Somme, but it has been accelerated and intensified by the reports that hundreds, if not thousands, of airplanes with the corresponding aviators to man them, are soon to be supplied to the entire forces.

The re-organization of the German aerial forces has taken the form of creating four principal divisions into which the fliers are now placed, roughly as follows:

1. Army squadrons or "army fliers" division," which are directly under the command of the army chief of aviation and the work of which consists mainly of expeditions far to the rear of the lines. They also are employed for bombardments, night flights, photographic work, and the airplanes employed are of the most varied type, according to the character of the work they are to do.

Has Terrific Speed.

Recently captured prisoners say that a recently constructed biplane of the Albatross type is vastly superior to anything heretofore used by these squadrons. It is equipped with a 260 h. p. motor and attains a speed of from 100 to 115 miles an hour. It can rise to an altitude of more than 2,000 yards in nine minutes, and carries two machine guns. The machines travel in groups of six or eight, according to the position and needs of the army to which they are attached.

2. Corps squadrons or "troop fliers" which are attached to the staff headquarters of the various German armies and which are commanded by captains. These generally remain within the sector of the armies to which they are attached and are used in general for reconnaissances, photographing trenches, batteries and making patrol flights.

3. Hunting squadrons, as they are called both by the French and the Germans, are the main attacking instruments of the German air forces, and for chasing enemy machines which venture over their lines. They are charged also with the destruction of the stationary balloons.

Almost 500 Machines.

On the west front, it is estimated, there are about forty of these squadrons, with about a dozen machines to each. Others in the same category have as their duty the protection of the large German cities that lie within airplane flight of the French and English, such as Strasbourg, Freiburg, Mulhouse, Friedrichshafen, Stuttgart, Essen, Cologne and Treves. The pilots of these squadrons are carefully chosen from among the best of the German aviators, and their exploits are encouraged by frequent mention in the general staff reports.

4. Battle squadrons or "flottillas" are under the direction of great headquarters, and shift from army to army to carry out bombardments on military establishments behind the front, as well as ever and again upon open towns.

There are three of these squadrons now. Formerly there were more, but the others have been dismembered and their units attached to other arms of the aerial service. Squadrons one and two are generally transported by train from place to place, wherever they are most needed.

Make-Up of Squadrons.

There are from forty to fifty machines in each squadron, which, when complete and ready for action, is divided into four or five sections. Each airplane is armed with two machine guns and each carries bombs weighing from 20 to 100 pounds apiece. Some are said to carry bombs that weigh more than 200 pounds.

While perfecting their service in the air, the Germans have also rapidly bettered their anti-aircraft measures and weapons. The 77-millimeter guns have given way to rapid-firing guns of 105 millimeter calibre, and at certain points along the front they use shrapnel guns of 240-millimeter size.

They possess special bullets for the destruction of captive balloons, but in many instances have used them with great cruelty against opponents in airplanes. At least one squadron captain, a Lieutenant Eilers, finally rode his men to carry these bullets with him unless they were definitely charged with raiding balloons.

New Types Are Frequent.

The Germans, it is said, are constantly putting new types of machines into the field. The famous Taube went out of style long ago, and it has now been followed by the even more famous Fokker, which less than a year ago was considered the last and final word in attacking airplanes. Its inventor, a Dutchman, is now said to be devoting himself to the perfection of a machine with a 260 h. p. motor which will break all records for speed and efficiency.

Today the Rumpler seems to be the favorite machine, though those with 160 h. p. motors are not fast enough to suit, and yet the machines will hardly stand up under a heavier motor. The raid on London, were accomplished with Gotha machines but these, though so recent that little is known about them in France, are already giving way to faster airplanes, especially to powerful Rumpler biplanes which have tremendous speed and rising power. These machines, of which there are not fewer than 30 in the third battle flotilla, can make great distances both because of their powerful motors and because of their huge gasoline tanks, two of which with a capacity apiece, of 380 liters, are carried on each machine.

NEW HORROR OF WAR.

Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 7.—Women's veils and the tapestries of private homes are to be utilized in the holy land for the manufacture of sandbags for the Turkish trenches, according to the Constantinople correspondent of the Geneva Tribune. The Turkish authorities in Palestine and Syria have informed the local officers of Beyruth and other towns, the correspondent says, that 1,500,000 sandbags are required in the trenches at once for defensive purposes. Inasmuch as sacks and cotton cloths are lacking, "all silks and tapestries" in dwellings are being commandeered, and soldiers in Syria have been told by their superiors they may remove the veils from any women whom they may encounter in the streets.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1917.

LABOR DECLARES ITSELF.

It would be difficult to overestimate the value or to exaggerate the immediate and continuing importance of the work accomplished this week in Minneapolis by the American Alliance for Labor and Democracy. No sturdier, more patriotic or more promising movement has been set afoot for support of the government and the strengthening of the nation in war than the effort just put under way by the leaders of labor.

To appreciate all that the movement means it should be understood that the organization is founded upon an aggressive purpose. It sets out and will proceed upon the sharp recognition of necessity to combat pro-Germanism in the United States. It will make itself useful in whatever ways it can to the government during the war. It will extend its organization into every city, town and hamlet in the country and will undertake to give solidarity to the forces of labor everywhere in purpose and effort to make America effective and victorious in the war.

The organization has struck the highest notes of patriotism and of undeviating loyalty. It puts the searing brand of its condemnation on all disloyalty and treason. It denounces alike the efforts of misguided pacifism and hypocritical pacifists. It exalts the war aims of America as the ideals of labor and approves the declarations of President Wilson as the embodiment of what this nation must stand for and fight for, as well as contend for in making the peace that some time must come. Upon its declaration it is ready to go to the people to preach the righteousness of America's position in the war and to place its services at the disposal of the government.

There is but the one answer to the question that the American Alliance for Labor and Democracy puts to anti-Americanism in whatever forms and aspects it appears; in whatever guise it dresses itself. It will meet disloyalty with loyalty. It will search treason with its wrath. It will strangle pro-Germanism in America wherever it can be reached. In all of the utterances delivered by the men of the conference in Minneapolis there was courage, determination and understanding. They know what America is fighting for, what the stake of the republic is in this war and what the goal of the democracies of the world is and the end of the conflict and they have made it clear that for American labor there is but the one course and that course loyalty and service.

Against the miserable plotting of the I. W. W. leaders to destroy industry, cripple the government and deliver this free nation captive to Prussianism the men who stand for the vast body of American labor place their best efforts and most loyal service. It can and it will mean great strength for the government and great security for the country. Immediately it will mean, else we greatly mistake the spirit and temper with which the army of American labor will set about the discharge of its self-imposed task, that there will be less I. W. W. devilry and a great abatement of pro-German activity of every sort.

VINDICATING PATRIOTISM.

Big Bill the Burgomeister has sued the Chicago Herald and its editor, James Keckley, for $250,000 damages for defamation. In other words, William Hale Thompson, mayor of Chicago, has resorted to the libel laws of the state of Illinois for vindication of his character and conduct as a citizen of America and chief magistrate of America's second city.

We do not apprehend that the average man in this country would be able to discern many consolations in the possession of a character or in the practice of conduct that must accept legal recourse as opening the way to a proper assertion of loyalty to country and demonstration of patriotism, but perhaps Big Bill—being in more ways than one a singular man of extraordinary view—can see things others might miss. Anyway, whatever moral sustenance and soul comfort Big Bill can gain from making of himself a plaintiff in court to a suit for a quarter of a million dollars he doubtless has earned due right and cordial welcome to.

The sequel of this vast drive against his conspiring enemies—who in no flippant or conventional sense may be called legion—will be watched with interest. We have not read the complaint within which his ground for damages is platted, so cannot say to how much sympathy he is entitled nor with what prospect for substantial and material recoveries he enters upon his claim for reparation of damage inflicted and incurred. 'Tis the jingling of the guinea helps the hurt that honors feels, as a first-rate poet once observed, and it may be that in this case a thumping good verdict in damages would assuage much hurt of repute and sooth great anguish of spirit. The getting of it will be another and a different story. We say it without any meaning to asperse the character of justice in Illinois and with no intent to question the integrity of juries in that good commonwealth, but we opine, nevertheless, that the getting together of twelve good men and true who can be brought to any harmony of conclusions and presentment of verdict that Big Bill has been denounced with libel will turn out to be a hard job, even in Chicago, where there are readily obtainable the makings for almost any kind of a jury required in any case.

At any rate, we are prepared and waiting, as no doubt the whole country is, to see how it shall fare with a man and magistrate in an American city in this hour of vast and portentous crisis who must submit to courts and juries for judgment upon the loyalty of his spirit and the patriotism of his conduct. He is badly and sadly off, indeed, whose speech and practice to and among his fellow citizens are not such, if there be in him the bearing and signs of that approved rectitude which is at once the duty and the pride of us all, as to be able to say for itself in terms of good understanding what it is now desired that a jury in a court of justice shall pronounce, under oath to be fair with proof and in judgment, shall state for him.

After the house got down to it the war bond bill carrying credits of almost twelve billion dollars for the government was passed without division. That is a spectacular sum of money to be voted away in one mass, but not more impressive than the readiness of the popular branch of the government to vote it without dissenting voice. Twelve billions—count 'em—twelve billions for a year of war. That's the start of this nation's preparations to see the thing through to a conclusion that must never be disputed. That will purchase a heap of war, even in these days of inestimable cost, and what it is going to purchase will be worth the price. If the people of Germany have any way of finding out that America in the war is not a bluff, that America means business and that in this solemn hour America in the war means the coming in of the richest, freshest, strongest nation atop the ground, they may be willing to make their war lords hum a new and proper tune. Billions of money, millions of men, ready and waiting for the best time and place to strike for the safety of democracy around the world. That ought to mean something decisive when the hour of decision comes.

More or less wild gossip may be expected to have incitement from the federal raid on the I. W. W. nests and the probability that incriminating evidence was seized, but there is sane reason to believe that by the time federal agents and United States grand juries get to the bottom of this anarchistic organization's affairs that have bearing on the war it will be found that the government did a good stroke for this republic and all democracy when it laid its hands on these propagandists. Not the whole body of the I. W. W. can be denounced as disloyal or treasonable, there being, no doubt, in the ranks many working-men who are associated with the organization in good faith that it is a reputable and useful movement to advance the cause of labor, but there can be no question that some of its leaders and a considerable body of its membership are disloyal and have been engaged extensively in dangerous plots against the country in war. The investigation now going on cannot be too thorough and any prosecutions for which there is ground cannot be too vigorous.

It may not be wholly realized as the big outstanding fact it is, but Fort Wayne has a good many hundreds of young men now in the war. Three full companies of the guards have gone to the camps. The selected men for the national army are departing in small contingents, but altogether now constituting a considerable number. Scores are in the navy and hundreds are in the regulars or in other branches of the national military arm. If all the young men from Fort Wayne and near by were drawn up in a body it would be found that more than a good regiment of them are in one way and another today serving the colors.

Dreaming.

When day is done with all its toil,
And twilight shades are falling,
In pensive mood I sit and list
To Nature's voices calling;
And till her voices sink to rest,
And cease not for the morrow,
I lose all sorrow, care and pain
In dreaming, dreaming, dreaming.

And when I seek my lowly cot
In sleep that knows no sorrow,
I rest in peace with all the world,
And care not for the morrow,
For till the morrow morn shall break,
The world has all the seeming
Of paradise, which I enjoy
While dreaming, dreaming, dreaming.

And when at last this life is done,
And darker shades are falling,
Without a tremor I shall list
To Death's grim voice a-calling;
And as I sink away to rest
Where other lights are gleaming,
No greater pleasure shall I have
Than dreaming, dreaming, dreaming.

Many a man these days is called up only to be called down.

Most people who sin have a dandy way of looking nonchalant about it.

One good way to wipe sedition off the map is to send the pro-Germans back where they came from—and abolish press censorship.

The I. W. W. cannot long survive—it is a child of the darkness, and must perish with the coming of morning.

It's about time for some doctor to win eternal renown by deciding that treason and sedition are only diseases, and that people who are so unfortunate as to be sick in that way ought to be gently cared for and tenderly treated.

Oh, it was funny! Ravissant! Amusette, having a vivid imagination, also caught the vague sweet scents from a home-grown garden, heard the measured, even creak of a rocking-chair, and saw her children. She loved them to distraction! They had small mouths, big eyes, straight noses. Their hair was bobbed, and they went to Sunday school. Sketches from Life By Temple

"Aint Got a Penny, Miss"

President a Player-Manager

By L. HARPER LEECH.

Washington, Sept. 7.—President Wilson is running the war. In the language of the sport page, he is a player-manager. He is with the team, on the field and in the club house.

The Kaiser's idea of running a war from the beach, or coaching on the sidelines by dishing out iron crosses, does not appeal to the American president.

Law and political necessity for bid an American president to leave the national territory, so Wilson cannot visit the front in France. But he is at the front in Washington. When the president wants to find out how some part of the big war machine is running he goes and looks at the thing himself.

Instead of waiting in his white house office for the department heads and bureau chiefs to come to him with typewritten summaries and statistics, the president often puts on his hat and walks over to their offices.

If it's a hot day, and a distant building, he gets in the big limousine and drives over, accompanied by no one but the chauffeur. Of course he is flanked and preceded by the secret service guard, but these men are so inconspicuous that frequently no one knows they are about. The president himself has nothing to do with their movements, and it is doubtful if he is aware of the presence of some of them.

When the president goes to an office to find out about something he gets the facts by talking face to face with the men doing the work. He absorbs the information in his brain, not on some stenographer's note book. In fact, he seldom takes a secretary along.

These unannounced trips are redolent of the democracy for which America is fighting. Red tape is slashed through. There are no uniforms, no gold lace, no formalities. The other day when the president dropped in on the federal trade commission to talk about the price of the commission in the midst of moving its offices into a new building. Everything was upset. Husky negro porters were taking out the furniture and documents and the floor was littered with dust, paper and trash.

There were several boxes half filled with papers, however, and one or two desks. The president sat down on one of these boxes and proceeded to talk business.

The conference is said to have been the longest he ever held outside the white house.

It would have shocked a snob in the innermost recesses of his soul to have seen the president of the United States, dressed in a weather-beaten garment, hat, a serge coat and a pair of light gray trousers, sitting on a dusty box talking of such things as coal prices, cost of production, run of the mine, car shortage and the long and short ton.

The president is not immune from the departmental red tape which has accumulated in Washington for over a century. When he drops into the anteroom of a bureau chief he runs into the messengers, assistant secretaries and the other buffers always planted in the outer office to keep the crowd out.

A few days ago landed in an outer office presided over by a young man who has learned his job well. He also had the American spirit, and a president looked like anybody else to him. At any rate, the president got the old formula:

"Sorry, Mr. President, but he is in a conference just now and can't be interrupted. Will you wait?"

The big boss of the United States sat down to wait, and the outer guard of the little department boss wanted to be friendly. He handed the president a copy of one of the Washington afternoon papers.

"Have you read it?" he asked. "As the president took the paper the young man added, 'How's Mrs. Wilson?'"

The conversation was getting on very nicely when one of the secretaries came butted in and told the functionary in the inner office his boss wanted to see him.

Some battlefields giving "conservative estimates" that 50 per cent. of those who entered the armies were killed.

Anyone who stopped to think would have known that these estimates were lies. Some of them were such fearful lies that they were apparent on their face, whole nations would have lost their man power long ago if they had been true. But now the Official Bulletin shows what is what. It says:

"These figures taken when the casualties were greatest in proportion to mobilized strength and combined with the highest proportion of deaths show losses due to death from wounds and killed in action to be approximately eleven in every 1,000 of mobilized strength."

The figures apply solely to the action on the western front. They are obtained from British and French official records to which the ordinary public is denied access. The high water mark of casualties was reached long ago, at the battles of the Marne and Verdun. During these battles the casualties ran as high as 541 men with every 10,000 with the colors. Military authorities in this country went over the battle figures and found for the Official Bulletin that never once has the list of those killed in action or dying of wounds run higher than 20 per cent. of the total casualties. From these figures it is deduced that the death rate among the soldiers either killed in action or dying of wounds is 108.2 per 10,000 or 11 men in every 1,000.

It is interesting to note how this rate compares with normal life (the latter figures including women and children.) California's death rate is 13.7 per 1,000. Colorado has a rate of 11.3 and Indiana 12.7, while the lowest in the United States is the state of Washington on with but 8.1 per 1,000 inhabitants. More people die from ordinary causes in Indianapolis than in the battlefields—14.7 per 1,000. Albany, N. Y., buried 20 residents from each 1,000 last year. In Chicago the rate was 14.3. Of course as mentioned before, these figures include the large infant mortality, but even so, it seems that fighting in French trenches is less dangerous than being an American baby.

AMERICANS IN LONDON.

(Omaha Bee.)

Shooting craps on Piccadilly Circus glimpses the evolution wrought by the American invasion of London. It is only a start. As time wears on and the pep of live ones animates the old town from Ramcat alley to Bishoppate one may vision baseball on Parliamentary square, rolling tenspins on Pall Mall and bootlegging in the dusty byways of the Tower. Stranger things have happened.

DANK REALISM.

(Toledo Blade.)

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

John G. Whittier, the greatest of American poets, is dead.

Dr. Kent Wheelock will be home from New York state tomorrow.

James Madden, the plumber, has gone to New Bremen, Ind., where he is putting in a waterworks system.

A large plate glass in front of James Madden's plumbing establishment was mysteriously broken yesterday afternoon.

Levi Mock, of Bluffton, one of the directors of the penitentiary at Michigan City, stopped off here yesterday a short time while en route to Michigan City.

Will Leedy, who is now connected with a Goshen paper, is in the city attending the political issues of the day as for the past few years been with the Journal.

The fight last night at New Orleans resulted in Jim Corbett knocking out John L. Sullivan in the twenty-first round. The result of the contest was a great surprise.

A. J. You and Elmer Leonard addressed a few colored people last evening on the political issues of the day as viewed from a republican standpoint. The meeting was held in Morton hall.

A burglar attempted to enter the residence of Harry Templar at 66 Wilt street, Tuesday night, by cutting the slats out of one of the windows. His operations aroused the family and he was frightened away before further damage was done. His intentions must have been somewhat peculiar as he had just gone down to the barn, got a hoe and placed it beside the house, the family finding it the next morning.

George W. F. Hager last night celebrated his twenty-first birthday anniversary at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Hager, 391 East Washington street. A large number of friends were present, refreshments were served and the occasion was a very enjoyable one. Speeches were made by father and son and the latter, in responding, said his first vote this year would be cast for Grover Cleveland for president.

ELEVEN-BILLION WAR BONDS BILL PASSES

House Puts Measure Over Without a Dissenting Vote Appearing.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The great war credits bill, authorizing $11,538,945,460 in bonds and certificates, passed the house last night unanimously. Action by the senate as soon as the pending war tax bill is disposed of is planned by administration leaders.

Not a material amendment was added to the bill by the house. Representative Moore, of Pennsylvania, led a group of republicans in a futile fight for consideration of a proposal for a war expenditure committee, which was thrown out on a point of order.

Every effort of republicans to limit the control the bill would give Secretary McAdoo over the bonds and certificates resulted in failure. Representative Johnson, of Washington, to direct the secretary to spend at least $2,500,000 for newspaper advertising in disposing of the bonds was defeated overwhelmingly. If the secretary desires, under the measure, he may use some of the $17,600,000 appropriated for disposing of all the bonds and certificates in newspaper publicity.

Cannon Affects Compromise. Representative Cannon, of Illinois, managed to obtain the adoption of a compromise amendment to exempt from taxation forever interest on bonds not in excess of $5,000. He wanted to make it $10,000, but Democratic Leader Kitchin would not agree to that.

The bill authorizes the issuance of $7,638,945,460 worth of convertible 4 per cent bonds, subject to surtaxes and war profit taxes, and to terminate at the discretion of the secretary of the treasury. Of this total $4,000,000,000 worth is for a new allied loan, $3,000,000,000 worth to take over a 3 1/2 per cent issue already authorized and the remaining $38,945,460 to be used for converting certain outstanding bonds, including the Danish West Indies, Alaskan Railway, Panama Canal and naval construction issues.

Two Billion Debt Issue. Issuance also is authorized of not more than $2,000,000,000 worth each of certificates of indebtedness and war savings certificates to run not more than one year and five years, respectively, at rates of interest to be fixed by the secretary of the treasury. These issues are to be subject to the same taxes as the bonds.

The bill provides that foreign bonds taken in exchange for loans shall not be sold at less than the purchase price. For more than one hour today the debate veered from the bill itself to the general war financing situation.

Speaker Clark and Representative Sherley, of Kentucky, urging that more taxes should be levied soon and declaring grave dangers lay ahead if congress continues to issue vast quantities of bonds without regard to equalization by taxes.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Charles J. Worden, of Kinnaird avenue, invited between fifteen and twenty young women to bring their knitting to their home this afternoon and meet Miss Mildred Bowser, Mrs. Clifford Bornschein and Mrs. Maurice O'Connor, for whom several informal companies have been given within a month.

As Miss Helen Peters, who is to be married tomorrow evening to Arthur E. Boak, a member of the faculty of the University of Michigan, has much preferred that her friends confine their entertaining in her honor to small and informal companies, her wishes have been regarded. An informal company this afternoon was at the home of Miss Phyllis Randall, of College street, who considered Miss Peters' friends in her invitations. Mrs. Philip Bursley, of Ann Arbor, and another sister to the bride-elect, Mrs. Nell McKay, Miss Randall's sister, Mrs. Charles Francis Williams of Washington, and her guest, Miss Lukess of the same city, and Mrs. James L. Taylor, Jr., who is in the city for an indefinite time, took their knitting and worked for the soldiers as industriously as they visited. Miss Randall had the rooms beautifully decorated with fall flowers of which hydrangeas and cosmos were used abundantly with lovely color effect.

Mrs. Henry Hilgeman and daughter, Luella, are in Chicago for a two weeks' visit.

Mrs. Joseph Cassell and son, Leo, of Van Wert, O., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. Wilson.

Mrs. Allen Martin, of Weisser Park avenue, has returned from a visit with friends in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cook and family, of Lincoln avenue, have returned from a visit in Danville, Ill.

Miss Marie Belger has returned from a visit in Jackson, Mich., where she was the guest of relatives.

Miss Sarah Knott has returned home after a two weeks' visit in Logansport and at Lake Maxinkuckee.

Mrs. Dorothy Alden Purging left on Thursday for New York city, after a visit with her parents, Judge and Mrs. S. R. Alden.

Mrs. James Ernst and daughter, Catherine, have returned to Deatur, after a visit here with Miss Jane Ernst, another daughter in the family.

Miss Anne Ammon has returned to her home in Philadelphia, after visiting with relatives, Dr. and Mrs. G. B. M. Bower, of East Berry street.

Rev. H. B. Master and sons come home this week from their summer outing in the Adirondack mountains. Mrs. Master will remain for a visit with her parents in Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Bowerfield and children and the Misses Meyer, left by motor on Thursday for Adrian and Sand Lake, Mich., for a few days' outing with relatives. The party will return home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Shoaff come home Friday from Leland, Mich., where they have been for several weeks. Mrs. F. J. Hayden, who was at the resort about the same time, has been at home for several days.

Mrs. Mattie Etts, who is going to Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and Mrs. Rebecca Stoneburger, who is going to Old Mission, Mich., to remain during the coming winter, were honor guests at a dinner party given by Mrs. Karlger, of Harmar street, on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Haaga and daughters, Adaline, Wilhelma and Georgia Ruth, have recently returned from a visit with relatives and friends in Lafayette, Logansport and Lake Maxinkuckee. Miss Wilhelma has been taking singing lessons this summer from Mrs. Van Mount, at Logansport.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Freeman and daughters, Rudisill and Isabell, are to leave next Monday for an eastern trip. At Natick, Mass., Miss Rudisill Freeman is to enter a preparatory school, Walnut Hill, to Wellesley college. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman and daughter, Miss Isabell, expect to remain in the east for several weeks.

A party was given in honor of Miss Bernice Stanley, of Chicago, at Robinson park on Monday afternoon. An excellent luncheon was part of the enjoyment participated in by Mrs. K. H. Baker, Mrs. H. J. Wright, Mrs. C. F. Mullenbrook, Mrs. E. Steinke, Alma Mullenbrook, Ottilia Wefel, Laura Wefel, Helen Wright, Geraldine Baker, Mrs. A. Wefel, Warren Baker, Dale Wefel and Mrs. F. W. Wefel.

Miss Veronica Pape, who is to be married in October to Clem Gladieux, was the honor guest at a pretty party given by her sister, Miss Ivon Pape, on Wednesday evening. Progressive buncos and other games were enjoyed. Prizes were won by Helen Moore, Anna Waters and Anna Henschen. Other guests were Helen Henschen, Agnes and Josephine Grosjean, Margaret, Cecilia and Bertha Thill, Anna and Garret Waters, Minnie Henschen, Thelma Pape and Mr. and Mrs. William Pape.

The first meeting of the season of the Dorcas society was held today at its accustomed place, the parlors of Trinity English Lutheran church. Sewing and knitting for Red Cross supplies and making of comforts and quilts to order to replenish its own treasury are the things the society looks after, though not all of its workers are members. A dozen pairs of socks were turned over today from workers under the Dorcas management. Orders for comforts and quilts are going in early this season as many women are devoting themselves entirely to knitting and sewing and other Red Cross work as well as food conservation, thus putting some home needs into hands of others to do.

Winters—Gibson.
Many Fort Wayne friends of Mr. Harrison Winters, of Detroit, but formerly of this city, will be interested in knowing of his marriage on Sept. 6, in Detroit, to Miss Alys Gibson, of Milwaukee. Mr. Winters was connected with the Willwood Builders' company in this city, but resigned his position to take one with the Mac-

Lean Building company in Detroit. He is a son of Mrs. Amanda Winters, who also makes her home in the Michigan city.

Hadfield—Holz.
Mr. and Mrs. Max Holz, of West DeWald street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Marie Elizabeth, to Mr. William Adrian Hadfield, of Madison, Wis. The Holz family formerly lived in Madison and so the bride, after a wedding trip to Lake Chetek, Wis., will return to her former home to live. Mr. Hadfield was graduated from the University of Wisconsin with the degree of M. S. in 1915. Mr. and Mrs. Hadfield will be at home after the first of October at 933 Spaight street, Madison, Wis.

Evard Family Reunion.
The first annual meeting of the Evard family was held in the old Evard woods, now known as the Chester woods, just off the Maysville road, on Labor day. The occasion was to honor the birthday anniversary of James Evard, the oldest member present and who was 79 years old on Thursday, September 6. During the forenoon the younger men engaged in pitching horseshoes and the younger people played lively games and each helped everyone else enjoy the day. At noon a bountiful dinner was spread on the ground and everyone camped picnic fashion and enjoyed delving into the numerous baskets and dishes of food. A short business meeting was held in the afternoon with Milo Evard, of Columbia City, as chairman. An organization of the family was effected and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:
President—Oscar Evard.
Vice President—Mrs. Ortha Evard Hazelet.
Secretary—Mrs. Ida Evard Crabill.

A committee composed of Mrs. Jennie Black, Clement Evard and Mrs. Kate Prange was chosen to make arrangements for the next meeting which will be held at the home of James Evard, near Googlein. The following people shared in the pleasures of the day:

Mrs. Jennie Black, Naomi Jean Cameron, Clement Evard, Ethel Evard, Mabel B. Evard, Bernice V. Brooks, Myrtle Evard, May Brooks, Mrs. Emily Evard, Edith Evard, Mabel M. AT THE PALACE

LAUGHS AND GIRLS.

They Are Dominant Notes in Melody Bill at New Palace.

With laughs and girls furnishing the dominant notes the melody bill for the last half of the week at the New Palace affords some exceptional acts, the chief of them, of course, being Lulu McConnell, Grant Simpson and company in their rollicking domestic farce comedy, "At Home," with the musical farce, "The Smart Shop," affording much of the feminine beauty of the bill. "At Home" is a snappy little vehicle for the exploitation of the riotous comedy notions of Miss McConnell. It deals with a vaudeville team laying off for two weeks because they can't get a contract. Their quarrels and arguments superheated one minute and dissipated the next are screamingly funny, while the dress rehearsal of their skit and the nut comedy that follows make this sketch a constant succession of explosions.

MISS LULU MCCONNELL.

Of McConnell and Simpson, Who Are at the Palace in the Biggest Laugh of the season.

"The Smart Shop" is a snappy glib act located in a lingerie shop with six fresh looking girls as models. The silhouette of the young lady changing costumes is a neat trick.

Thornton and Thornton and their grand opera poodle create a merry diversion in song and talk for ten minutes. The Three Mickey Brothers are remarkably finished eccentric acrobatic dancers, while the comedians' make-up is quite the funniest of the broad burlesques. He is a replica of the pictured Simple Simon of Mother Goose days. Foley and O'Neil, two singing, dancing and talking boys, are graceful dancers and know how to sing. One of them sings Jean d'Arc in a refreshing manner. Marcou, the shadowgraphist, has worked out a clever movie in black and white, his supple fingers fashioning animals in natural actions with amazing deftness.

Wife to Blame if Husband Drinks, Says Druggist Brown, of Cleveland, Who Tells Wife What To Do

A New Treatment Given Without the Consent or Knowledge of the Drinker.

Cleveland, O.—No wife has a right to blame her husband because he drinks, says Druggist Brown, of Cleveland. It is her fault if she lets him drink and bring unhappiness and poverty to her home, and she has no right to complain. A woman can stop a drinking husband in a few weeks for half what he would spend on liquor, so why waste sympathy on a wife who refuses to do it. Druggist Brown also says the right time to stop the drink habit is at its beginning unless you want drink to leaden the fine sensibilities of the husband you love. Begin with the first whiff of liquor on his breath, but do not despair if he has gone from bad to worse until he is rum-soaked through and through. Druggist Brown knows the cure of strong drink because he himself has been a victim. He was rescued from the brink of a drunkard's grave by a loving sister who, after ten years' time revealed the secret to him. She saved him from drink—rescued him from his own depraved self, by giving him a secret remedy, the formula of an old German chemist. To discharge his debt to her and to help other victims out of the mire and mire he has made the formula public. Any druggist who gives the formula of any suffering wife, mother, sister or daughter. Just ask the druggist for prepared Tescum powders and drop a powder twice a day in tea, coffee, milk or any other drink. Soon the craving for it disappears. The craving for it disappears.

pears, and lo, one more drinker is saved and knows not when or why he lost his taste for drink.

One woman who used this prescription on her husband says: "It is going on the fourth week since he has touched a drop of anything in the form of liquor or used tobacco of any kind. He seems already a different man. Tescum has gained a wonderful enthusiast in me. I regard it as a Godsend. Just think, I have never seen my husband sober for more than 48 hours in years and now it is going on one month since he had his last drink."

Another one gratefully writes: "I have used Tescum powder on my husband and find it one of the greatest cures in this world. He hasn't taken a drink for almost five weeks, and says he never will. My home does not seem like the same place and life seems worth living. I hope thousands gain what I have. This has been a good new year for me without drink in my home."

NOTE—Tescum, referred to above, should be used only when it is desirable to destroy all taste for alcoholic drinks of every kind. The wife who approves of drinking in moderation and believes her husband should give it only when she sees, as most do in time, that the danger line is near. You take no risk with Tescum as it is sold in this city under a steelbound money-refund guarantee by the Dreier Drug Co., Meyer Bros., and other first-class druggists. They guarantee it to do the work or refund the money.

MAY NOT VOTE BUT CAN HOLD OFFICE

Singular Bill for Equal Rights Has a Start in Porto Rico.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Sept. 7.—A bill designed to give Porto Rican women the right to hold office but not to vote, has been introduced in the house or representatives by Fulgencio Piñero, Jr., and Antonio Pinar, unionists, and has had its first reading.

Mrs. Ana Duprey, founder of the Suffragist League of Porto Rico, announced after a recent conference with the former legislator that she informed him that the women of Porto Rico objected to the measure and that if it became a law in its present form "there would burst over his head and head of his party such a storm of righteous feminine indignation that it would be a long time before they recovered from it." Predicting that the bill would not come up for a second reading, Mrs. Duprey said:

"There are two things we are determined to have: Suffrage restricted to literate women and the right both to vote and to hold office. As the Piñero bill now stands it would only place the women of Porto Rico in the most degraded kind of politics instead of giving them an opportunity to show their capability and patriotism."

A senate bill provides that women of Porto Rico may both vote and hold office.

Experience the Best Teacher.

It is generally admitted that experience is the best teacher, but should we not make use of the experience of others as well as our own? The experience of a thousand persons is more to be depended upon than that of one individual. Many thousands of persons have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds with the best results, which shows it to be a thoroughly reliable preparation for those diseases. Try it. It is prompt and effectual and pleasant to take.—Advertisement.

SUNFLOWER SEED AS FOOD

Irkutsk, Siberia, Sept. 7.—Sunflower seed is a delicacy much relished by Russian soldiers. At railway stations where bodies of troops are waiting the platforms are always littered with the shells of the sunflower seed. On troop trains the men can be seen cracking the seed between their teeth and chewing kernels which they extract dexterously with their tongue. Peasant women sell the sunflower seed about the railway stations just as popcorn and peanuts are sold at American stations. Many persons crack so many sunflower seeds that they wear notches in their front teeth, which enable them to grip the seed more tightly and crack them with greater speed.

RASPUTIN SCANDAL AND CZARINA'S GERMAN LEANINGS BROUGHT ON RUSSIAN REVOLUTION

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.
(Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

"What I should like to see," said a sturdy American one day at dinner in the Winter Palace, "is an international law absolutely forbidding any German prince or princess to marry anybody outside of Germany, henceforth and forever."

He plumped this out in the midst of a pause in the conversation so that everybody got the full wallop of it. Our English guests naturally looked unhappy and made no comment, but the rest of the table applauded.

We had been talking about the Evil Genius of Russia, which was the present Mrs. N. Romanoff, late czarina and Head Trouble Maker.

She had helped a lot to put the Romanoff family out of business. Also to enable about 30 representatives of democracies then assembled to sit at ease about her late table.

What was about a million times more important, she had a hand, without knowing it or meaning it, in bringing on the Russian revolution, the best thing that has happened since the fall of the tsar.

The reason our English friends looked sad at the mention of the subject is because the royal family of England is about all German and many of its marriages in the last 60 years have been with German princes or princesses.

The curse of monarchy is real, persistent and terrible. Monarchy is an utterly lunatic and poisonous institution that should have been abolished from the face of the earth 140 years ago.

The price that Europe has since paid for clinging to the worn out old bunk is appalling.

Witness this war.

Also, the fact that the war was not ended months ago; also a long array of details that have made a horrible conflict all the worse.

One of the countless bad things about fooling with royalty is that the offspring of royalty can marry only with the offspring of other royalty.

Germany had always an amazing overcrop of princelings and princesses. Elsewhere in the world there were not enough to go around. Consequently every royal family in Europe became German and is German today.

Generally speaking, a German is always a German. No matter where he or she may go, the ties of German continue to bind, the thoughts and ambitions continue to be German.

All the trouble in Greece, for instance, was made by a German princess married to the king that the Greek people, for some reason or other, still allowed to mess and mishandle their affairs.

If Greece had been a republic she would have kept her agreement, landed troops at the Dardanelles, taken Constantinople, put Turkey out and enabled the war to end in the autumn of 1915.

But about this czarina of Russia, she was a German princess, and although the country upon whose throne she sat was at war with Germany she married the country she helped to mislead for the sake of the country of her birth.

She was proud, arrogant, overbearing, neurotic, unpopular. She had her way absolutely with her husband, who was cowed by her furious self-will and was a weak man anyway. Except when it came to sending revolutionists to the gallows or Siberia.

The czarina likewise had weak spots in her domineering character. She was in deadly fear of assassination and she was almost insanely superstitious.

There is abundant evidence that from the beginning of the war she had the purpose to bring about a separate peace between Germany and Russia.

She seems to have been held back by one fear and that was what she Russian people might do to her if they found out her treachery.

According to the story current in Russia among the best informed persons it was the czarina that elevated Steiner, the German, to the place of foreign minister, and it was she that urged on the ministers that had arranged Russia's surrender just before the revolution broke. But for the revolution the thing would have gone through and the 150 German and Austrian divisions now on the Russian front would have been released to be hurled against France.

Before this the czarina had come wholly under the power of that astounding abnormality and villainous fake monk, Rasputin.

He never was a monk, as a matter of fact, but early in his vicious career he discovered that a pretense to piety was an easy way to win the confidence of the women he preyed upon. For this purpose he proclaimed himself the apostle of a new kind of holiness and put on vestments to which he had no right. Wearing that garb he led a life of shocking immorality.

The czar and czarina had one son and several daughters. For the sake of the succession the czar and his wife were always greatly worried about the health of their son. Rasputin used this feeling to get the czarina in his power.

It is supposed that among the other women he had hypnotized was someone that attended upon the prince, and that she was induced to dope the food of her charge. Anyway, Rasputin announced that his constant presence and care were necessary to keep the prince well and when the czarina scoffed at the suggestion he foretold the prince's sickness and went away.

The prince immediately fell ill and continued to be ill in spite of the best efforts of the court physicians.

The czarina then fell a-shaking with superstition and gave orders to have the holy man brought back.

Whereupon the prince got well. Soon after that Rasputin became the real dictating power of Russia, through the czarina. She did what-ever he told her to do, and he was and had long been in the pay of Germany.

He led the czarina along the way

she was perfectly willing to go to a separate peace with Germany. He was the go-between and agent in the negotiations; he is supposed to have fixed the prices at which the traitors were to sell themselves.

Meantime a scandal had arisen and swept over all Russia concerning the relations between Rasputin and the czarina. There may have been no basis for any such reports, but it cannot be denied that the czarina helped them along by behaving without restraint or discretion, and as for Rasputin he openly boasted when drunk that he had made a conquest of the czarina.

Before long 95 per cent. of the Russian people knew the story and believed it. The old respect for the czar had long been dying out. THIS STORY FINISHED IT.

Pretty nearly everything in this world seems to have a use, soon or late. Rasputin was a beast and a greasy impostor, but he helped on the revolution. And so, strangely enough, did the German princess that planned to betray Russia and unwittingly saved it.

TAKES CASE UNDER ADVISEMENT ONE DAY

Judge Kerr to Give Alleged Auto Thief Decision Saturday.

The case of Ray Bohannon, an employee of a garage at 722 Barr street, who went to Payne, O., Wednesday with a car which he says he was working on, and brought it back badly smashed up, according to testimony, was continued until Saturday by Judge H. W. Kerr in city court Friday.

Evidence showed that Bohannon took the car without the consent of the owner of the garage or the owner of the car and that he did not return it until the following day. Bohannon explained that the damage had been done by a collision with another car because of the defective lights on the car which he drove. Bohannon had only worked at the garage a short time, the evidence showed, and told the court that he thought it was the common practice to take cars out to repair them when they could not be adjusted in the garage. Bolts which had been loosened caused the belief that Bohannon had tried to take off the coupe body but Bohannon denied this in court.

Bohannon's wife told Judge Kerr that her husband had been in the plumbing business until a short time ago, when he sold out to join the navy as a plumber, but that after going to Indianapolis he had been told that no more plumbers were needed.

Usual Drunk Quota.

The usual quota of men who had been floating down the old Green river and landed safely on the bar of retribution, were up for the usual doleful tales of how it happened, and "I wasn't drunk at all," stories before Judge Kerr. The latest "alibi" for the mistakes of officers in arresting men who, it is said, would never think of taking a drink, and throwing them in jail, was that given by George Moore, who loafs around a colored restaurant on Calhoun street, according to the officers making the arrest, pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunkenness. "My feet hurt and I can't walk straight," Moore told Judge Kerr. The story evidently did not listen "good" to the court and Moore was remanded to jail with a fine of $5 and costs. George Shadle was held in jail on a charge of intoxication under a bond of $50 until Sept. 12. Frank Chapman was fined $5 and costs on a plea of guilty to a charge of drunkenness.

Walking to Chicago.

George Apple, a derelict, picked up by the police on the street after he had been going into different places looking for road guides and otherwise acting suspiciously, told the court that he was from Jackson, Mich., and that he was walking to Chicago by way of Fort Wayne. Apple had no money on his person and no visible means of support, and was locked up in charge of hissing.

His case was continued by Judge Kerr until Sept. 15 under a bond of $100. Apple had apparently lost his direction, saying that he had been to Auburn, Angola and Muncie on his way from Jackson here.

Held Till Sept. 15.

Walter Jerald, 50, who has been held awaiting an answer to an inquiry to the chief of police of Greenville, S. C., concerning funds which Jerald told local officers he had there, was ordered held under a bond of $100 by Judge Kerr until Sept. 15, when he will be given a further hearing. Jerald got in wrong over a draft at a local bank. The chief of police of Greenville wrote that Jerald had never had an account at the bank stipulated.

FORT WAYNE TO GET COAL

Federal Priority Order is Virtually Abandoned by Fuel Dictator.

THE PENNSYLVANIA LINES ARE FREED

Order Diverted All Shipments on That System to the Northwest.

Indianapolis, Sept. 7.—A telegram interpreted as indicating the virtual abandonment of the federal priority order regarding coal shipments to the northwest, in so far as it affects the Pennsylvania divisions in Indiana, was received by the public service commission yesterday. In view of the distressed conditions about to result in Indiana from the application of the order issued by Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the national coal distribution bureau, the alleviation was noted here with great rejoicing.

The message came to the commission, not from the federal authorities, but from D. F. Crawford, of Pittsburgh, Pa., general manager of the Pennsylvania railroad. It stated in effect that cars recently requisitioned from Hoosier intra-state service would be allowed back again and that the former order would be re-established. Since the Pennsylvania lines in Indiana handle a great proportion, perhaps nearly 50 per cent, of the Hoosier intra-state coal shipments, the relief will be considerable.

Northwest Relief Sought.
The issuance of the order which took cars and coal away from Indiana mines and consumers was made to give relief to the northwest, which is soon to be enveloped in colder weather or at least before the middle western states. As one instance of its effect in Indiana, the Pennsylvania was able to supply out about one-half the number of cars wanted from it by coal mines it served in Indiana. Cities like Fort Wayne, Ind., and at least three of the big Hoosier interurban lines faced grave condition in that curtailment of service was immediately impending and actual shutdowns probable.

The abandonment of the order as affecting the Pennsylvania, however, does not help the other lines much. Mines on some of them face a shutdown in that the Pennsylvania is a disturbance of miners. In view of this it was arranged at a conference between coal operators and consumers, on the one hand, and Commissioner William J. Wood, on the other, held yesterday, that Ernest I. Lewis of the commission, Carl J. Fletcher of Indianapolis, secretary of the Knox County Coal Operators' association, and Clarence W. Royce of Terre Haute, Ind., coal attorney, should go to Washington Monday or in time to be in the capital Wednesday.

The committee will take up with the federal coal distributor the delicacy of the situation in Indiana and endeavor to obtain relief from the imminent suffering and possible business disaster. They will seek such a modification of the order as will enable other Hoosier coal-carrying lines to serve their fields as the Pennsylvania has been permitted to do, according to the Crawford telegram. The commission has worked industriously for a modification of the order already and while pleased with the Pennsylvania modification, yet was unwilling to let it go at that.

Other Considerations.
Nor will that be the only one to pick with the Washington officials. Ever since the price of coal has soared it is alleged to have been the custom of railroads serving mines in Indiana to make a sort of gentlemen's agreement that if the carrier could get coal for its own use the operator so supplying it should not lack for cars, in spite of the attempt to prorate cars to mines according to the supply and demand. This alleged misconduct is laid directly at the door of the carriers, who are said to have almost bullied some of the operators into such arrangements.

This matter will be taken up with Harry Garfield, federal fuel director, and with Judge Lovett, federal coal distributor. Another thing which Chairman Lewis will take up with Lovett will be the distribution and priority of coal shipments in Indiana, especially as regards state institutions. Wednesday the commission announced that shortly hereafter the distribution of coal to Indiana points and business should be made to conform to a priority schedule, which it will issue. Along with the announcement of this step came also a part of the schedule.

Institutions First.
By its terms state institutions will be given first preference. They will be followed by public utilities, manufacturing plants working on government contracts, private and domestic users and general manufacturing concerns, ranking in the order named. More explicit directions of the shipping will be issued later in the week, it is expected.

By such an arrangement the commission hopes to avert much of the suffering and depression expected from the coal shortage which looms up as a great possibility this winter. State institutions caring for dependents and others in forced care will be given priority over other state institutions. Coal operators in Indiana have already arranged among themselves to prorate coal to such institutions.

As to the state fuel question the Indiana Bituminous Coal Operators' association advised the State Council of Defense yesterday to obtain the appointment of a coal distributor for the state institutions.

Purchasing Agent Suggested.
The following message was received from the association, which held a meeting in Terre Haute Wednesday night: "Be it resolved, that our committee on coal for the state institutions be reinstated, and that it recommend to the state officials that some one be appointed by the state to act as purchasing and distributing agent for the state fuel requirements, and, "Be it further resolved that this association pledges itself to furnish all the coal which may be required for all the state institutions."

Owing to the illness of Governor Goodrich it is not known yet who will be appointed to the position of coal distributor.

Many other matters of importance to Hoosier shippers will be taken up with Charles C. McChord, interstate commerce commission chairman, by Mr. Lewis, of the Indiana commission, during his stay in Washington.

TEN HURT AND HORSE KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Dark Spot in Road Causes Auto to Clash With Buggy.

Five adults and five children were injured, none critically, and the horse attached to the buggy was killed, when an automobile driven by Alfred Walda, 1036 Schick street, collided with the vehicle on Maumee avenue at the point where the Lewis street car line turns south. Walda takes the blame for the accident, but reports that a dark spot, caused by shadowing trees, did not allow him to see the approaching rig. The chauffeur was driving at twenty miles an hour, he states.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Popp and their five children, occupants of the buggy, were all injured in the smash. Mrs. Popp sustained a broken leg. The husband suffers from injuries to his neck. A son, Roy, aged 7, has a deep gash in his head. The other children received body bruises. Walda and his friend, Val Krug, 1406 Hanna street, were not hurt, although the three women in the automobile were bruised and their arms lacerated. Two of the women are sisters of Mr. Krug and the third is Agnes Sallot, who lives at Summit and Division streets.

The injured people were cared for in the home of Dr. E. H. Kruse, 2222 Maumee avenue. Mrs. Popp was taken to her home in Walda's machine. The buggy in which the Popp family were riding was demolished and the horse attached to the rig was killed.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED.
Anderson Brothers Given Chance by Judge Eggenman.

Clinton Anderson and Robert Anderson, two brothers, pleaded guilty before Judge J. W. Eggenman in the circuit court Friday and sentences of from one to fourteen years in the state's prison at Michigan City were suspended. The brothers were charged with stealing sugar, flour and other provisions from a Pennsylvania freight car. Leniency was shown by the court for the reason that the two brothers had never been in trouble before and both are heads of families. One of them is the father of eight children. The court warned them, however, that their failure to follow the straight and narrow path would result in the sentences being enforced. Both were given employment at the plant of the S. F. Bowser & Co.

Roy O'Brien pleaded not guilty to the charge of grand larceny and guilty of petit larceny. He was released under $500 cash bond for appearance in the circuit court on September 10 at which time he will be sentenced.

TWO WILLS FILED.

One of Late Marcellus Thurber and Other Late Pauline Romary.

The will of the late Marcellus Thurber, of Pleasant township, was filed in the circuit court Friday. The deceased leaves his entire estate to his widow, Emily M. Thurber, and at her death to be divided equally among each of the children, Cora Beck, Ora Thurber, Jesse Thurber, Rosa Work, George Thurber and Dorothy Thurber.

By the terms of the will of the late Pauline B. Romary her entire estate is left to her husband, Armour E. Romary.

SERIOUS MISTAKE.

It Might Have Resulted in Perry Warner Going to War.

The attorney representing Mrs. Julia Warner, 807 West Berry street, in her suit for divorce filed Thursday, made a serious mistake when she charged her husband, Perry Warner, with non-support. It so happens that Warner had claimed exemption from army service and had made affidavit that his wife and son were dependent upon him. Mrs. Warner told a Sentinel reporter that her husband does contribute to her support as well as to the support of their child and that her attorney in filing the complaint for divorce had followed the usual form. To make matters worse, Mrs. Warner had also filed an affidavit with the selection board substantiating her husband's claim for exemption, which was granted. She, too, might have gotten in had the complaint been permitted to stand. However, the first complaint was removed from the files and an amended document was filed later in the afternoon in which Mrs. Warner charges her husband with infidelity and asks for a divorce on that ground.

BLOOD THIRSTY HUBBY.
Mrs. Hazel Jones Says She Feared for Her Life.

Charging her husband with being bloodthirsty in so far that he had threatened to kill her on a number of occasions, Mrs. Hazel Jones, through her attorney, H. Waveland Kerr, has filed suit for divorce from Robert Jones. She alleges that they were married just two months, which were a plenty. During that time she says that her husband compelled her to keep a boarding and rooming house to support herself. On May 1, she declares, he deserted her, which would indicate that five months were also a plenty for him. She asks for the restoration for her maiden name of Edwards.

Sold Her Garden Truck.
Because her husband sold her garden produce and appropriated the money to his own use, Mrs. Victoria S. Wright, through her attorney, Robert B. Dreihelms, has filed suit for divorce, together with the custody of their seven year old daughter, and $3,000 alimony. She also seeks a restraining order to prevent her husband from molesting her. She lives on the St. Joe road.

Two Incorporations.
Articles of incorporation have been filed by the Centlivre Sand and Gravel company and the Fuelling & Krudop Construction company. The Centlivre firm is capitalized at $10,000 and Louis A. Centlivre, Charles F. Centlivre and Edward C. Frank are the directors. The Fuelling & Krudop company is capitalized at $20,000, with George H. Krudop as president and Charles W. Fuelling as secretary-treasurer. Fred H. Fuelling, with these two men, constitute the board of directors.

Another Erring Husband.
Charging her husband, Earl Fee, with telling her to leave and with frequently striking her, Mrs. Jessie Fee, through her attorneys, Emrick & Emrick, has filed suit for divorce. She also asks for the custody of their four year old son.

Sentenced to State Farm.
Andrew J. Bennett was found guilty Thursday on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of his step-daughter, and was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to the state penal farm for six months. Albert Crowell was convicted of forgery and was sentenced to the reformatory for a period of from two to fourteen years.

Viewers Named.
The following viewers for roads were named by the county commissioners Thursday: Bandler—Henry Reber, Henry Gullmeyer and Henry Weiser; Greenwell—Henry Becker, John Maricle and Charles Miller; L. A. Todd—Martin Blum, Otto Frange and J. S. Byers.

Judgment for $140.
A judgment of $140 was granted the Railroaders' Realty company from Albert Coon.

At State Fair.
W. F. Ranko, county treasurer, was at Indianapolis, Thursday, to attend the county treasurers' meeting of the state and also to take in the state fair. He was accompanied by Paul Kinder.

Want Guardian Appointed.
A petition was filed Friday by Herman Bruns in the circuit court asking for the appointment of a guardian for the appointment of a guardian for the William Bruns alias William Bruns, who he claims is incapable of managing his estate and business affairs. The petitioner is represented by Attorney H. Waveland Kerr.

Testimony Concluded.
The testimony was concluded Friday in superior court in the case brought by the National Surety company against Henry Hileman, and William Geake, judge pro tem, has taken same under advisement.

DEATH OF WEALTHY WOMAN NOT SUICIDE

New Post Mortem in Chicago Indicates Widow King Was Murdered.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—A post-mortem examination of the body of Mrs. Maude A. King, widow of James C. King, late Chicago millionaire, whose death resulted from a bullet wound near Concord, N. H., Aug. 29, indicated that Mrs. King was murdered, in the opinion of Coroner Peter M. Hoffman.

The body was removed from the mausoleum here and the examination conducted just before midnight last night by order of Judge Kersten, of the criminal branch of the circuit court. Dr. William Brummister, pathologist of Northwestern university, conducted the examination in the presence of representatives of the police and coroner's office. "In my opinion from investigation and post-mortem examination the wound was not self-inflicted," said Coroner Hoffman, in contradiction to the opinion of the coroner's jury at Concord.

The verdict of the examining physicians concluded: "The entrance of the wound was about two inches forward of the center of the skull, behind the left ear. It showed no signs of burns or powder marks, indicating that the revolver was a considerable distance from the head when discharged. The left ankle showed a dark discoloration. The examination revealed it was broken before death. All other organs were negative, in healthy, normal condition."

Mrs. King's death occurred early in the evening of Aug. 29 about two miles from Concord, after she, with Gaston B. Means, her counsel and business adviser; A. Bingham and Alfred Means, a brother of Gaston, had started for an automobile ride. The shot was fired when she and Gaston Means had left the car and were on a roadside spring to get a drink. Ernest Burey, negro chauffeur, testified at the Concord inquest that he had been ordered to take the car some distance back on the road when the party descended at the spring.

NEWSBOYS WILL BE GUESTS.

Transfer Theater to Entertain Them Saturday Morning.

Through the courtesy of the Transfer theater management, the newsboys of The Sentinel, News and Journal-Gazette will give a complimentary show at the Transfer tomorrow at 10 o'clock. The party will be chaperoned by Charles Phelps, head of the local newsboys' organization, and of the Boys' Wildwood club, which is also included in the invitation. Tickets for the events will be distributed to the boys tonight as they receive their papers from the circulation manager.

Manager A. J. McCabe, of the Transfer, has arranged an unusual appeal to the youngsters. One of the characters of the famous serial story, "The Fatal Ring," will be exhibited. The feature picture of the day, "The Little Soldier Girl," will prove especially appropriate, as many of the scenes in this production are laid in one of the big United States army cantonments, and also in a boy scout camp in New York state. Ann Pennington, the diminutive star of the "Ziegfeld Follies," will be starred in the latter picture.

WOMAN REGISTERED AGE AT 117 YEARS

Relatives Claim, However, That She is Little Past Seventy.

On the slip handed in by a notary public and on the big-leaved record at the city hall registration office Eliza C. Rudisill is signed up as being 117 years old. The notary who recorded her vote registration understood her to say that she was born on Nov. 30, 1800. He so wrote.

Election clerks at once figured that the woman would thereby be 117 years of age. One of the men telephoned 2000 Spy Run avenue, where the woman lives.

"I will not tell anybody my age. I was born in 1800," responded the woman, the clerks say.

Relatives of the woman, who was born in Fort Wayne and has always lived here, say she is but little past 70 years of age. The number of her years is a subject upon which she is taciturn. She meant to convey the general understanding that she was born in the nineteenth century when she said "eighteen hundred." It is stated.

But the Fifth ward of the city will be created with having a voter past the century mark in years when Eliza Rudisill casts her ballot in the coming city election.

Registrations continue to come in at a small pace. It is estimated that at least a third of the citizens of eligible age will not vote because of carelessness in signing for the ballot.

JAPAN URGED TO AID ALLIES WITH SHIPS

Closer Co-Operation With America Planned at Washington.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Such agreements for closer co-operation in war activity as may be entered into by Viscount Ishii, head of the Japanese mission, and Secretary Lansing will be based largely upon the conference between Admiral Takekita and American naval officers.

It was indicated at the state department today that the outstanding points had to do with transportation and it was stated that to determine questions connected with that problem the Japanese naval representatives would confer with experts of the navy department. Secretary Lansing will meet Viscount Ishii again Monday, when it is expected a more definite outline of the negotiations will be made. Involved in the problem are the questions of aid the Japanese government can give in increasing the ship tonnage in the Atlantic as well as in the Pacific; the aid that this government can give Japan in carrying out her ship building program, and the possibilities of Japanese yards increasing ship construction for the entente powers.

By both the American and Japanese conferences it has been made clear that the only questions to be determined are those looking to a better means of uniting the forces of the two countries in the war, and it was indicated that it was probable that on certain phases of the problems the entente nations might be consulted.

The teachers of Monroe, Jackson, Maumee, Milan and Cedar Creek townships are in session Friday in the assembly room of the court house. The teachers of St. Joseph, Adams, Wayne and Washington will meet Saturday

SIX WOMEN SLAY IN NEW ORLEANS IN SIX MONTHS

Female of the Species is Perhaps Deadlier Than the Male.

BY FREDERICK HAMLIN.
Staff Special.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 7.—Six murders of men, and one shooting, by New Orleans women and girls, wives or sweethearts, in the past sixteen months—

And, not a single conviction. That's why ministers in the pulpits, clubwomen at meetings and students of sociology have aroused a storm of discussion. It has resulted in demands from many quarters that southern chivalry be thrown aside and a conviction obtained in at least one recent case to serve as a lesson.

Only once in Louisiana criminal history has a woman been convicted for killing a man. The lone victim of the law, Miss Dora Murff, was sentenced in 1913 to five years in the penitentiary for complicity in the murder of Milton Delahaye, her sweetheart, at Crowley, La., because he refused to marry her.

Her stepfather, Alec Duval, sentenced to life imprisonment, recently was denied a pardon. The girl has been released and has started out to "get a chance" in life. She is a nurse in a charity hospital, and will be among the New Orleans nurses who will go abroad with the Louisiana troops.

Here is the record of the sixteen months' murder wave that gripped New Orleans women and girls:

April 25, 1916—Ernest J. Smith, bar pilot, shot to death in Franklin street home by wife because he accused her of infidelity. She was acquitted.

June 6—Mrs. Augustine Miguez killed Anthony DiFranco, married, because he threatened to break up her romance with a student. Acquitted and afterwards married to another.

December 2—Naomi Myers killed Raymond Castenado, trying to force his way into her home.

June 27, 1917—Pascal Peterson, called to see his estranged wife at her home, killed by her during a quarrel. She is out on bond.

July 4, 1917—Arthur J. Behan, sportsman, killed by Mrs. Carrie Reems Haas. Shooting, in her apartment, charged to have resulted from the divorce attempt to prevent his breaking a four-year love affair to wed another. Mrs. Haas was acquitted Tuesday, Aug. 21, on a self-defense plea after a day's trial; jury out only 20 minutes.

July 22—Miss Violet Dendinger, 18, shoots and dangerously wounds Xavier Henry J. Knecht, 21, married six months, charging breach of promise. Out on bond.

Aug. 19—Mrs. Mikele Sulli, 34, slashes the throat of her intoxicated husband, 54, claiming self-defense. In jail pending preliminary hearing; release and no trial expected.

"Murder has become the fashion, it seems," is the comment of Rev. A. J. Gearheard, prominent in tenement work and pastor of one of the richest churches.

"Our finer senses are shocked when the murderer is a woman.

"Is it true that the 'female of the species is more deadly than the male'?"

"It would appear so."

"What can we do?"

"Stop carrying pistols! Keep young girls from public balls! Teach young men the sacredness of womanhood! Quit rearing children who will rule or ruin! Put an end to the murder that is aimed at unborn! Instill the truth of God's law in the hearts of mankind, and teach all men that 'Vengeance is Mine,' saith the Lord of Hosts, 'and I will repay.'"

Ready for you—New fall clothing, hats, furnishings and shoes for men and boys.

RUSSIAN WOMEN HARVEST WHEAT FOR THE ARMIES

Russian women are fighting in the harvest field as well as in the trenches—bringing in the sheaves as well as German prisoners. The picture shows that, despite unsettled political and economic conditions, the new republic is assured an ample winter food supply. These peasant women, working on a threshing machine in South Russia, have paid no heed to the German propaganda.

READY FOR GREAT WORK

American Alliance for Labor and Democracy Ends Convention.

ORGANIZATION TO BE COUNTRY-WIDE

Declaration of Alliance is Ringing in Its Tone of Patriotism.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 7.—The American Alliance for Labor and Democracy expected to conclude the business of its three-day loyalty meeting late today and adjourn tonight after a public mass meeting.

Most of the delegates will return to their homes on the "red, white and blue" special train. Literature will be distributed along the way, telling of the work accomplished here in the first drive of the big campaign to make American labor loyal and clear the land of pro-German propagandists.

Work of organizing branches went forward rapidly and those in charge predicted every state in the union would have branches within two weeks.

These state branches will supervise the establishment of county and town branches.

Clarence Darrow, Chicago, will be one of the principal speakers at the meeting tonight, over which Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor and chairman of the alliance will preside.

Answer to Pacifists.

The convention's answer to the pacifists says:

"The so-called People's council and other organizations allied with it, professing to speak in the name of the working people of America, have declared that the aims and purposes for which we are at war have not been definitely stated. These people have made a great deal of clamor, demanding that the president of the United States make a definite statement of the reasons why we are at war and the end we seek to attain."

"We, the members of the Minneapolis conference of the American Alliance for Labor and Democracy, declare that this demand of the People's council and other pacifist organizations, even if made in good faith, is entirely unwarranted. The record shows that the aims and purposes of this nation have been stated with singular lucidity and precision by the president of the United States on various occasions."

"Since the United States entered the war the president has upon three notable occasions clearly and explicitly set forth the American aim, the objects which must be attained by any peace to which the United States can agree. We especially to the war message of April 2, 1917, the note to Russia of April 23, 1917, and the reply to his note of April 27, 1917."

"The war objects stated by the president in these historic documents were as follows:

"1. Recognition of the rights and liberties of small nations.

"2. Recognition of the principle that government derives its just power from the consent of the governed.

"3. Reparations for wrongs done and the erection of adequate safeguards to prevent their being committed again.

"4. No indemnities except as payment for manifest wrongs.

"5. No people to be forced under sovereignty under which it does not wish to live.

"6. No territory to change hands except for the purpose of securing those who inhabit it a fair chance of life and liberty.

"7. No readjustments of power except such as will tend to secure the future peace of the world and the future welfare and happiness of its peoples.

"8. A genuine and practical co-operation of the free peoples of the world in some common covenant that will combine their forces to secure peace and justice in the dealings of nations with one another.

Ideals of Internationalism.
"We the men and women of the trade union and socialist movements of America, organized into the American Alliance for Labor and Democracy, in submitting this record to our fellow citizens, assert that in all history no government has ever stated its aims on entering a war or while such war was being fought with anything approaching the definiteness, clarity and candor revealed by these utterances. We assert, moreover, that in all essential particulars the aims thus set forth are entirely consistent with the great ideals of democracy and internationalism for which the American labor movement has always stood and which are fundamental to its being.

"We rejoice at the fact that we are thus solemnly committed to the principle of the complete autonomy and independence of nations. Only upon the basis of this generous nationalism can anything like a great and worthy internationalism be established."

Unofficial Answer of U. S.?

The resolution, viewed by some delegates as the government's unofficial reply to the criticisms of pacifists and pro-German propagandists, was submitted after a lengthy session of the resolutions committee. It was read by John Spargo, former member of the executive committee of the socialist party, and adopted almost immediately amid applause.

It pointed to the German plan, referred to by President Wilson, to throw a broad belt of military power across the center of Europe, and beyond the Mediterranean into the heart of Asia, and continued:

"The only chance left to the masters of Germany of retaining the advantages gained, and of perpetuating their own domination over the German people, is the enactment of an immediate peace upon terms favorable to themselves."

"Should the German plans succeed, America itself thereafter would be menaced, the resolution said.

Stamp Out Pro-Germanism.
The organization committee reported plans to form branches of the alliance all over the country.

Pointing to the government's fairness to labor, the "war organization" stated that an agreement had been reached between representatives of the American labor forces and the secretaries of war and navy that union wages, hours and conditions shall obtain throughout all construction work for army or navy purposes.

"Immediate action is vital," the appeal continues, urging prompt organization of local and state branches of the movement. "Funds are needed for the work and we urge that contributions be made immediately for propaganda and organization purposes."

This appeal, labor leaders declared, marked the "daring of the first gun" in the campaign to stamp out pro-German propaganda and to bring the nation's labor forces up solidly behind the government.

DR. CALVIN IN EXPLANATION

Tells Why Boy Scout Campaign is Being Waged at This Time.

POINTS OUT NEED OF ORGANIZATION

Field Meet by the Local Troops Will Be Held at Swinney Park Saturday

This has been a year of special activities for the citizens of Fort Wayne along many lines of civic enterprises, and now another has just been launched in favor of the Boy Scout movement.

Dr. W. D. Calvin, this morning in an interview, made the following explanations of the immediate necessity of the work:

"We were perfectly aware of the many calls which had been made. We knew of the changed conditions on account of the war, but if you will consider the matter just for a moment, these are the very conditions which are operating against the boys and which we want to counteract. Take, for instance, the experience of England, who at the beginning of the war centered its entire thought and activity upon the immediate war problems. Boys were released from school to work in munition factories; money which had been expended upon philanthropic work for boys was curtailed with the result that juvenile delinquency has increased 50 per cent in one year.

"War conditions have made it harder to get and keep scout masters, one troop in this city having lost three for perfectly good reasons during the past year. Yes, we know that the citizens had been called upon pretty hard this year, but we felt that they would not neglect their opportunity to help in this work when it was properly explained. The pledges are not all payable this year; the money will be spent in expert supervision. The membership will be doubled and the increased membership will be able to do much in the line of co-operating with civic movements, and at the same time we will be doing our part to prevent the threatening increase in juvenile delinquency."

Saturday afternoon at Swinney park there will be a field meet by the local troops. This is the first time that such a meet has been held in this city. Scouts will demonstrate a number of different lines of Scout activities. The public is cordially invited.

Miss Edith Morey has resigned her position at Temper Brothers to accept one in the Wolf & Dessauer store.

MENNONITES AGAINST NON-COMBATANT SERVICE

They Are Not Keen for War in Any Shape or Form, Report Shows.

Goshen, Ind., Sept. 7.—Members of the Mennonite religious faith, meeting at Yellow Creek Mennonite church, near here, where the biennial conference of the Mennonite church of the United States, Canada and India was held last week, heard the report from the special mission of churchmen dispatched to Washington to enter protest to President Wilson, Secretary of War Baker, Provost Marshal General Crowder and other administration of the church being required to give military service. Several thousands of Mennonites have entered their claims to exemption, but under a ruling of the provost marshal general, they are required to report for noncombatant service.

According to the report from the mission sent to Washington, Mennonites will be trained for noncombatant service in a special camp or camps to be provided and under no circumstances will be required to leave the United States. They may be used in building highways. Claim is still made that the giving of such service is in direct conflict with the tenets of the Mennonite church, and it is the plan to file further claims to exemption after Mennonites drafted are sent to their special training camps.

The ancient Indians of Peru are now regarded as the world's greatest weavers. This noteworthy revelation in the history of textile art is the result of the critical examination of many rich and beautiful tapestries and other fabrics executed by the gifted ancient Indian population of Peru. Though buried three centuries or more in the sandy desert after being made with primitive handlooms and other weaving implements, these wonderful fabrics are now found to be superior to those turned out by the automatic looms of the great mills of today. The primitive Peruvian handloom consisted of two sticks, one at the top and one at the bottom.

REGISTRATION FOR RESERVE COMPLETED

Many Boys Took Last Opportunity to Sign Cards.

Advantage of the last opportunity to register was taken by 285 boys of Fort Wayne Thursday night, according to figures compiled by A. L. McDonald, director of the United States Boys' Working Reserve in this city. McDonald reports that he is well pleased with the work that has been done in this city and states that it is his belief that this city will rank near the top when the figures are available for a comparison with other cities of the state.

"It is possible that this city may stand at the top of the list of cities in the state," said McDonald. "I have not figures to show just what has been done outside the city, but I expect this county to stand near the top in the list of counties registering for the Working Reserve." It has already been pointed out that Indiana, with one other state, head the various states in figures compiled so far.

The enrollment at the Harnar school was the heaviest of any district in the city Thursday night. Of 143 to register, eight enrolled. The work at the Harnar school was directed by H. O. Georges and E. H. Ernst. At the Jefferson school 173 registered and only one enrolled. There were sixty-nine registrations at the Hoagland school and one enrollment. The chance for enrollment of boys who have registered may be had by seeing Mr. McDonald in the Utility building.

DR. ALLEN HAMILTON CALLED FOR TRAINING

Miss Elizabeth Melville Also Leaves City for Hospital Service.

Dr. Allen Hamilton and Miss Elizabeth Melville, two well known Fort Wayne people connected with the medical profession, have been called into training for war hospital service. Miss Melville, probably the most widely recognized professional nurse in the city, left for Indianapolis Thursday evening. Dr. Hamilton will go to Fort Harrison next week.

Dr. Hamilton is captain of the Fort Wayne hospital unit, the complete organization of which is being carried on at present. He will receive a special line of training for the war work at the Indianapolis fort. Dr. Hamilton was born and reared in Fort Wayne and has practiced medicine here for several years, since his university training.

Miss Melville will be sent from Indianapolis to New York in order to join unit No. 32 of the Lilly Base hospital. The date for sailing for France, of course, is not known, but will likely be soon. Miss Melville is a Hope hospital graduate and her work has been principally in this part of the state, though she had been on special missions several times, most recently in relief of flood and cyclone sufferers.

Miss Melville is the first nurse called of the number enlisting in Red Cross work, which she did at the first call for aid.

LOCAL BATTERIES LEAVE FOR THE EAST

Col. Tyndall Takes Men from Fort Harrison to Join Mineola Forces.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 7.—Under command of Colonel Robert H. Tyndall, the One Hundred and Fifteenth Infantry, which includes Fort Wayne batteries B and D, left Fort Benjamin Harrison today for Mineola, L. I. Dispatches from New York state that the Hoosiers are the only members of what is to be known as the Rainbow Division who are not already stationed at the training camp. This will be under the command of Major General Mann. The departure of the regiment has been delayed for several days owing to lack of clothing and other field equipment. However, this paraphernalia has been received and everything was almost in readiness last evening for departure at short notice.

Packed for Journey.
The soldiers spent the greater part of the day packing their equipment, which is to proceed by freight. Everything in the line of tents, kitchen utensils and other such articles will be taken by the regiment. Whether the men will remain in camp long at Mineola is a matter of conjecture. They may all immediately, and on the other hand they may be stationed there for some time.

Colonel Root, formerly Indiana state mustering officer, will arrive at Fort Benjamin Harrison today to assume command of the army post. He will succeed Colonel Crawford, who relieved Brigadier General Edwin F. Glenn recently when the latter was assigned to another post.

Men's new fall Knox and Stetson hats in all the new blocks and fall colors.

Chicago Liquor Interests to Keep Dancing and Skating from Cafes.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—The Chicago brewers' association, the Chicago retail liquor dealers' association and several other kindred organizations made known today that they would begin an active campaign to prohibit dancing, skating and vaudeville entertainment in any Chicago cafe where liquor is sold. The move for this separation will take the form of an ordinance to be presented to the city council at its first meeting on Oct. 1, it is said. The only form of amusement to be permitted under the liquor dealers' plan would be band concerts in places which seat 500 persons or more.

William Legner, president of the brewers' association, predicted that with whisky under the ban by congressional action by Nov. 1, of this year, 1,500 of the city's 7,000 saloon licenses will be allowed to lapse.

Stetson shoes—quality, style and workmanship unequalled, leathers of various kinds.

INVESTIGATING FRAUD CASES IN THIS CITY

J. A. Williamson, of Indianapolis, of the department of justice, is in the city in connection with the cases of Henry F. Grabner and Michael J. Gumlock, charged with violating the provisions of the conscription act.

Whether any further investigation will be made these two cases at the present time is not known but it is thought that there may be a possibility of evidence being brought out to show other cases wherein similar violations of the conscription act have been committed. Gumlock is still in the Allen

WAR TAX BILL GIVEN DEBATE IN HOUSE

Bond Measure, Passed by House is Received in the Senate.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—Retention of the war tax bill's income provisions raising $442,200,000 including $482,200,000 from individuals, was forecast to day on a preliminary vote of the senate by which Senator La Follette's amendment to increase the assessment upon individual incomes to $643,651,000 was rejected 55 to 19. Senator Hollis' amendment proposing to increase the income tax levy to $557,000,000, or about $75,000,000 more than the bill provides, by increasing surtaxes on incomes in excess of $25,000, also was voted down, 51 to 26.

INSURANCE BILL IN HOUSE. Washington, Sept. 7.—The administration's $176,000,000 soldiers' and sailors' insurance bill was taken up in the house today with the leaders determined to dispose of it as speedily as possible. Considerable opposition to the bill's optional insurance features, proposed by private insurance companies, is anticipated, but its passage without material change is expected. Representative Adamson, of Georgia, in charge of the bill, opened the debate with a detailed explanation of its provisions. At President Wilson's request Mr. Adamson will seek to have a $10,000 maximum optional policy, reduced in committee to $5,000, restored to the measure.

SENATE GETS BOND BILL. Washington, Sept. 7.—The senate today received the house bill for the day received the house bill for the war bond certificate bill and will begin its consideration according to present plans, immediately after disposition of the pending war revenue bill. The bill passed the house yesterday by unanimous vote after only three days' consideration. Despite republican attacks on various features the bill was not materially amended. Efforts to create a congressional war expenditures committee and to limit the control given to the secretary of the treasury over bonds and certificates were ineffectual.

CORN CROP WILL BE THE BIGGEST EVER

Government Forecast Puts the Total Above the Last Guess.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Forecasts of the principal crops, based on conditions existing Sept. 1, were announced today by the department of agriculture as follows: Spring wheat, 250,000,000; wheat, 668,000,000; corn, 3,248,000,000. Oats, 1,533,000,000 bushels. Barley, 204,000,000 bushels. Buckwheat, 20,200,000 bushels. White potatoes, 462,000,000 bushels. Sweet potatoes, 88,200,000 bushels. In a summary of crop conditions the crop reporting board said: "The great corn crop of 3 1/4 billions of bushels promised on Sept. 1, which is 125,000,000 bushels above any previous year, will be realized fully in the form of sound corn only provided frost holds off unusually late. A good big crop of sound corn is promised if killing frost in the main belt does not come earlier than usual. The indicated outcome results from a big acreage rather than exceptional promise of yield per acre."

CHURCH ORGAN SUPPRESSED BY POPE BENEDICT

Dine, Thursday, Sept. 6.—After the publication of the pope's peace proposals, the Roman Catholic newspaper Corriere Fuli, printed an article in which Italian soldiers were advised that they were freed from the oath of allegiance, and urged to throw down their arms. The paper was suspended for fifteen days and its editor, a priest, and the manager were interned. When Pope Benedict was informed of the incident he ordered that the paper be suppressed permanently.

MORE THAN 8,000

WAVE FAREWELL AS

farewell march. There were more than 8,000 in line as the parade moved out Webster street to Jefferson and across to Calhoun street for the direct march to the waiting train.

Members of the University club carried a large flag into which they invited those lined along the street to toss coins for a fund to be used in adding to the Company E. There was the continuous flash of silver above the taunt flag. It was found that $212 had been given for the food supply of the company when an accounting was made at the station.

Organizations making up the parade were: A platoon of police; members of the Patriotic council, the Elks' band, Grand Army veterans, Spanish-American war veterans, city officials, the military organization from the Bowser Tank works, the signal corps and Company E.

Twenty-six of the civil war veterans were in line. They marched with firm step and head erect. At the Harrison street bridge they formed into line on the east side of the roadway. They bared their venerable heads as the Company E men, the boys who are taking their places in the battle line for freedom, passed for the station.

Hurried to Work.
Many of the clerks in downtown stores and factory workmen attended the program at the Elks' temple and then hastened to their task after bidding "God speed" to the departing warriors.

Citizens lined the walks all along the line of the farewell parade. There was the flutter of handkerchiefs from both sides of the treading company. There was the occasional call of a "pet" name which caused the soldier lad to which the name applied to smile and sometimes to nod through his coat of tan. There was much handclapping, especially from the groups which rushed from downtown stores to shout "good bye" to the square shouldered lads who leave for service.

All There, But—

There were 135 men in line when Company E drew up before the Elks' temple for the departing word of cheer. Every man who has been with the organization during the past two weeks was there. At one time the company numbered 156 men but a part of the youths have since been taken for other lines of service.

"How do the boys feel?" Captain Ray McAdams was asked.

"They feel fit but a little sore," he replied.

The men were all vaccinated on Thursday night and the effects of the inoculation clung to them through the day morning. Some of the company members were not especially strong in the region of their stomachs as a result.

"Not too strong," cautioned some of the lads when several of their friends attempted to shake both hands of the leaving soldier at an arm in an act grew vigorous in their treatment of the left arm.

The Company E members will proceed at once to Fort Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis. They will be fitted up in the latest war equipment.

New members of the company will be unfurnished.

Training will be carried on with vigor. It is expected that the company will be ready for shipment to France in a few weeks.

Were Given Flowers.

Each of the Company E members was the recipient of a bright flower after the men reached the Lake Shore station. Members of the local chapter of W. C. T. U. pinned a posy to the coat lapel of each departing fighter.

To the fragrant bloom was attached a card which bore a verse of scripture. "God bless you," was the word which accompanied the placing of the small bouquets on the coat front of each man.

Rousing Cheers.

"Three cheers for Company E" arose the cry again and again.

"Rah! rah! rah!" followed in rhythmic violence. The spirit was that in which a football team is sent away from its home town to crush the man power of its opponents.

"We Are Back of You."

"Remember, we are all back of you," said Col. D. N. Foster in his five-minute talk, which opened the farewell demonstration.

"Members of Company E, and you other men who are to leave for the front later, we are here to pay you homage," spoke Colonel Foster in opening his speech. "We have assembled in this early dawn of this September morn to honor all of you men who have volunteered for defense of our flag and the keeping of our sacred principles."

"You men of Company E are about to leave us and to endure the privations and trials of days upon the tented field. You will soon be in the trenches, the muddy trenches, of our allies."

"But you have the assurance that men never went into a more just cause. We kept out of this raging war for over two years. We kept out while hundreds of American citizens were killed and drowned on the high seas."

"We tried in many ways to settle the war. We were accused of cowardice. As the months went past we came to understand that this is our war as well as the battle of the allies."

"It is a struggle to the death between the forces of individual liberty and autocracy."

"Now that we have drawn our swords we will not sheath them until victory crowns our efforts."

"I have been spoken to, to say a parting word to you men because I once followed the old flag into the flame and smoke of battle to save the glorious emblem which you are now to follow. I am sure that you will bring the grand emblem back to us with its splendor unsullied."

From Head of a Father.
"I will now introduce to you the Hon. James M. Barrett, who speaks from the heart of a father who has given two sons already into the service," said Colonel D. N. Foster in presenting the second speaker.

Both addresses were greeted by rounds of cheers. In the oration of Mr. Barrett was sprinkled bits of humor, which brought ringing laughter from the gathered crowd.

"The honor given me in the introduction by Colonel Foster is more than I deserve," said James M. Barrett in opening his talk. "I am not as exalted as the noble woman who gave a son in the dark hour of the civil war and then who said, 'I am sorry that I cannot give another to make it an even dozen.'"

Not Farewell.
"We are not here to say 'farewell' in fact. We are here to congratulate you men on your spirit of devotion in volunteering to uphold the honor of our common flag. That flag has waved for more than a century over a free people and has never known a defeat. It never will know a defeat as long as there is a drop of red blood in the veins of American citizens."

Makes 'Em All Sick.
"Two months ago when there was a patriotic parade in Boston a foreign-born woman remarked, as the stars and stripes were carried past:

"That flag makes me sick. It looks like a piece of chocolate candy."

Senator Lodge overheard the statement, and promptly retorted:

"That flag is made of the candy that makes everybody sick who tries to lick it."

"You will pardon the prophecy but that flag is going to lead the men who will give the Kaiser the dauntless licking he ever had in his life."

We Are Peaceful.
"Americans are a peaceful people. They have built a democracy upon a peaceful principle. The plan is directly opposed to German 'culture,' which has instilled into that nation's science and religion a doctrine of slaughter and destruction."

"This war is not of our making. We were forced into the conflict."

"When Germany invaded Belgium she made war on America. By that act she sought to destroy the principles which America defends. She trampled the sacred right of a free people to pursue their way without violence."

"The issue is one of right against might. It is one of military autocracy attempting to crush out a weaker people against the God-given privilege of freedom."

Will Throttle Treason.
"We Americans people behind you departing men. We are back of you in heart and soul."

"We can't all be soldiers. Some of us have witnessed the passing of too many summers and winters. We would be unnecessary baggage in your company. But we will do our bit and our best here at home. We will scold traitors and treason whenever it shows itself to stab you brave men in the back."

Will Be a Hot Time.
"When you come back after the war, we assure you we will have 'A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight' for you."

"Occasionally we hear a person with a soft heart and softened head say that we should stay out of this war till Germany comes after us. Is that the way we treat mad dogs? We go after them while they are in the street."

"Germany counted wrong when she thought that the German men and woman who are in this land would stay by the 'Fatherland.' These people will be loyal to the country which has given them the principle of freedom and a bounteous prosperity. With we American born folks these people resent the German spy system and the less sea warfarer her plotting in Mexico and her atrocities in Belgium."

"We are sure that you men will fight valiantly as true Americans. In spirit we go with you and are back of you."

"God bless you and bring every one safely back to us."

"Fritz" Was There.
"Fritz" is the dutchiest fellow to go with Company E. He has been training with might and main for two weeks. He was on board the train long before his comrades on Friday morning. He rode in the baggage car.

"Fritz" is a bull terrier dog who has attached himself to the company. He has been with the boys constantly of late. He will make the trip to Indianapolis and maybe to Flanders as a mascot of the Fort Wayne fighters.

Lunches by Red Cross.
In the baggage car of the departing train were stored 135 well-filled lunch baskets. The food is the contribution of the local Red Cross society, which organization has in hand the furnishing of rations to soldiers which leave the city. The lunches were taken to the train Friday morning and neatly stored away under the direction of Red Cross workers.

Add to Mess Fund.
While a part of the members of the University club were counting the money gathered for the Company E mess fund, at the Lake Shore depot, several other members of the organization were parading along the train offering to take more money for the fund.

When the train was gone there was a recount taken. The total now at hand for the Company E food supply is $241.58.

U-BOAT WAR HAS FAILED

best to defend. The Russian leaders were preparing the machine which had broken down, and he was confident that in the end they would succeed.

"What I am concerned about most," the premier went on, "is not the effect which the failure of Russian would have on the war but the harmful effect it would have on the cause of democracy in the world."

It took as long time, said Mr. Lloyd-George, for oppressed people to get accustomed to freedom as it did for free people to get accustomed to oppression.

"One thing gives me satisfaction," he continued. "German attempts to sow dissension between the allies east and the allies west failed. Germany only decided to invade Russia with the sword because all her other methods and machinations failed."

AERIAL ATTACK BY BERMAN'S ON THE AMERICANS

ranked immediately with iron discipline and proceed to prompt and decisive action. The proletariat, it says, must rally around its organizations and by a vigorous effort save the country and the revolution. The Semitic Volia, organ of the revolutionary socialists, says: "History will show on whom lies the blame for our military debacle. Meanwhile the situation demands that all internal political quarrels be forgotten and that an energetic and unanimous effort be made to face the enemy."

SOME PEACE TALK.
Amsterdam, Sept. 7.—The statement that the German foreign secretary, Dr. von Kuhlmann, is in favor of a negotiated peace is made in a dispatch to the Frankfurter Zeitung from Vienna, which the secretary recently visited.

"Dr. von Kuhlmann," said a steady manner," the dispatch says, "made a good impression in Vienna, especially as he, like the imperial chancellor, is free from all Chauvinism regarding the situation, and in favor of peace by an understanding."

PLANS FOR ALSACE-LORRAINE.
Copenhagen, Sept. 7.—It is reported by the Vossische Zeitung, of Berlin, that the question of Alsace-Lorraine probably will be discussed at the session of the reichstag, which is to be opened Sept. 26.

Presumably the discussion will relate to the erection of Alsace-Lorraine into a monarchy within the German empire.

A minor reichstag reform bill promised by the government, granting some thirty additional seats in the reichstag to the larger cities and most thickly populated industrial districts will be introduced. Other bills will be brought forward to deal with the falling birth-rate.

The Saxon government has refused to introduce universal suffrage on the basis of the reichstag franchise for the diet of Saxony.

According to the strategic experts Gen. Cadorna has only to obtain secure hold on Monte San Gabriele to give him complete dominance of the Biansizza plateau and the country far to the south, making it possible to push his way into the chiavennas valley and drive a wedge between the two Austrian armies.

The southern army, which directly bars his way to Trieste. Several times the San Gabriele peak has been in Italian hands, but the Austrians have battled desperately for this vital position and each time surged back again. There has been no let up in the Italian pressure, however, and it now seems as if the decisive phase of the battle had been reached.

The continued retreat of the Russian armies has not yet caused the Russian authorities to fear for Petrograd, according to current advice, but apparently has had the effect of weakening most of the radical elements in the capital to the necessity of strengthening Russia's powers of resistance. Their newspapers are now urging the dropping of internal political quarrels, enforcing discipline and presenting a united front to the enemy.

The retreat of the Russian armies apparently is continuing. The gap between the rear guard and the German advance are now beginning to be reported. This may indicate that the Russians are approaching a line where they will attempt to settle down and offer resistance.

There is comparatively little activity except for air raids and raiding operations on the Franco-Belgian front.

The Germans, however, gained a slight advantage over the British in minor fighting last night, driving the latter from positions they have gained in local attacks yesterday north of Frezenberg, on the Flanders line.

Germs on air raids on hospitals behind the lines in France are continuing. In their latest exploit of this nature the aviators picked out camps in a coast village, manned by Americans. Unofficial dispatches from the front announce that an officer of the American army medical corps was killed and three others seriously wounded in this attack, while five Americans were among sixteen of the rank and file wounded. Two other persons besides the American officer were killed, the victims being in the ranks.

the responsibility that has been placed upon us.

Pershing then presented President Poincare and the president, stepping into the semi-circle, removed his cap as he began to speak in a clear far-reaching voice.

He spoke in French, but already a majority of the expeditionary force are acquainted with the French language and they followed each sentence closely.

Poincare's Remarks.
"It makes me very happy," President Poincare said, "to be able to bring to the congratulations of the French republic to this very fine army commanded by General Pershing, and which I have just seen marching before me in such a magnificent manner. It filled me with emotion at seeing so many gallant officers and so many brave soldiers, who faced the dangers of the sea to come to the soil of France to defend the common cause of the allies and to consecrate their lives, if need be, to the common cause of liberty. As President Wilson said the other day, we are all fighting for the same ends and the interests of the free United States are at stake everywhere. The allied armies are at grips with the enemy whether it be in Flanders, before Verdun or on the Isonzo."

"Today, in all great cities of America is being celebrated the anniversary of the birth of Lafayette. Today, also, I will visit the tombs of the heroes of the battle of the Marne, the men fallen in that advance guard of the armies, which are now fighting for right and civilization. These are two countries celebrating today two common anniversaries which must draw them still more closely together and inspire them in the struggle in which they are engaged."

Acclaims United States.
President Poincare referred briefly to the gift of a flag from the mayor of Philadelphia to the municipal council of Paris and concluded his address with the cry: "Long live President Wilson! Long live the free United States!"

President Poincare was warmly applauded and then the officers gave cheer and a cheer. The cheering was taken up by the troops in the distance and continued while the president and his party were moving off the reviewing field. One non-commissioned officer, who stood near the party during the speech was greeted by some of his men when he rejoined his command with the exclamation: "What did he say?"

"I don't know exactly," was the reply, "but I think he said 'Give 'em hell.'"

"That's the stuff," yelled a word of private in chorus, and the word ran

Tore Up Appeal.
John Till, Armenian, and Nick Pope, Rumanian, both of near Huntestown, were the two representatives from the rural district of Allen county to leave for Fort Taylor Friday morning.

"I thought your wife made an appeal on your behalf," said one of the county exemption board men on Thursday afternoon when Nick Pope declared his desire to be transported for training at once.

"Me go like this," said Nick, and he gestured an imitation of the action required to tear up exemption claim papers.

WABASH RAILROAD TO RAZE OLD DEPOT

Yard Master's Office Will Be Built on Station Site.

The old Wabash station building, towering at the east of South Calhoun street and just beyond the Calhoun street subway, is to be torn away. A part of the structure has been used as a depot for the Wabash railroad since the day when the line was put through Fort Wayne.

Work of tearing down the old red station building will start soon. It is hoped by Wabash officials to have the structure completely removed before cold weather. An office building for the Wabash yardmaster will be reared on the station site, it is planned.

Wabash Official Dances called upon the board of works Friday afternoon and asked permission to tear away the abandoned depot building. He was given the hearty consent of the works board members.

TROOPS REACH CAMP.

LOSES PAY AS STATESMAN.
Washington, Sept. 7.—A congressman who joins the army automatically vacates his seat and is not entitled to further congressional pay. Sergeant-at-Arms Gordon, on the advice of attorneys, has so decided in the case of Representative Laguardia, of New York, who joined the signal corps late in August, and now has claimed his pay for that month. "If the Germans don't get me, I'll get that pay," Laguardia today declared. "I'll take the case up at the close of the war."

LIGAMENTS TORN.
George Christian, of the insurance department of the Tri-State Loan and Trust company, was painfully injured Friday when ligaments in his right leg were torn when he stepped out of a coach.

CORN PRICES RISE AS TEMPERATURE FALLS

Market Takes Sharp Turn Upward on Unfavorable Weather Reports.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Sharply higher prices for corn resulted today from cold, rainy weather, likely to postpone the maturity of the corn crop and thus to increase the peril of frost damage. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/4 to 1 1/2 higher than December at 113 to 114 and May at 119, were followed by only slight reactions from initial top figures.

The close was nervous, 2 to 2 1/2 net higher at $1.14 1/2 to $1.14 3/4, for December and $1.10 1/2 to $1.10 3/4, for May.

Oats ascended with corn. Estimates were current that the government crop would indicate an increase of 25,000,000 bushels in spring wheat as compared with the production in August. No estimate was looked for on winter wheat. Advances in hog quotations carried provisions up grade.

Following in the winter wheat belt has been under the most favorable weather and soil condition. It was said the acreage promised to be the largest ever seeded.

RECEIPTS HEAVY AT CITY SCALES

Much Concern is Felt Over Small Receipts of Wheat —Railroads Blamed.

With the exception of corn receipts at the city scales Friday were exceptionally heavy. Eighteen loads of oats brought from 56c to 61c a bushel. There were twenty-five loads of hay that brought $14 to $16 a ton. But one load of corn was received.

No change in wheat prices have been made for several days, which, however, is not true of corn and oats. Hog prices continue unsteady and uncertain.

There is much concern over the small receipts of wheat at marketing centers and the blame is placed by many upon the railroads. Complaints of difficulty in getting cars are increasing daily. Preference must be given to the movement of foodstuffs or the transportation situation will be worse than last spring and winter. The opinion prevails that many farmers are holding their grain despite the set price, being encouraged in this perhaps by the relatively high price of corn.

TOUCH OF MILITARY LIFE AT ELKS' PICNIC

Drill Will Be Given Under the Direction of Captain Ranke.

The military exercise drill given to a bunch of Elks a few weeks ago by Capt. Fred Eggeman has interested a number of local Elks in military work. As a result they have prevailed upon Captain Ranke, who is a Spanish-American war veteran and an enthusiastic Elk, to give them a real course in military work. It is planned to have the men meet at the Elks Country club this coming Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, take a long hike up the St. Joe river, then back to the Country club at 6:00 o'clock and partake of a meal prepared by the hikers themselves. A campfire and social session until 9:00 o'clock and then roll into their blankets under tents that have been erected by the Elks' social session committee for the Elks "Pic of Picnics" to be held on Sunday. If the weather should be rainy they will use the large covered pavilion. Taps will sound at 5:30 a. m. and the squad will take an early morning walk along the St. Joe road, have breakfast at 7:30 a. m. and spend the rest of the day at the Elks picnic.

To Look After Visitors.

Chairman Charles A. Spanley has appointed a reception committee to look after delegations from Marion, Decatur, Defiance and the other places from which Elks are coming to attend the Elks picnic. The committee is composed of the following men:

H. A. Van Ausdel, Louis A. Centlivre, Clem Fox, Albert C. Heckler, Darrell D. Hallenstein, E. W. Cook, A. A. Serva, Jas. L. Shields, Wm. C. Rustetter, F. J. McDonald, Wilho J. Ungenach, S. W. JUDGE HENCH HONORED.

Port Royal Times Tells of His Election as Commander.

"Ex-Judge Samuel M. Hench, of Fort Wayne, Ind., was elected commander of the Grand Army of the Republic for the department of Indiana, at the state encampment of that patriotic order, which was held at Indianapolis on the 9th, 10th and 11th days of May.

"As is well known in this neighborhood, Judge Hench was born in Turbett township, this county, and he enlisted in Co. F, 126th regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, and was severely wounded at the battle of Fredericksburg, Va., on the 13th day of December, 1862. It will be further recalled that the late John P. Wharton, of this borough, was the captain of that company.

"The election of Judge Hench as department commander of the G. A. R. for Indiana, makes two members of the 126th regiment who have attained said honor; the other comrade being the Hon. Thad Mahon, ex-congressman from this district, now deceased, who was department commander for Pennsylvania several years ago."

Judge Hench has just returned from Osgood, Ripley county, where on Tuesday and Wednesday he attended a reunion of his old comrades-in-arms, who served in the Eighty-third Indiana infantry during the civil war.

REPAINTING EIFFEL TOWER.

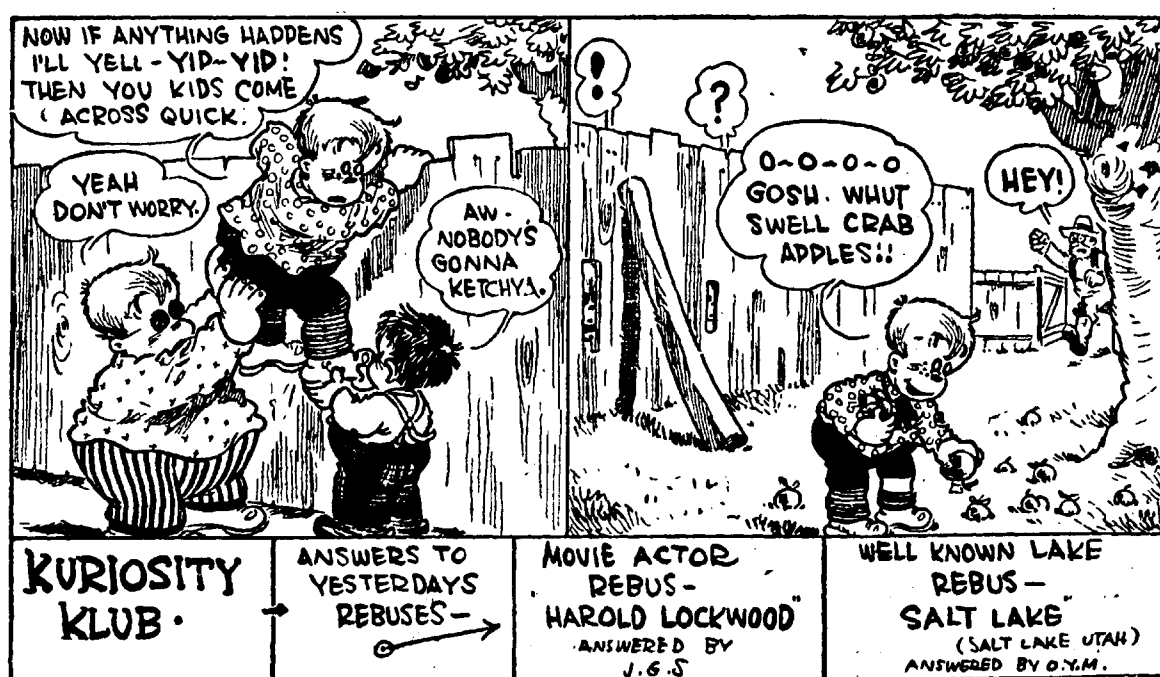

Paris, Aug. 7.—The Eiffel Tower is to be repainted. This is a task which will occupy about three months and require more than 40,000 pounds of paint. The outbreak of war in 1914 postponed the work. The structure was last painted in 1907, when a coat of yellow ochre was applied. The Eiffel Tower has had a curious fate. Built as an attraction for a world's fair—nearly thirty years ago, it was condemned as a monstrosity by those who believed themselves inspired by purely artistic feeling. Since the war, it has paid for its existence over and over again as a wireless telegraphy station.

Charles A. Kelso, age forty-four years, of Raspeburg, Md., is a blacksmith as well as a lawyer. He has been a blacksmith for twenty-three years. In 1915 he was graduated from the University of Maryland and took up the practice of law in addition to his other work.

WHITE SOX COMING FOR GAME TUESDAY

The Management Announces That Popular Prices Will Prevail.

Local baseball fans are looking forward with great expectancy to the game to be played at League park next Tuesday afternoon between the Chicago White Sox and Vandy's Central leaguers. Announcement has been made by the management of the local Central league team that popular prices will prevail. Downtown ticket offices will be established at Shuman & Dennis' cigar store, 822 Calhoun street, and Al Rieget's cigar store, northeast corner of Calhoun and Main.

Plans are said to be under way for the booking of three other major league teams here later in the season.

Pennant Dope.
By virtue of wins for both Chicago and Boston yesterday, the interval between pursuer and pursued in the American league race was not altered. The White Sox still lead the red variety of hose by seven games. However, the White Sox victory served the purpose of adding one game to the limited number that will be needed to beat Boston to the flag. The Chicago leaders must engage in eighteen more conflicts before completing their schedule. Boston must play twenty-six more before finishing its string of 154 championship games. If the White Sox take nine more games their figures will be ninety-eight wins and fifty-six defeats. Boston can only tie this mark by winning twenty out of twenty-six unless the game postponed at Detroit should not be played off. In that event Boston would take the pennant by virtue of having the same number of victories and one less defeat because of having played in one game less. If the Sox take ten more and Boston twenty-six contests the final standing would be: Won. Lost. Pct. Chicago..... 95 55 .643 Boston..... 98 56 .626

WILL START FOOTBALL.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 7.—The annual drive for the pigskin will be on in earnest in most of the colleges of the "Little Nine" conference next week. According to Frederick C. Brown, athletic director at Bradley, who is president of the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic association, the "Little Nine" war will leave the athletes of that organization practically unharmed.

Where some will be called to the colors there is little doubt that a greater number of recruits will, in turn, report for each branch of athletics. There is a possibility that compulsory athletic training will be handed every male student of Bradley institutions at Peoria.

INDIANS DEFEAT PIRATES.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 7.—Cleveland defeated Pittsburgh here yesterday in an exhibition game by a score of 2 to 1. Honus Wagner's two-base wild throw of Billings' grounder and Torleson's two-base hit resulted in victory for the American league team.

HE STARTED IN AT $10 A WEEK, BUT HE NOW LEADS THE CHAMPION GIANTS AND GETS $50,000 A YEAR

Slim McGraw they called him, when he was getting $10 a week as captain of the Wellsville (N. C.) Tan Barks.

That was twenty-five years ago, when baseball still was wearing short pants and the game was not so organized as today. Iawn McGraw is the only man who remains of that team still playing the game.

The rest have become grocers or bakers or handiest makers.

Murphy weighed fifty pounds less than he does now. As captain of the team he got his first opportunity to show his ability in leading a nine to victory.

It took him twenty-five years to become the greatest baseball manager in history and leader of the finest combination of players that ever won a national league championship. McGraw is getting $50,000 a year.

Contestants Assigned to Teams by Drawing Names From Hats

Rifle and Revolver Club Arranges for Cash Prize Tourney.

The contestants have been assigned to teams for the competition for the cash prize offered by F. E. Zollars to members of the Fort Wayne Rifle and Revolver club.

The conditions of the contest are that each team shall consist of five men besides the captain. The captain must be a member who has qualified as marksman, sharpshooter or expert, and the five men on the team must be members who have not qualified the different teams to be made up by lottery.

About a month will be given to the various captains to train their teams for the competition which will be held on a date to be specified later. The drawing of the teams was carried out with almost as much care as the drafting of the national army. The drawing was held in the office of E. A. Wagner, president of the club, at the General Electric company's plant, the names being drawn by the Misses Moile Kaiser and Mildred Sauerwein. Mr. G. R. Gavahn, secretary, C. E. Archibald, executive officer, and W. J. Hockett, head of the educational department of the General Electric company, were also present.

The names of the five captains were placed in one hat and drawn out successively to determine the order of the teams. The names of the other contestants were placed in another hat and drawn out one at a time. The first name drawn was assigned to team 1, the second to team 2, etc., until five names had been drawn which gave one member to each team. Then the sixth name drawn was assigned to team 1, the seventh to team 2, etc. The result of the drawing is as follows:

First Team—J. W. Patch, captain; E. Richter, Y. Pradbury, L. H. Shields, John Dickens, Ed Slagle.

Second Team—H. A. Hartman, captain; H. C. Richter, R. M. Strodel, J. C. Townsend, Al Uimer, C. A. Hatch.

Third Team—J. E. Hall, captain; Rex Sovie, Glen Bente, W. H. Fell, H. E. Wineland, Oscar Bender.

Fourth Team—Otto Brintzenhofe, captain; E. P. Offenlock, Clem Elbersson, Ray Berdelman, W. Richter, H. C. Bradley.

Fifth Team—X. J. Divens, captain; Walter Kent, Paul Shivers, F. R. Neff, Leo Duniform, C. G. Coughlin.

EMERALD ISLE IS GOLDEN ISLE NOW

Correspondent Finds War is Greatly Enriching the Irish People.

BY KENNETH W. PAYNE.

Dublin, Sept. 7.—"The Emerald Isle has become lately an isle of gold and diamonds."

"America's last year spree of war-time prosperity has been emulated here, on a smaller scale. War profits have converted this land, which used to complain of poverty, into country rejoicing in new riches and reaching out for more."

Without standing sponsor for these assertions, made to American correspondents here by enthusiastic advocates of the great Irish convention now held at work, I can say from personal observation that today in Ireland there are few signs of the misery it is said used to mark Irish life.

The Germans, and certain Sinn Feiners, have attempted to draw a parallel between Ireland and stricken Belgium. As a matter of fact, Ireland is a veritable paradise compared to Belgium, crushed under frightful fines and taxes, devastated, enslaved, its industries ruined, and its populace decimated.

Here in Ireland the war seems far away. Food is excellent, plentiful, comparatively cheap. Life is easy, pleasant and far less oppressed by the war than in England. Those in America who sympathize with the Sinn Fein movement for independence must henceforth buttress their sympathy only with visions and ideals of nationality.

Arthur Griffith, Sinn Fein leader and editor of their paper, Nationality, declares no home rule should be acceptable which did not give Ireland the right to raise and maintain its own army and navy. He declares Norway and Sweden, on less taxation, are able to do this.

A member of the nationalist party, believing in home rule, but not in an Irish republic, answered:

"Norway and Sweden support their own navies by their own taxation, and as a result are so pitifully weak they have had to endure the loss of nearly half their merchant marine through German submarines. I question whether there would be any comfort for Ireland in independence of that kind."

America's vast aviation plans have brought especial joy to Ireland. It takes 180 yards of the finest cambric to make the wings of a single one of the thousands of airplanes America plans to build. "And this cloth can come only from Ireland," say the enthusiasts. "Irish linen, made from Irish flax, can have practically monopoly prices henceforth."

Flax is Ireland's prime industrial crop. This year it covers 107,400 of Erin's acres—an increase over last year of 15,800 acres. Said one authority: "America's huge military aviation scheme alone will call for over nine million yards of Irish linen, a strip of cambric over 5,000 miles long. In one airplane, the monster ship's wings would span the whole Atlantic from New York to Queens-town."

Ireland expects also to be the terminus of the trans-Atlantic aerial service, which aviation experts are predicting after the war.

While the Irish farmer is prosperous as never before, the industrial north, especially the Belfast ship-building district, has had its war prosperity. And to Dublin the Irish convention has brought not only crowds and money, but the dawn of a new hope for a self-governed and prosperous Ireland.

A Home Recipe For Removing Wrinkles

Who will blame the modern woman for trying to look as young and attractive as she reasonably can? Why should she be placed at a disadvantage in numerous ways by wearing wrinkles, if she can avoid these hateful marks of advancing age? Few women, however, know what to do to effectually rid themselves of wrinkles or sagging. Most of the advertised preparations are unsatisfactory and very expensive. But a very simple and harmless home remedy, which any woman can make, will work wonders where all the patent preparations fail.

Buy an ounce of powdered sassafras at any drug store. Dissolve the whole ounce in a half pint of witch hazel and use as a wash lotion. The results are practically instantaneous. Marked improvement is noticed immediately after the very first trial. Wrinkles and sagging are corrected and the face feels so refreshed and invigorated.

CALL IS ISSUED FOR NINETY-FOUR MORE MEN

Third in Whitley County Brings Total Exhaustion of Men to 600.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 1.—The Whitley county draft board Thursday issued a call to 94 more men of the draft roll of 1,242 names in the county, this being the third call, which brings the total exhaustion of names to 600 even. The 94 men will be examined Tuesday, September 12, in the Commercial club rooms. So far 176 men have been certified to the district board. Of this number, 41 have been granted temporary exemption, and 68 have been held for service. Fifty-one men are yet needed to complete the county's quota of 119 men, and with only a few left to be certified to the district board by the local board, it is certain that more men must be examined in the county.

Columbia City Brief Items.
Mrs. Irvin Mullendore, aged 42, of Washington township, received a fracture and dislocation of the left arm at the elbow, a Colles fracture of the wrist on the same arm, and broken bones in both hands, while her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Eugene Mullendore and her son, Eugene, were badly bruised when the horse they were driving toward Peabody Thursday forenoon at about 10 o'clock, suddenly started to run, from no apparent reason, and upset the buggy in going around a corner. The accident was witnessed by Mrs. Lew Long, mother of Mrs. Irvin Mullendore, who was assisted in to the Long home. A physician was summoned from South Whitley. The rig and horse were slightly scathed.

Prof. L. S. Davis, of the chemistry department of Indiana university, Thursday and Friday, took the place of Prof. Leiper, called from his work at the county teachers' institute, by the critical illness of his father, in Arkansas. Prof. Davis, Friday afternoon, speaks to the teachers in the interest of the state council of defense.
The will of the late Charles W. Alexander, of Washington township, who left an estate worth $60,000, was filed here Thursday afternoon by Attorneys Gates & Whiteleather. The document was drawn up August 15, five days before the death of Mr. Alexander. There are eleven items. The estate is composed of 420 acres of the finest land in the county, 80 acres of which had previously been devised to a son, I. G. Alexander, who, in the will, is freed from timber reservations made by the decedent. The widow, Lydia Alexander, receives the household goods, $1,000 cash and all farm implements, as well as the landlord's share in the crops on the 100 acre farm, on which she resides, and which she also receives in fee simple under the will. A son, Wilbur, receives one-third of the income from the crops of this farm. The son, R. Wilbur, Alexander, gets 80 acres of land, and is to pay the estate $2,500 in two years. The daughter, Grace, gets $6,000 cash. The three sons, I. Gilbert, George O. and Leon C. Alexander, have each previously received the sum of $6,000. The executrix, Grace E. Alexander, daughter, is directed to operate and sell when advisable a 160 acre farm, dividing all proceeds from the income or sale of the farm equally among the five children, who receive all personal property not otherwise disposed of in the will.
The roofing of the new city hall awaits the arrival of stone pillars which must be set in place before the work can be completed. The basement and first main floor are ready for plastering.
John S. Kriegbaum, soldier, of Albion, and son of George and Iona Kriegbaum, who came to Churubusco Wednesday, while on his way from the border to Washington, was wedded Wednesday evening at Churubusco to Miss Wilma Kocher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kocher. The groom left early Thursday morning for Washington to report for duty. A sister of the bride, Miss Mary H. Kocher, was wedded Thursday morning at 9 o'clock to Paul A. Fighle-stahler, a chemist of Birmingham, Ala.

DEMOCRACY HAVING A GROWTH IN JAPAN

Monarchy and Popular Liberty Expected to Get on Side by Side.

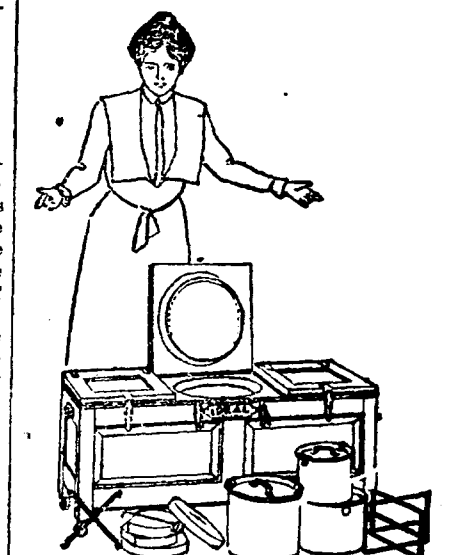

Osaka, Japan, Sept. 7.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.) The trend of democracy in Japan is discussed in a leading article by the Osaka Mainichi, which questions the policy of the Terauchi cabinet because it is "eager for the preservation of clan and bureaucratic influence." "For our part," the paper says, "we believe in a possibility of the harmonious existence side by side of monarchy and democracy in Japan. The throne has made it clear to the people that democratic principles should be made the basis of administration. In these circumstances there is no need for the surprise which seems to be evinced by Count Terauchi and other bureaucrats at the news of the Russian revolution. "Great Britain, Japan's ally, the United States, Russia, as well as China, are all countries of democratic sympathies, and so there is no justifiable cause for fear if democratic ideas have caught hold of the Japanese people. Even in Germany—a veritable stronghold of militarists and bureaucrats—democracy appears to be making steady progress." The newspaper concludes: "Notwithstanding the general tendency in the world in favor of democracy, the Terauchi cabinet, which is eager for the preservation of clan and bureaucratic influence, seems bent upon checking the growth of democratic ideas, contrary to the general current of the thought throughout the world. Even the leaders of political parties professing democratic sympathies, do not hesitate to bow their heads to bureaucracy. The position of democracy in Japan, therefore, may well be imagined. The wisdom of the Terauchi government in attempting to stem the rising tide of democracy is open to grave doubt."

TELLS OF BATTLE OF VIMY RIDGE

Henry Strohm, of Canadian Army, is at Parents' Home at Craigville.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 7.—Walking with a cane as the result of shrapnel wounds in the leg received in trench fighting in France, Sergeant Henry Strohm, of the Canadian army, former clerk in the Bluffton postoffice, arrived at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Strohm, at Craigville, yesterday afternoon for a brief visit. He told a Banner reporter over the telephone this morning that he will be in Bluffton tomorrow enroute back to Canada. Within two weeks, he said, he will be back on the firing line.

Strohm said he was in the hospital five months as the result of the wounds he received. It is said he was at the front just three weeks when he received the injuries and was given a furlough and permitted to come home. When he arrived home Strohm was dressed in the British uniform.

Strohm received his injuries in the battle of Vimy Ridge, one of the greatest battles of the European war. After recovering sufficiently he was returned to Canada and then went to Detroit, where he took special treatment. The word that he was with the Canadian troops came as a complete surprise to Strohm's many friends in this city. It is said he enlisted last summer and spent considerable time in France.

TWO PRISONERS ESCAPE.

Two Others Too Large to Crawl Through Hole.

Marion, Ind., Sept. 7.—James Penrod, charged with stealing brass, and Preston Cooper, serving jail sentence for petit larceny, escaped from the county jail here last night by removing a window and forcing a side bar that had been saved in two by another prisoner several weeks ago. Two other prisoners of the same ward were too large to crawl through the opening made by Penrod and Cooper. O. P. Wright, sheriff, says he has been unable to get any appropriation to repair the jail, and now has only one ward in which he can lock prisoners.

FIRST REUNION.

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 7.—The first annual reunion of the Robinette family was held Sunday under the large sugar tree on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Robinette, one-half mile south of Jefferson Center in Whitley county. The forenoon was spent in visiting among the old folks, while the younger set enjoyed themselves at games. As there was a small shower at noon the bountiful dinner was served on a large table erected on the porch. The afternoon was spent in taking snapshots of comical groups, joy-riding and visiting, interrupted at intervals by music furnished by some of the young ladies. No decision was reached as to where the next reunion will be held. Those present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Newton Robinette, daughter Florence and son Paul; Lieut. Martin Walker, of Toledo, O.; Murvin Smith, of Akron, O.; and Miss Mae Dunfee, of Columbia City.

BURGULARS AT LARGE.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 7.—The persons who committed the daylight robberies in Kendallville Tuesday, making a successful getaway, with money and jewelry, valued at over $600, are still at large, and have likely evaded authorities. Officials are convinced that the robberies were committed by the same crowd, as the white Stetson hat, a scarf pin, and a pocketbook belonging to Percy Munaw were found at a Kendallville home, where the burglars visited. Since the robberies it was also discovered that one of the robbers had handed the ticket agent at the interurban station a Columbian fifty-cent piece for a railroad fare. The coin was the property of Mr. Munaw. This leads the authorities to believe the robbers boarded an interurban car, southbound.

AFFECTED BY MUSIC.

Huntington, Ind., Sept. 7.—When Company C, Fourth Indiana Infantry, marched through the streets of Huntington, Wednesday, just before boarding a train for Fort Benjamin Harrison, W. P. Moffett, a veteran of the civil war, "just had to do something." The martial music of the band set his feet to going, and they carried him into the column. He caught step with the sergeant acting as left guide, and marched the entire distance with the men, showing the spectators that he was still supple and active despite his age. The company was led through the streets by the three men who left for Louisville, Ky., Wednesday morning, and H. W. Elser, county conscription agent.

CELEBRATION AT BOURBON.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 7.—A large delegation of Warsaw citizens accompanied the Company H boys to Bourbon Wednesday evening and witnessed the parade and program given there by Company H, of Warsaw, Company I, of Plymouth, and the Third Regiment band, of South Bend. They arrived there at 6 o'clock. While the concert was in progress the companies were marched to the M. E. church where they were served with ice cream and cake. Bourbon is to be congratulated on the preparations which were made for the celebration in the way of decorations and provisions of supper and refreshments for the visitors.

KILLED AT ANDERSON.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 7.—Mrs. Joe Henry went to Anderson last evening to join her husband in attending the funeral of Mr. Henry's brother, Charles Henry, aged 37, who died Tuesday night as the result of an accident Sunday. Henry's truck was struck by a Big Four train at the Eleventh street crossing, the horse to the outfit being instantly killed. The deceased was unmarried and was the youngest of three brothers, the other two being Joe Henry, of this city, and Howard Henry, of Aurora, Ill.

WATCH STOLEN.

WAR CHOOSES NAMES FOR ALL FALL COLORS.

Paris and the war dominate the colors to be worn this fall. The names all have a sound reminiscent of the great conflict.

The rare rutilant or rust, munition gray, brownish olive, plum, pheasant and golden brown, known as chat-aigle, canard and duck green, Burgundy wine color, greeny grays, steely and metallic, and Blue de Mer, Blue Soldat and Bleu Poilu, which is an army base.

The newest of them are all the rust and greenish gray. There are also reds and lilacs and old rose.

In this country the decree is for lemon, white apricot, cerise and deep old rose for evening, and blues and blacks for all the time. Tans and khakis will be good, and there are lovely combinations, such as sapphire blue and salmon pink.

While China and Japan take rice with chopsticks, Korea eats hers with a spoon. Prediction is that the next step will usher in the broad fork. One reason for this peculiarity is that in the annals of Confucius a record exists that the master ate his millet, not with chopsticks, but with a spoon. Every saying that pertains to Confucius is reverently regarded in Korea.

Like Dreamy Alligator, Senator Chamberlain Snaps When Awakened.

(Staff Special.)
Washington, Sept. 7.—Did you ever watch a large alligator in a zoo? Eyes closed, body a log of wood, feet flopped on the ground, he looks absolutely dead. Poke him with a cane and watch the eyes open, the body lunge quickly forward and the iron jaws snap viciously.

G. E. CHAMBERLAIN.

Without insinuating that he is reptilian or ugly, Senator George E. Chamberlain, of Oregon, reminds you of that alligator. See him when he is in charge of a bill. The sultry air of the senate chamber seems to put him in a somnolent condition. He lolls way back in a chair. His eyes seem closed. He looks the picture of repose. Then Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, makes a wink, nasty fling and quicker than a wink, Chamberlain is on his feet denouncing the Oklahoma man. You could hardly realize there was all that fire and swiftness in Chamberlain's makeup. He has steered to passage more important measures to help this country win the war than any other senator.

That Chamberlain stands for a bill recommends it to his colleagues. He is solid. There is no fluff, no flub-dub about him. He does not indulge in rhetoric.

The same qualities that commended Chamberlain to Wilson and the senate made his fortunes as a southern-born democrat in the republican state of Oregon. Out there he was legislator, district attorney general, then governor for two terms and is now in his second term as senator. Following is a list of bills he has put over as chairman of the committee on military affairs:

- Creating aviation section of the army signal corps.
- Revision of articles of war by army appropriation bill amendment.
- Authorizing sales by supply department of army to certain military schools and colleges having army officers detailed as teachers of military science.
- March 17, 1916, increasing the army in an emergency to its maximum during troubles on Mexican border.

Increasing number of cadets at military academy.

Further reorganizing the army and bringing it up to 325,000.

Creating council of national defense. Selective draft act.

Providing $540,000,000 for aviation program.

As Gore refused to back the administration's food control bill, Chamberlain steered it to passage after one of the longest and most acrimonious debates of recent years.

People Speak Well of Chamberlain's Tablets.

"I have been selling Chamberlain's Tablets for about two years and heard such good reports from my customers that I concluded to give them a trial myself, and can say that I do not believe there is another preparation of the kind equal to them," writes G. A. McBride, Headford, Ont. If you are troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They will do you good.—Advertisement.

A FACT—The Superiority of Trivers $15 Guaranteed Clothes—And Why!

RIGHT now, we might tell you that the new Fall and Winter Trivers clothes are a startling achievement.

We might tell you about their style superiority, the abundance of these styles, the greatness of the variety and sizes, the perfection of workmanship.

We might tell you about all these features—and a great many more. But we prefer that you establish them for yourself.

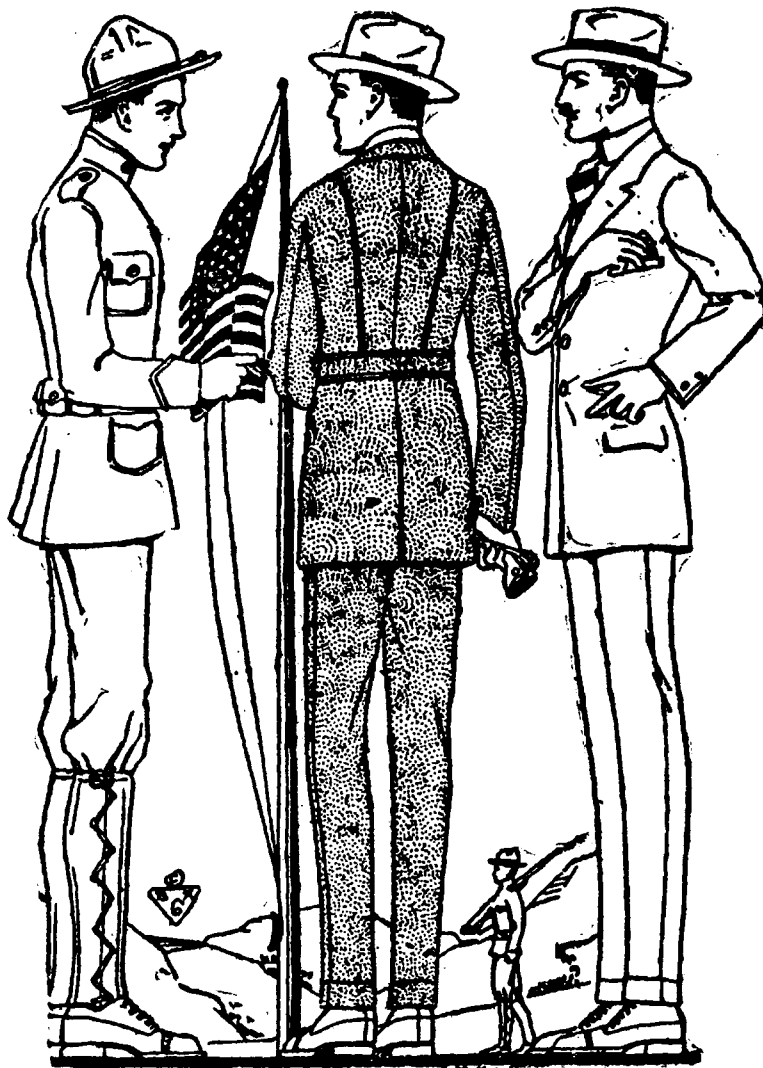

We want you to find in these clothes your ideal of what clothes should be.

We want you to personally "discover" the clothes that you have been waiting for and hoping for these many years.

We want you to set your expectation just as high as you possibly can. Then come in and examine these new Trivers clothes and see if you are obliged to make one single compromise.

We ask you to do this for yourself. We shall be quite content to abide by your decision.

And now, just a few words in explanation of the success which has come to 16 Trivers Clothes Shops in such generous measure.

924 Calhoun Street

FIRST and foremost, let it be understood that Trivers "maker-to-wearer" clothes are built not for price—but for quality.

As we have repeatedly stated in our public advertisements:—

"It is by no means difficult to manufacture clothes for a price, but it is quite a different matter to produce clothes of 100 point excellence and still maintain a price of always

$15.00

There you have the very essence of the Trivers idea.

There you have the compelling motive behind every suit or overcoat which has ever left the Trivers Factory in New York.

There you have the reason for the astounding value which you will find in the new Fall and Winter Trivers Clothes.

So long as Trivers Clothes are made, we shall unceasingly maintain our policy of making only good clothes—with quality our first and foremost consideration.

It is a matter of public knowledge that the cost of raw material and labor has vastly increased during the past twelve months.

Notwithstanding this fact, however, we pledge ourselves to jealously guard even the quality of every thread which goes into the tailoring of Trivers clothes.

On this basis, we ask you to buy Trivers clothes—not because of their price—but because of their label and what it stands for—Lowest In Price and Highest In Quality.

ELEVEN BILLION WAR BOND BILL IS PASSED

House Puts Measure Over Without Making Any Material Change.

BY BASIL M. MANLY.

(Staff Special.)
Washington, Aug. 7.—What is Uncle Sam going to do with all these billions of dollars he is asking the American people to pay into the treasury?

Twenty-one billions it was at nine o'clock this morning, and we'll assume it hasn't changed much since. Whew! that's a lot of money—$210 for every man, woman and child in the United States. What on earth can the government need it all for?

Of course, we know all of it except a measly little billion and a third, which is all Uncle Sam was spending in peace times, must be raised because of the war. But what is he buying with it?

In the first place, there are seven billions of loans to our allies. Uncle Sam isn't spending at all. That leaves fourteen billions. And then there are two billions more, included in the estimate of 21 billions, which are just an emergency fund, much of which, however, will certainly be needed to put through the soldiers' and sailors' insurance plan.

That leaves us with about twelve billions that Uncle Sam is sure to spend this year, of which $570,000,000 are required for ordinary civil expenses.

Now we come to the real war expenses. The army has the biggest item, with total estimated expenses of $7,825,000,000 for the year. Of this $3,833,000,000 go through the quartermaster corps to pay the soldiers and provide food, clothing and shelter. Another big item of $3,154,000,000 goes to buy guns and ammunition. The medical service alone is in for $130,000,000 and there are more than $700,000,000 for aviation.

The navy expects to spend $1,524,000,000, of which $897,000,000 are for ships and guns, and the balance to meet running expenses, ammunition, fuel, pay, etc.

Outside of the direct army and navy war expenses, however, are all sorts of indirect war expenses, $1,689,000,000 in the aggregate. The biggest item is merchant ships, the construction, purchase and operation of which calls for $1,323,000,000. Food control will cost $164,000,000.

The president also has a fund of $100,000,000 for anything connected with national defense, generally believed to be largely devoted to the anti-spy activities. There is $45,000,000 for war-risk ship insurance and $47,000,000 put aside for liberty bond cost and interest. This completes the list except for some piffling items of less than a million each for alien detention, export control, and the council of national defense.

It is certainly some money and we are going to have to dig like terriers to get it for Uncle Sam. But there are two things we want to remember.

In the first place, nearly everybody in the country is working for Uncle Sam now, either on his own payroll or on the payroll of the corporations doing his work.

Second, and most important, Uncle Sam is trying to crowd into one year the military and naval preparations that ought to have been made and paid for during the last twenty-five years.

NETHERLANDS SEEKS AMERICAN CAPITAL

One of Holland's Mission to This Country Said That Lately.

The Hague, Netherlands, Sept. 7.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—"I regard it as most desirable that more American capital should be invested in the Netherlands, East Indies, and I have done constantly what I could to promote that end," declared J. B. Van der Houven Van Oordt, one of three Hollanders who have just been charged with an official mission to Washington in connection with the pending export question, that so vitally concerns the Netherlands. Mr. Van Oordt is a colonial official and authority. He has been under-secretary of state for the colonies, and has also filled the post of vice president of the Council of the Netherlands, East Indies.

To the correspondent of The Associated Press, Mr. Van Oordt pointed out that there has been a big increase in the commercial intercourse between America and Dutch India since the war, and particularly since the establishment of a direct steamship line between Java and San Francisco. "The five boats now engaged in that service," he said, "are always packed with goods. Rubber and all kinds of tropical products are shipped to the United States, and the boats return laden with railroad rolling stock, machinery, automobiles, airplanes and the like. If only the ships were available, the service might easily, and to advantage, be extended.

"But the amount of American capital operating in the colony is small in comparison with the British, German, French and Belgian capital. It is true there has been an increase in recent years. There is one American rubber estate in the island of Sumatra that is the largest plantation in the world, and special ships run to United States ports to carry its produce thither. But a great deal more might profitably be done, especially now money is so plentiful in the union. The sugar, rubber, tea and other agricultural branches offer enormous scope for profitable investment, not to speak of mining possibilities.

"Although there are at present very few in the country, Americans are popular in the Netherlands, East Indies, and they and their enterprises are assured of a most cordial welcome. There is every prospect of a big extension of relations between the two countries, to our mutual advantage."

MERGENTHEIM'S

ARMY TELEGRAPHERS

Call is Made for Nine Hundred of Them from Indiana Alone.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 7.—That Indiana is expected to provide nine hundred telegraphers for the United States signal corps was communicated to Will H. Hays, chairman of the state council of defense by the lieutenant-colonel of the corps, stationed at Chicago. The educational institutions of Indiana are requested to establish departments for the training of telegraphers. The matter was referred to the educational section of the council of which Horace Ellis, state superintendent of public instruction, is chairman.

Mr. Hays said that the government had submitted plans for the raising of the next liberty loan, and the communications on this subject were turned over to Evans Woolen, chairman of the finance committee, who will make a report at the next meeting.

John McPhee, city attorney of Muncie, said he had been asked to solicit the advice of the council in regard to the action of the city of Muncie in response to a communication from the Bouf Four railway to the effect that it could not proceed with plans for a subway at the Elliott street tracks, as the national council of defense had advised the railways to suspend such work temporarily because of more important railway work that has to be done. He said the city could proceed in the courts to force the railway company to proceed with the much-needed improvement, but the administration did not desire to act contrary to the desires of the state and national councils of defense.

After a discussion by members of the state council, it seemed to be the prevailing opinion that the city of Muncie should suspend action temporarily until the railway situation is improved. Mr. Hays said that Elliott D. Smith, head of the information department of the national council of defense, had written to the Indiana council saying the national body was interested in the account given in the Indiana bulletin of the program for organizing the educational resources of the state for war service work and modifying the curriculum in the schools to meet the extraordinary conditions. The information department asked for full details of the Indiana plans.

WOOL INDUSTRY IN JAPAN.

Tokio, Sept. 7.—Unlimited possibilities in the wool manufacturing business are open to Japan in South America, especially in Argentina, according to Paul Dedy, a wool exporter of Buenos Ayres, London and Amsterdam, who has been in Japan. "The great needs, at present," he said, "are better shipping facilities between South America and Japan, and preparation by Japanese manufacturers for handling crossbred wool as well as the Merino quality." Mr. Dedy said there were unlimited trade possibilities with the South American continent in wool, hides and feathers to be exchanged for all sorts of manufactured goods from Japan.

Nation-Wide Conspiracy to Hamper Government

OUTRAGES OF THE I. W. W. FORCES TO CRIPPLE DEFENSE

Plots That Contemplated Sweeping Country With Crime to Hamstring Washington.

THE EVIDENCES OF THIS ARE PILING UP

Washington, Sept. 7.—Reports and disclosures to officials here in connection with the seizure Wednesday of I. W. W. documents throughout the country indicate, it was said today, that there has existed for some time a nation-wide conspiracy to hamper the government in almost every conceivable way in carrying on the war.

Opposition to the draft law, burning of crops, some of the so-called labor disturbances and attempts to curtail production in war industries, reports indicate, were all part of the alleged conspiracy whose prime motive was thought to be the crippling of the government's activities in every possible way.

They were massed in great solid squares and marching quickly to spirited American music presented a spectacle of unusual martial splendor.

President Poincare, addressing the soldiers, said that he had witnessed their demonstration with great emotion and felt that events were every day bringing the French and American peoples closer and closer together.

The French president, accompanied by Paul Painleve, minister of war and marine; General Petain and several other French generals, was met at the American field headquarters by General Pershing and General Sibert. Today was the anniversary of the birth of Lafayette as well as the beginning of the battle of the Marne and President Poincare said that he had specially selected the date to pay his first visit to the American troops. He inspected several American barracks and billeting quarters in French villages and

Although the Austrians apparently still retain a precarious hold upon Monte San Gabriele, their last remaining mountain stronghold, northeast of Gorizia, the end is in sight for them in this region, according to Italian belief.

Gen. Cadorna's report today shows the Austrians still resisting desperately, but staggering under the heavy losses which the incessant Italian pressure of the last few days has inflicted upon them. This pressure is being maintained and is becoming decisive, the commander of the attacking forces announces. The Italian reports are invariably conservative and it has been noted that Gen. Cadorna has a habit of withholding an announcement until he is sure of his ground. The confident tone of today's communique from Rome therefore is considered significant.

INDIANA WILL GET NEAR HALF MILLION FEDERAL ROAD AID

Washington, Sept. 7.—Indiana will receive $406,230 for the construction and maintenance of rural post roads from the federal government for the year ending June 30, 1919, according to the apportionment to the states of the fund of $14,550,000 announced today by Secretary Houston. The law calls for the apportionment of $20,000,000 for 1920 and $25,000,000 for 1921. The apportionment announced today is the third to be made under the law, $4,850,000 was the amount for 1917 and $9,000,000 for 1918. The amount announced for some of the other states follows: Michigan, $435,357; Ohio, $553,043; Illinois, $658,323; and Kentucky, $292,984.

BEARER AT HEAD OF THE NEW ARMY

Woodrow Wilson stepped out ahead, down Pennsylvania avenue from the peace monument to the White House, as leader of the parade of the selective service soldiers of the District of Columbia. It is the first time in the present generation that a president, nominally the nation's standard-bearer, has acted as an actual standard-bearer, carrying the nation's flag.

MORE THAN 8,000 WAVE FAREWELL AS SOLDIERS LEAVE

"We Will Bring the Old Flag Back Without a Stain," Shouts One Member as He Boards Train.

PROGRAM IN FRONT OF ELKS TEMPLE

Company E, one hundred and thirty-five valiant men strong, was sent away at 8:45, eastern time, Friday morning, amid the flutter of handkerchiefs and the call of "Get the Kaiser!"

Hundreds of citizens gathered before the Elks' temple in the clearing mist of early morning to hear the farewell orations by soldiers of other days and at least 8,000 men, women and children followed the impressive parade to the L. E. & W. station for the last word of parting.

The "good-bye" for Company E was one of the most ardent sendoffs of the year. Every man in the parting company shook a half score of hands before he was allowed to board the waiting train at the Lake Shore station.

At the depot there was the grand effort to "send them away with a smile." Now and then a mother or sister broke down and gulped big lumps in their throats as they kissed and hugged their farewells but there was never a hysterical wave in all the vast assembly. Fathers patted their uniformed sons on the shoulder and urged them to "fight 'em out to the finish." The real expression of sorrow came when those left behind turned away after the last waving hat had disappeared with the leaving of the train.

"Loyal Old Fort Wayne."
"We certainly thank loyal Fort Wayne for the favors she has extended this organization," said Captain Ray McAdams as a parting word at the station. "The local public is responsible for the good spirit in which the men are starting out. The boys are full of cheer and full of fight. Every man of them expects to come back in a halo of glory."
"We are all in line and expect to stay there to the finish," said First Lieutenant Charles Sharp, as a farewell statement.

"We will bring the old flag back without a stain in her folds," said Second Lieutenant John E. Miller, just before he climbed the steps of the waiting train.

"Give the Kaiser Hell."

As the even line of the Company E marchers neared the Harrison street bridge, on their tramp for entrainment, a lusty voice called from somewhere in the crowd of friends that lined the way, "Give the Kaiser Hell."

The shibboleth was taken up along the line. The determined expression was repeated again and again. Its force was mingled with the general slogan of "Get the Kaiser."

The company E men were reminded many times that they are making their second war time departure from their home city. They came back from the brief Mexican campaign with a high record among military men. The boys were told over and over to "keep up the record."

"Must Have Victory."
"We must have victory," was the keynote of the brief address delivered from an automobile at the intersection of Berry street and Maiden Lane by Col. D. N. Foster, the first speaker of the brief "sendoff" program.

"The Kaiser is due for the damndest licking he ever got in his life," shouted James M. Barrett, while the crowd of nearly a thousand citizens cheered wildly. The outburst was only one of many which greeted the well worded oration by the man who has given two sons to the cause.

SUPREMACY AT SEA
DEFENDS FREEDOM

Premier Says America Has
Never Will Be.

Birkenhead, Eng., Sept. 7.—Premier Lloyd-George in a speech here today on receiving the freedom of the city declared that the whole allied cause and the freedom of the world depended on supremacy at sea and that he was certain it would be maintained. German statements, he said, had been at great pains to impress upon their people that the submarine figures given out by him in the house of commons recently were inaccurate. He declared these figures were absolutely correct and that they put an end to all hopes of the enemy to win.

The premier asserted he was absolutely convinced that the German submarine never would be able to beat down the strength of the British empire or beat down the hopes of the alliance by all the efforts the Germans could make with the submarine.

The Unbeaten America.

"America, who has now come into the conflict, has never known defeat and on this occasion, too, she with her allies will triumph over her foe. For all these reasons I ask you to be of stout heart. There may be stony paths to climb, but we will climb them. Our foot paths may be stained with blood, but we shall reach the heights and then in front we shall see the rich valleys and plains of the new world."

The premier said the news from Russia in the last few days had not been good. He thought when the revolution came that it would have the effect of postponing victory, but he had expected an earlier recovery.

Has Faith in Russia.

"However, through all we must exercise patience," he added. Mr. Lloyd-George said the Russian leaders, all brave and patriotic men, knew the enemy attempt in the Riga region involved the fate of the revolution, the fruits of which they would do their

EXEMPTION OF YOUNG MEDICS TO BE SETTLED

New York, Sept. 7.—The question of the exemption of medical students is expected to be definitely settled today, according to Dr. S. S. Goldwater, chairman of the mayor's committee on medical and hospital facilities, who said arrangements had been made a week ago which will keep the medical students at home as members of the reserve corps.

"Under the plan suggested by the mayor's committee, and adopted by General Crowder," he said, "medical students need not report at the concentration camps, but may pass directly into the enlisted reserve corps."

FRENCH BILL OF WAR FOR THREE MONTHS IS VAST

Paris, Sept. 7.—The budget committee of the chamber of deputies have commenced an examination of the war credits demanded for the final three months of 1917. The total amounts to 11,200,000,000 francs, the highest since the war began.

AERIAL ATTACK BY GERMANS ON THE AMERICANS

Hospital of American Army Medical Corps Raided and Several Men
Are Killed or Wounded.

ITALY SEEMS NEAR A DECISIVE RESULT

London, Sept. 7.—The Germans yesterday made an aerial attack on the American hospitals occupied by St. Louis and Harvard contingents, killing one officer of the American army medical corps and wounding three others severely, Reuters correspondent at British headquarters telegraphs today. Two others of the rank and file were killed and sixteen wounded, five of the latter being Americans.

Numerous such attacks have been made within the last fortnight. Late in August a hospital behind the Verdun lines was bombed and thirty persons, including twenty nurses, were killed. The socialist papers publish articles in almost identical terms, calling on the workers to perform their duty in defending the revolution. The organ of the social democrats and Maximalists, the Babotshayor Gazeta, appeals to the workers not to wait for the moment when the Riga disaster will have become irreparable, but to close

PEACE CULT IS FIRED FROM ITS NEW YORK HOME

New York, Sept. 7.—The People's Council of America was reported to be looking for a combination of suitable offices and a friendly landlord today, following the notice served upon the organization yesterday that it must vacate the premises on Fifth avenue, where its present offices are located. The order to move is effective Sept. 12 and was issued by the landlord. It was said, following a notice from the police department that the law was being violated.

SILLIE SALLIE SEEMS TO HAVE VANISHING JOB

Buffalo, Sept. 7.—Miss Margaret Forthingham, arrested with other suffragists for picketing in front of the white house, will be dismissed as a teacher of domestic science in the Buffalo public schools if Dr. Henry P. Emerson, superintendent of education, has his way.

"I have received many protests against continuing Miss Forthingham as a teacher," Superintendent Emerson said. "It is no credit to the city to have on its pay roll a teacher who persists in insulting the president of the United States."

GREAT DEMAND FOR PLACES AS CLERKS IN WAR

Washington, Sept. 7.—Anxiety of men to go to France as army clerks is indicated by receipt at the war department of many more applications than positions open. In the engineers' corps 150 places as clerks are sought by 4,000 men, and for rifle positions as draftsmen there are 300 applicants with scores of others coming daily. Personal examinations will be given as many as possible at Washington and other places where army engineers are located, and a reserve list will be formed for future openings. Hundreds of applications are on file at the adjutant general's office for appointment as army field clerks. Less than 2,000 of these have been named since the war started and others are chosen as needed. They are appointed by Secretary Baker on recommendation of Adjutant General McCalm.

J. H. LONES DIES
OF PNEUMONIA

Well Known Pennsylvania
Agent at Warsaw Expires
After Brief Illness.

News of the death of J. H. Lones, which occurred at his home in Warsaw at 5:30 o'clock Friday morning, was a severe shock to his railway friends in this city, many of whom had not heard of his illness. Mr. Lones was taken ill a few days ago with pneumonia and his condition at no time was considered serious until Thursday night, when he began to fail rapidly and the end came Friday morning.

Mr. Lones was born in Bucyrus, O., August 20, 1853, and was just a few days past 64 years old. He had been with the Pennsylvania company since February 9, 1875, beginning in the capacity of freight brakeman. March 3, 1876, he was transferred to Fort Wayne and given employment as a clerk in the freight house. Then came a series of promotions, during which he was transferred to the transportation and later to the passenger department, going from the latter position August 31, 1883, to Warsaw to take the office of agent for the company. He remained there continually in that capacity up to the time of his death. Mr. Lones became quite prominent in social, business and fraternal circles in Warsaw. Everybody knew him and admired and respected him for the many good traits of character he possessed. He was a member of the Scottish Rite Masons and of the I. O. O. F. and had held office in each. The arrangements for the funeral have not been completed and cannot be announced until tomorrow. Mr. Lones is survived by the widow. There are no children.

TWO MORE PROMOTIONS.

Henry C. Gollmer and W. H. King
Advanced.

The resignation of George M. Becker as private secretary of Chief Clerk C. N. Brentlinger, of the Pennsylvania motive power office, to take a position at Pittsburgh with W. L. Witt, mentioned by The Sentinel yesterday, has been followed by the appointment of Henry C. Gollmer secretary to Mr. Brentlinger and the transfer from the valuation department and promotion of W. H. King to the position of chief clerk to Fred T. Huston, assistant superintendent of motive power, to succeed Mr. Gollmer. These changes are the result of good and efficient service in former positions held by the men affected and are complimentary to their abilities and faithfulness. They are popular with their associates and are receiving congratulations from them. Other changes will probably be made early next week.

WILL HAVE "HIKE" SUNDAY.

Bowser Military Vlab Plan for a Day
in the Country.

The Bowser Military club, composed of employees of the big plant, and considered by many the best drilled and neatest uniformed club in the city, will on Sunday morning at 8 o'clock hike to somewhere. Captain Guy Drewitt, "the guy that drew it," would not divulge his plans for publication, but a leak occurred and following is as near a program as could be obtained: On arrival at "somewhere" the members will undergo some of the most intensive drilling they have as yet been subjected to. At noon the bugle of the outfit will sound mess call and the club members will be served a meal, "not army ration," prepared by the club's cook. After dinner there will be a baseball game, which will be played in big league style. At 6 o'clock the club will break camp, shoulder guns and return from "somewhere" to the city.

While trying to escape getting hit by a falling corrugated transformer tank, William Boots, a laborer at the Bass works, wrenched his back and had to be taken home.

Here's a Headline You May Read Any Day: Extra 2,000 Killed in German Air-Sea Raid On New York City

HERE'S ARTIST'S PICTURE OF DEVASTATION IN NEW YORK HARBOR AND BUSINESS DISTRICT GERMAN AIR AND SEA RAIDERS COULD CAUSE—THE DRAWING IS BASED ON DATA COMPILED FROM ESTIMATES FROM SUCH CONSERVATIVE AND EMINENT AUTHORITIES AS SIMON LAKE, SUBMARINE INVENTOR, REAR ADMIRAL ROBERT E. PEARY AND HENRY A. WISE WOOD, LEADING AIRPLANE AUTHORITIES.

(Staff Special.)
New York, Sept. 7.—Alec Germany plan a naval and aerial attack on New York, the "solar plexus of America?"

Here are reasons in late news dispatches for believing such an attack is possible:

1. German and British scout cruisers engage in battle in the North sea.
2. British officers announce belief German fleet is seeking to evade blockade and reach Atlantic.
3. Submarine reported off this coast, resulting in closing of port of New York temporarily.

4. Germany announces a super-Deutschland, with a cruising radius sufficient to patrol even the Pacific coast.
5. German papers announce national "hate" is turning from Great Britain to America.

Accepting these facts as indications that Germany may plan a sea and air raid on this city—what would such an attack mean?

The Sentinel's correspondent has compiled a conservative estimate of what it would mean, from such eminent authorities as Simon Lake, inventor of the submarine; Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, aeronautics expert, and Henry A. Wise Wood, one of the nation's foremost airplane authorities.

The possibilities of this raid have been written in the form of an actual telegraphic dispatch describing the country's greatest war menace.

This is a story the wires may carry at any day:

New York, August 7.—A fleet of German war and merchant ships, submarines, letting loose a flock of airplanes which, like vultures, tores at the city's very life and bomb its biggest skyscrapers, raided New York harbor and the business section before daylight this morning.

A loss of life already officially placed at nearly 2,000, and property damage estimated at over $50,000,000, bring home to Americans today what real war means.

Complete figures, not obtainable before daylight at the earliest, are not expected materially to increase the death toll of this first flashing sweep of the war scourge across the sea. Present estimates of property damage may be greatly increased.

Two great liners, both laden with munitions, and one bearing 1,000 American troops booked to sail for France this morning, were torpedoed and sunk, with almost a total loss of life.

Scores of smaller craft, including three coastwise freighters and one South American packet, were either torpedoed or set on fire by bombs or burning oil floats.

The Flamingo building is in ruins. The tower of the Singer building has fallen, and at least one side of the famous Woolworth building will have to be rebuilt.

downtown subway loops, hereafter blocking subway traffic below Herald Square. A hair's breadth, and the entire downtown subway system would have been flooded.

From sea and air the U-boats and their air cultures showered death and destruction upon New York. The city was not prepared for the sudden daylight of death.

Since the announcements that successful dispatch of heavy forces of U. S. troops to the French front had goaded the Germans into desperate retaliatory action, steps to protect New York, the nation's nerve center, from naval and aerial attack had been rushed. But the present world business center was still far from the perfection of the London air defense system which the British mission two months ago outlined for our use.

United States battleships lay at the mouth of the harbor, and destroyers were stationed within, but the London high angle gun defenses were lacking, and even some of the searchlights recently installed were not operated. The defense aircraft were in adequate and unorganized.

Miles of steel cable, stretched across the harbor mouth and the entrance to Long Island sound, were apparently cut like cheesecloth by the new German shearing devices.

Ten war submarines joined in the destruction within the harbor, and all but three escaped.

Best accounts are that four combined merchant-war subs, armed, of the Deutschland type, but armed, came to the surface far off the coast at nightfall and set free over twenty warplanes, so built with collapsible wings as to be easily transported and quickly assembled.

Wireless spies on outgoing merchantmen must have signaled the attack, timing it to catch the troop liners to France. These were torpedoed in six or seven places simultaneously, and sank almost immediately. Of a total of 1,200 troops and 1,000 civilians aboard, less than 1,000 were saved.

Explosive and ignition bombs and floats of burning oil worked a havoc that can never be told on all harbor shipping, with a loss of several hundred lives. Destroyers were taken unawares and fire boats were helpless.

THIS IS WHAT YOU MAY EXPECT TO READ IF GERMAN SUBMARINES OR OTHER VESSELS RAID NEW YORK

Loss of life—2,000, distributed thus: 1,200 on troop liners ready to sail for France, more than 800 on harbor shipping and more than 500 in city.

Property damage—$50,000,000 to $100,000,000.

Buildings destroyed or damaged—Flutiron building, Singer building, Woolworth building and a score of smaller structures.

Submarine torpedoes, oil floats, explosive bombs of undreamed of force, and ignition bombs used from sea and sky in raid.

Vessels sunk or burned—two trans-Atlantic liners, three large coastwise freighters, about 15 smaller craft.

Downtown subway system wrecked.

Participating in attack—ten war submarines, four U-boats of Deutschland type and 20 battleplanes they carried.

Battleship cordon, high angle guns and defense planes being rushed to repel future raids.

Here Are the Facts

Why we are forced to raise our price in order to maintain the same standard of value we have always put into Sherman's Clothes.

- 1st. Enormous purchases made by the United States and Allied Nations of thousands of uniforms and blankets—has stripped the mills and factories of their woolen cloth, practically paralyzing the clothing industry.
- 2nd. This making a shortage of woolen cloth, boosting the price of cloth from 50% to 100% per yard. So you see what has happened.
- 3rd. The high cost of living has forced the tailors to demand an increase of salary from 20% to 30%.

We would not consider lowering that quality of the excellency of value that we have always sold to our patrons. There was no alternative, but to raise the price.

Read This Over Carefully.

The cloth we contracted for almost a year ago has increased in value from 50% to 100%. With our foresight and courage to go into the market months ahead of the ordinary clothing people secured for us only a limited amount of cloth, that we can make up and sell to our trade at the price $10.

In Fairness to the Public.

To retain the confidence of our customers which we have so faithfully served—so that every man may have a chance to buy his clothes before our advanced price goes into effect, for now and for future wear, and save that extra $2.50 for himself—WE WILL CONTINUE TO SELL AT OUR PRICE, $10 AS LONG AS THIS MERCHANDISE LASTS.

GERMANY STRENGTHENS HER AVIATION BRANCH

Entrance of America Has Spurred Kaiser to New Aerial Activity.

Paris, Sept. 7.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The entrance of America into the war and the probability that it soon would be lending the allies tremendous aid in the aerial department of the struggle, has led Germany to re-organize and strengthen its own aviation branches materially, according to The Temps. This re-organization does not date exclusively from the break with the United States, but rather has been accelerated and intensified by the reports that hundreds, if not thousands, of airplanes with the corresponding aviators to man them, are soon to be supplied to the entente forces.

The re-organization of the German aerial forces has taken the form of creating four principal divisions into which the fliers are now placed, roughly as follows:
1. Army squadrons or "army fliers' division," which are directly under the command of the army chief of aviation and the work of which consists mainly of expeditions far to the rear of the lines. They also are employed for bombardments, night flights, photographic work, and the airplanes employed are of the most varied type, according to the character of the work they are to do.
Has Terrific Speed.
Recently captured prisoners say that a recently constructed biplane of the Albatross type is vastly superior to anything heretofore used by these squadrons. It is equipped with a 260 h. p. motor and attains a speed of from 100 to 115 miles an hour. It can rise to an altitude of more than 2,000 yards in nine minutes, and carries two machine guns. The machines travel in groups of six or eight, according to the position and needs of the army to which they are attached.
2. Corps squadrons or "troop fliers" which are attached to the staff headquarters of the various German armies and which are commanded by captains. These generally remain within the sector of the armies to which they are attached and are used in general for reconnaissances, photographing trenches, batteries and making patrol flights.
3. Hunting squadrons, as they are called both by the French and the Germans, are the main attacking instruments of the German air forces, and for chasing enemy machines which venture over their lines. They are charged also with the destruction of the stationary balloons.
Almost 500 Machines.
On the west front, it is estimated, there are about forty of these squadrons, with about a dozen machines to each. Others in the same category have as their duty the protection of the large German cities that lie within airplane flight of the French and English, such as Strasbourg, Freiburg, Mulhouse, Friedrichshafen, Stuttgart, Essen, Cologne and Treves. The pilots of these squadrons are carefully chosen from among the best of the German aviators, and their exploits are encouraged by frequent mention in the general staff reports.
4. Battle squadrons or "flottillas" are under the direction of great headquarters, and shift from army to army to carry out bombardments on military establishments behind the front, as well as ever and again upon open towns.
There are three of these squadrons now. Formerly there were more, but the others have been dismembered and their units attached to other arms of the aerial service. Squadrons one and two are generally transported by train from place to place, wherever they are most needed.

Make-Up of Squadrons.
There are from forty to fifty machines in each squadron, which, when complete and ready for action, is divided into four or five sections. Each airplane is armed with two machine guns and each carries bombs weighing from 20 to 100 pounds apiece. Some are said to carry bombs that weigh more than 200 pounds.
While perfecting their service in the air, the Germans have also rapidly bettered their anti-aircraft measures and weapons. The 77-millimeter guns have given way to rapid-firing guns of 105 millimeter calibre, and at certain points along the front they use shrapnel guns of 240-millimeter size.
They possess special bullets for the destruction of captive balloons, but in many instances have used them with great cruelty against opponents in airplanes. At least one squadron captain, a Lieutenant Eilers, finally forbade his men to carry these bullets with them unless they were definitely charged with raiding balloons.
New Types Are Frequent.
The Germans, it is said, are constantly putting new types of machines into the field. The famous Taube went out of style long ago, and it has now been followed by the even more famous Fokker, which less than a year ago was considered the last and final word in attacking airplanes. Its inventor, a Dutchman, is now said to be devoting himself to the perfection of a machine with a 260 h. p. motor which will break all records for speed and efficiency.
Today the Rumpler seems to be the favorite machine, though those with 160 h. p. motors are not fast enough to suit, and yet the machines will hardly stand up under a heavier motor. The raids on London were accomplished with Gotha machines but these, though so recent that little is known about them in France, are already giving way to faster airplanes, especially to powerful Rumpler biplanes which have tremendous speed and rising power. These machines, of which there are not fewer than 30 in the third battle flotilla, can make great distances both because of their powerful motors and because of their huge gasoline tanks, two of which with a capacity apiece, of 380 liters, are carried on each machine.

NEW HORROR OF WAR.
Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 7.—Women's veils and the tapestries of private homes are to be utilized in the holy land for the manufacture of sandbags for the Turkish trenches, according to the Constantinople correspondent of the Geneva Tribune. The Turkish authorities in Palestine and Syria have informed the local officers of Beyruth and other towns, the correspondent says, that 1,500,000 sandbags are required in the trenches at once for defensive purposes. Inasmuch as sacks and cotton cloths are lacking, "all silks and tapestries" in dwellings are being commandeered, and soldiers in Syria have been told by their superiors they may remove the veils from any women whom they may encounter in the streets.

ELEVEN-BILLION WAR BONDS BILL PASSES

House Puts Measure Over Without a Dissenting Vote Appearing.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The great war credits bill, authorizing $11,538,945,460 in bonds and certificates, passed the house last night unanimously. Action by the senate as soon as the pending war tax bill is disposed of is planned by administration leaders.

Not a material amendment was added to the bill by the house. Representative Moore, of Pennsylvania, led a group of republicans in a futile fight for consideration of his proposal for a war expenditure committee, which was thrown out on a point of order.

Every effort of republicans to limit the control the bill would give Secretary McAdoo over the bonds and certificates resulted in failure. The last fight made by Representative Johnson, of Washington, to treat the section of the bill to spend at least $2,500,000 for newspaper advertising in disposing of the bonds was defeated overwhelmingly. If the secretary desires, under the measure, he may use some of the $17,600,000 appropriated for disposing of all the bonds and certificates in newspaper publicity.

Cannon Affects Compromise.

Representative Cannon, of Illinois, managed to obtain the adoption of a compromise amendment to exempt from taxation forever interest on bonds not in excess of $5,000. He wanted to make it $10,000, but Democratic Leader Kitchin would not agree to that.

The bill authorizes the issuance of $7,538,945,460 worth of convertible 4 per cent bonds, subject to surtaxes and war profit taxes, and to terminate at the discretion of the secretary of the treasury. Of this total $4,000,000,000 worth is for a new allied loan, $3,000,000,000 worth to take over a 3 1/2 per cent issue already authorized and the remaining $538,945,460 to be used for converting certain outstanding bonds, including the Danish West Indies, Alaskan Railway, Panama Canal and naval construction issues.

Two Billion Debt Issue.

Issuance also is authorized of not more than $2,000,000,000 worth each of certificates of indebtedness and war savings certificates to run not more than one year and five years, respectively, at rates of interest to be fixed by the secretary of the treasury. These issues are to be subject to the same taxes as the bonds.

The bill provides that foreign bonds taken in exchange for loans shall not be sold at less than the purchase price. For more than one hour today the debate veered from the bill itself to the general war financing situation.

Speaker Clark and Representative Sherman, of Kentucky, urging that more taxes should be levied soon and declaring grave dangers lay ahead if congress continues to issue vast quantities of bonds without regard to equalization by taxes.

Kelsey, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Frank Lelkauf, treasurer.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Charles J. Worden, of Kinnaird avenue, invited between fifteen and twenty young women to bring their knitting to their home this afternoon and meet Miss Mildred Bowser, Mrs. Clifford Bornschein and Mrs. Maurice O'Connor, for whom several informal companies have been given within a month.

As Miss Helen Peters, who is to be married tomorrow evening to Arthur E. Boak, a member of the faculty of the University of Michigan, has much preferred that her friends confine their entertaining in her honor to small and informal companies, her wishes have been regarded. An informal company this afternoon was at the home of Miss Phyllis Randall, of College street, who considered Miss Peters' friends in her invitations. Mrs. Philip Bursley, of Ann Arbor, and another sister to the bride-elect, Mrs. Nell McKay, Miss Randall's sister, Mrs. Charles Francis Williams of Washington, and her guest, Miss Lukey of the same city, and Mrs. James L. Taylor, Jr., who is in the city for an indefinite time, took their knitting and worked for the soldiers as industriously as they visited. Miss Randall had the rooms beautifully decorated with tall flowers of which hydrangeas and cosmos were used abundantly with lovely color effect.

Mrs. Henry Hügeman and daughter, Luella, are in Chicago for a two weeks' visit.

Mrs. Joseph Cassell and son, Leo, of Van Wert, O., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Willson.

Mrs. Allen Martin, of Welser Park avenue, has returned from a visit with friends in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cook and family, of Lincoln avenue, have returned from a visit in Danville, Ill.

Miss Marie Belger has returned from a visit in Jackson, Mich., where she was the guest of relatives.

Miss Sarah Knott has returned home after a two weeks' visit in Logansport and at Lake Maxinkuckee.

Mrs. Dorothy Alden Pursing left on Thursday for New York city, after a visit with her parents, Judge and Mrs. S. R. Alden.

Mrs. James Ernst and daughter, Catherine, have returned to Decatur, after a visit here with Miss Jane Ernst, another daughter in the family.

Miss Anne Ammon has returned to her home in Philadelphia, after visiting with relatives, Dr. and Mrs. G. E. M. Bower, of East Berry street.

Rev. H. B. Master and sons come home this week from their summer outing in the Adirondack mountains. Mrs. Master will remain for a visit with her parents in Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Bower and children and the Misses Meyer, left by motor on Thursday for Adrian and Sand Lake, Mich., for a few days' outing with relatives. The party will return home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Shoaff come home Friday from Leland, Mich., where they have been for several weeks. Mrs. F. J. Hayden, who was at the resort about the same time, has been at home for several days.

Mrs. Mattie Etta, who is going to Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and Mrs. Rebecca Stoneburger, who is going to Old Mission, Mich., to remain during the coming winter, were honor guests at a dinner party given by Mrs. Kariger, of Harmar street, on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Haaga and daughters, Adaline, Wilhelma and Georgia Ruth, have recently returned from a visit with relatives and friends in Lafayette, Logansport and Lake Maxinkuckee. Miss Wilhelma has been taking singing lessons this summer from Mrs. Van Mount, at Logansport.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Freeman and daughters, Rudisill and Isabel, are to leave next Monday for an eastern trip. At Natick, Mass., Miss Rudisill Freeman is to enter a preparatory school, Walnut Hill, to Wellesley college. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman and daughter, Miss Isabel, expect to remain in the east for several weeks.

A party was given in honor of Miss Bernice Stanley, of Chicago, at Robinson park on Monday afternoon. An excellent luncheon was part of the enjoyment participated in by Mrs. K. H. Baker, Mrs. H. J. Wright, Mrs. C. F. Muhlenbrook, Mrs. E. Stehke, Alma Muhlenbrook, Ottilie Wefel, Laura Wefel, Helen Wright, Geraldine Baker, Mrs. A. Wefel, Warren Baker, Dale Wefel and Mrs. F. W. Wefel.

Miss Veronica Pape, who is to be married in October to Clem Gladieux, was the honor guest at a pretty party given by her sister, Miss Ivon Pape, on Wednesday evening. Progressive buncos and other games were enjoyed. Prizes were won by Helen Moore, Anna Waters and Anna Henschen. Other guests were Helen Henschen, Agnes and Josephine Grosjean, Margaret, Cecilia and Bertha Tili, Anna and Garnet Waters, Minnie Henschen, Thelma Pape and Mr. and Mrs. William Pape.

The first meeting of the season of the Dorcas society was held today at its accustomed place, the parlors of Trinity English Lutheran church. Sewing and knitting for Red Cross supplies and making of comforts and quilts to order to replenish its own treasury are the things the society looks after, though not all of its workers are members. A dozen pairs of socks were turned over today from workers under the Dorcas management. Orders for comforters and quilts are going in early this season as many women are devoting themselves entirely to knitting and sewing and other Red Cross work as well as food conservation, thus putting some home needs into hands of others to do.

Winters—Gibson. Many Fort Wayne friends of Mr. Harrison Winters, of Detroit, but formerly of this city, will be interested in knowing of his marriage on Sept. 6, in Detroit, to Miss Alyce Gibson, of Milwaukee. Mr. Winters was connected with the Wildwood Builders' company in this city, but resigned his position to take one with the Mac-

Lean Building company in Detroit. He is a son of Mrs. Amanda Winters, who also makes her home in the Michigan city.

Hadfield—Holz.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Holz, of West DeWald street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Marie Elizabeth, to Mr. William Adrian Hadfield, of Madison, Wis. The Holz family formerly lived in Madison and so the bride, after a wedding trip to Lake Chetek, Wis., will return to her former home to live. Mr. Hadfield was graduated from the University of Wisconsin with the degree of M. S. in 1915. Mr. and Mrs. Hadfield will be at home after the first of October at 939 Spaight street, Madison, Wis.

Evard Family Reunion.

The first annual meeting of the Evard family was held in the old Evard woods, now known as the Chester woods, just off the Mayville road, on Labor day. The occasion was to honor the birthday anniversary of James Evard, the oldest member present and who was 79 years old on Thursday, September 6. During the forenoon the younger men engaged in pitching horseshoes and the younger people played lively games and each helped everyone else enjoy the day. At noon a bountiful dinner was spread on the ground and everyone camped picnic fashion and enjoyed delving into the numerous baskets and dishes of food. A short business meeting was held in the afternoon with Milo Evard, of Columbia City, as chairman.

An organization of the family was effected and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President—Oscar Evard. Vice President—Mrs. Ortha Evard Hazlet. Secretary—Mrs. Ida Evard Crabill.

A committee composed of Mrs. Jennie Black, Clement Evard and Mrs. Kate Prange was chosen to make arrangements for the next meeting which will be held at the home of James Evard, near Goggin. The following people shared in the pleasures of the day:

AT THE PALACE

LAUGHS AND GIRLS.

They Are Dominant Notes in Melody Bill at New Palace.

With laughs and girls furnishing the dominant notes the melody bill for the last half of the week at the New Palace affords some exceptional acts, the chief of them, of course, being Lulu McConnell, Grant Simpson and company in their rollicking domestic farce com-

MISS LULU MCCONNELL.

Of McConnell and Simpson, who are at the Palace in the Biggest Laugh of the season.

edy, "At Home," with the musical farce, "The Smart Shop," affording

much of the feminine beauty of the bill. "At Home" is a snappy little vehicle for the exploitation of the riotous comedy notions of Miss McConnell. It deals with a vaudeville team laying off for ten weeks because they can't get a contract. Their quarrels and arguments superheated one minute and dissipated the next are screamingly funny, while the dress rehearsal of their skit and the net comedy that follows make this sketch a constant succession of explosions.

"The Smart Shop" is a snappy girlie act located in a lingerie shop with six frosh looking girls as models. The silhouette of the young lady changing costumes is a neat trick.

Thornton and Thornton and their grand opera poodle create a merry diversion in song and talk for ten minutes. The Three Mickey Brothers are remarkably finished acrobatic artists. The crocheting work is quite the funniest of the broad burlesques. He is a replica of the pictured Simon of Mother Goose days. Foley and O'Neill, two singing, dancing and talking boys, are graceful dancers and know how to sing. One of them sings Joan d'Arc in a refreshing manner. Marcou, the shadowgraphist, has worked out a clever movie in black and white, his supple fingers fashioning animals in natural actions with amazing deftness.

SAVE LATE VEGETABLES BY BASEMENT STORAGE.

A cool, well ventilated cellar under the dwelling offers good conditions for the storage of late vegetables. In cellars that are too warm on account of containing a furnace for heating the dwelling, a room may be partitioned off either in one corner or at one end of the cellar where the temperature may be controlled by means of outside windows.

Barrels, crates, boxes or bins may be used as containers for the various vegetables but movable containers are preferable to built-in bins, as it is possible to remove them for cleaning. It is advisable to construct shelves or a slat floor to keep the crates, boxes, baskets and other containers off the ground. This is utes, until milk is set.

Remove from kettle and drain well. Cut kernels from the cob with sharp knife.

Take care not to cut off pieces of the cob.

Spread thinly on trays or earthenware plates.

Dry in sun, in oven, over the stove or before the electric fan, until the corn is so dry that it rattles.

Stir the corn from time to time during the process.

How to Dry Beans.

Select young, quickly grown, tender beans. Peel and slice into 1-8 or 1-4 inch slices. Spread thinly on trays or earthenware plates. Dry in sun, in oven, over kitchen stove or before the electric fan until leathery. Stir from time to time.

Do not miss any step.

A New Treatment Given Without the Consent or Knowledge of the Drinker.

Cleveland, O.—No wife has a right to blame her husband because he drinks, says Druggist Brown, of Cleveland. It is her fault if she lets him drink and bring unhappiness and poverty to her house, and she has no right to complain. A woman can stop a drinking husband in a few weeks for half what he would spend, on liquor, so why waste sympathy on a wife who refuses to do it. Druggist Brown also says the right time to stop the drink habit is at its beginning unless you want drink toadden the fine sensibilities of the husband you love. Begin with the first whiff of liquor on his breath, but do not despair if he has gone from bad to worse until he is run-soaked through and through. Druggist Brown knows the cure of strong drink because he himself has been a victim. He was rescued from the brink of a drunkard's grave by a loving sister who, after ten years' time revealed the secret to him. She saved him from drink—rescued him from his own depraved self, by giving him a secret remedy, the formula of an old German chemist. To discharge his debt to her and to help other victims of the drink habit, he has made the formula public. Any druggist can put it in the hands of any suffering wife, mother, sister or daughter. Just ask the druggist for prepared Tescum powders and drop a powder twice a day in tea, coffee, milk or any other drink. Soon liquor does not taste the same, the craving for it disappears, and in one more drinker is saved and knows not when or why he lost his taste for drink.

One woman who used this prescription on her husband says: "It is going on the fourth week since he has touched a drop of anything in the form of liquor or used tobacco of any kind. He seems already like a different man. Tescum has gained a wonderful enthusiasm in me. I regard it as a Godsend. Just think, I have never seen my husband sober for more than 48 hours in years and now it is going on one month since he had his last drink."

Another one gratefully writes: "I have used Tescum powders on my husband and find it one of the greatest cures in this world. He hasn't taken a drink for almost five weeks, and says he never will. My home does not seem like the same place and life seems worth living. I hope thousands gain what I have. This has been a good new year for me without drink in my home."

NOTE—Tescum, referred to above, should be used only when it is desirable to destroy all taste for alcoholic drinks of every kind. The wife who approves of drinking in moderation and believes her husband safe should give it only when she sees, as most do in time, that the danger line is near. You take no risk with Tescum as it is sold in this city under a steel-bound money-refund guarantee by the Dreier Drug Co., Meyer Bros., and other druggists. They guarantee it to do the work or refund the money.

MAY NOT VOTE BUT CAN HOLD OFFICE

Singular Bill for Equal Rights Has a Start in Porto Rico.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Sept. 7.—A bill designed to give Porto Rican women the right to hold office but not to vote, has been introduced in the house or representatives by Fulgencio Pineda, Jr., and Antonio Pineda, unionists, and has had its first reading.

Mrs. Ana Duprey, founder of the Suffragist League of Porto Rico, announced after a recent conference with the former legislator that she informed him that the women of Porto Rico objected to the measure and that it became a law in its present form "there would burst over his head and head of his party such a storm of righteous feminine indignation that it would be a long time before they recovered from it." Predicting that the bill would not come up for a second reading, Mrs. Duprey said:

"There are two things we are determined to have: Suffrage restricted to literate women and the right both to vote and to hold office. As the Pineda bill now stands it would only place the women of Porto Rico in the most degraded kind of politics instead of giving them an opportunity to show their capability and patriotism."

A senate bill provides that women of Porto Rico may both vote and hold office.

Experience the Best Teacher.

It is generally admitted that experience is the best teacher, but should we not make use of the experience of others as well as our own? The experience of a thousand persons is more to be depended upon than that of one individual. Many thousands of persons have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds with the best results, which shows it to be a thoroughly reliable preparation for those diseases. Try it. It is prompt and effectual and pleasant to take.—Advertisement.

SUNFLOWER SEED AS FOOD

Irkutsk, Siberia, Sept. 7.—Sunflower seed is a delicacy much relished by Russian soldiers. At railway stations where bodies of troops are waiting the platforms, are always littered with the shells of the sunflower seed. On troop trains the men can be seen cracking the seed between their teeth and chewing kernels which they extract dexterously with their tongue. Peasant women sell the sunflower seed about the railway stations just as popcorn and peanuts are sold at American stations. Many persons crack so many sunflower seeds that they wear notches in their front teeth, which enable them to grip the seed more tightly and crack them with greater speed.

RASPUTIN SCANDAL AND CZARINA'S GERMAN LEANINGS BROUGHT ON RUSSIAN REVOLUTION

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.
(Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

"What I should like to see," said a sturdy American one day at dinner in the Winter Palace, "is an international law absolutely forbidding any German prince or princess to marry anybody outside of Germany, henceforth and forever."

He plumped this out in the midst of a pause in the conversation so that everybody got the full wallop of it. Our English guests naturally looked unhappy and made no comment, but the rest of the table applauded.

We had been talking about the Evil Genius of Russia, which was the present Mrs. N. Romanoff, late czarina and Head Trouble Maker.

She had helped a lot to put the Romanoff family out of business. Also to enable about 30 representatives of democracies then assembled to sit at ease about her late table.

What was about a million times more important, she had a hand, without knowing it or meaning it, in bringing on the Russian revolution, the best thing that has happened since the fall of the Bastille.

The reason our English friends looked sad at the mention of the subject is because the royal family of England is about all German and many of its marriages in the last 60 years have been with German princes or princesses.

The curse of monarchy is real, persistent and terrible. Monarchy is an utterly lunatic and poisonous institution that should have been abolished from the face of the earth 140 years ago. The price that Europe has since paid for clinging to the worn out, old bunk is appalling.

Witness this war. Also, the fact that the war was not ended months ago; also a long array of details that have made a horrible conflict all the worse.

One of the countless bad things about fooling with royalty is that the offspring of royalty can marry only with the offspring of other royalty.

Germany had always an amazing overcrop of princelets and princesslets. Elsewhere in the world there were not enough to go around. Consequently every royal family in Europe became German and is German today.

Generally speaking, a German is always a German. No matter where he or she may go, the ties of Germany continue to bind, the thoughts and ambitions continue to be German.

All the trouble in Greece, for instance, was made by a German princess married to the king that the Greek people, for some reason or other, still allowed to mess and mishandle their affairs.

If Greece had been a republic she would have kept her agreement, landed troops at the Dardanelles, taken Constantinople, put Turkey out and enabled the war to end in the autumn of 1915.

But about this czarina of Russia, she was a German princess, and although the country upon whose throne she sat was at war with Germany she betrayed the country she helped to misrule for the sake of the country of her birth.

She was proud, arrogant, overbearing, neurotic, unpopular. She had her way absolutely with her husband, who was covered by her furious self-will and was a weak man anyway—except when it came to sending revolutionists to the gallows or Siberia.

The czarina likewise had weak spots in her domineering character. She was in deadly fear of assassination and she was almost insanely superstitious.

There is abundant evidence that from the beginning of the war she had the purpose to bring about a separate peace between Germany and Russia.

She seems to have been held back by one fear and that was what the Russian people might do to her if they found out her treachery.

According to the story current in Russia among the best informed persons it was the czarina that elevated Steiner, the German, to the place of foreign minister, and it was she that urged on the ministers that had arranged Russia's surrender just before the revolution broke. But for the revolution the thing would have gone through and the 150 German and Austrian divisions now on the Russian front would have been released to be hurled against France.

Before this the czarina had come wholly under the power of that astounding abnormality and villainous fake monk, Rasputin.

He never was a monk, as a matter of fact, but early in his vicious career he discovered that a pretense to piety was an easy way to win the confidence of the women he preyed upon. For this purpose he proclaimed himself the apostle of a new kind of holiness and put on vestments to which he had no right. Wearing that garb he led a life of shocking immorality.

The czar and czarina had one son and several daughters. For the sake of the succession the czar and his wife were always greatly worried about the health of their son. Rasputin used this feeling to get the czarina in his power.

It is supposed that among the other women he had hypnotized was someone that attended upon the prince, and that she was induced to dope the food of her charge. Anyway, Rasputin announced that his constant presence and care were necessary to keep the prince well and when the czarina scoffed at the suggestion he foretold the prince's sickness and went away.

The prince immediately fell ill and continued to be ill in spite of the best efforts of the court physicians.

The czarina then fell a-shaking with superstition and gave orders to have the holy man brought back.

Whereupon the prince got well.

Soon after that Rasputin became the real dictating power of Russia, through the czarina. She did what ever he told her to do, and he was and had long been in the pay of Germany.

He led the czarina along the way

she was perfectly willing to go to a separate peace with Germany. He was the go-between and agent in the negotiations; he is supposed to have fixed the prices at which the traitors were to sell themselves.

Meantime a scandal had arisen and swept over all Russia concerning the relations between Rasputin and the czarina. There may have been no basis for any such reports, but it cannot be denied that the czarina helped them along by behaving without restraint or discretion, and as for Rasputin he openly boasted when drunk that he had made a conquest of the czarina.

Before long 95 per cent. of the Russian people knew the story and believed it. The old respect for the czar had long been dying out. THIS STORY FINISHED IT.

Pretty nearly everything in this world seems to have a use, soon or late. Rasputin was a beast and a greasy impostor, but he helped on the revolution. And so, strangely enough, did the German princess that planned to betray Russia and unwittingly saved it.

TAKES CASE UNDER ADVISEMENT ONE DAY

Judge Kerr to Give Alleged Auto Thief Decision Saturday.

The case of Ray Bohannon, an employee of a garage at 729 Barr street, who went to Payne, O., Wednesday with a car which he says he was working on, and brought it back badly smashed up, according to testimony, was continued until Saturday by Judge H. W. Kerr in city court Friday.

Evidence showed that Bohannon took the car without the consent of the owner of the garage or the owner of the car and that he did not return it until the following day. Bohannon explained that the damage had been done by a collision with another car because of the defective lights on the car which he drove. Bohannon had only worked at the garage a short time, the evidence showed, and told the court that he thought it was the common practice to take cars out to repair them when they could not be adjusted in the garage. Bolts which had been loosened caused the belief that Bohannon had tried to take off the coupe body but Bohannon denied this in court.

Bohannon's wife told Judge Kerr that her husband had been in the plumbing business until a short time ago, when he sold out to join the navy as a plumber, but that after going to Indianapolis he had been told that no more plumbers were needed.

Usual Drunk Quota.

The usual quota of men who had been floating down the old Green river and landed safely on the bar of retribution, were up for the usual doleful tales of how it happened, and "I wasn't drunk at all" stories before Judge Kerr. The latest "alibi" for the mistakes of officers in arresting men who, it is said, would never think of taking a drink, and throwing them in jail, was that given by George Moore, who loafs around a colored restaurant on Calhoun street, according to the officers making the arrest, pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunkenness.

"My feet hurt and I can't walk straight," Moore told Judge Kerr. The story evidently did not listen "good" to the court and Moore was remanded to jail with a fine of $5 and costs. George Shadle was held in jail on a charge of intoxication under a bond of $50 until Sept. 12. Frank Chapman was fined $5 and costs on a plea of guilty to a charge of drunkenness.

Walking to Chicago.

George Apple, a derelict, picked up by the police on the street after he had been going into different places looking for road guides and otherwise acting suspiciously, told the court that he was from Jackson, Mich., and that he was walking to Chicago by way of Fort Wayne. Apple had no money on his person and no visible means of support, and was locked up on a charge of loitering. His case was continued by Judge Kerr until Sept. 15 under a bond of $100. Apple had apparently lost his direction, saying that he had been to Auburn, Angola and Muncie on his way from Jackson here.

Held Till Sept. 15.

Walter Jerald, 50, who has been held awaiting an answer to an inquiry to the chief of police of Greenville, S. C., concerning funds which Jerald told local officers he had there, was ordered held under a bond of $100 by Judge Kerr until Sept. 15, when he will be given a further hearing. Jerald got in wrong over a draft at a local bank. The chief of police of Greenville wrote that Jerald had never had an account at the bank stipulated.

FORT WAYNE TO GET COAL

Federal Priority Order is Virtually Abandoned by Fuel Dictator.

THE PENNSYLVANIA LINES ARE FREED

Order Diverted All Shipments on That System to the Northwest.

Indianapolis, Sept. 7.—A telegram interpreted as indicating the virtual abandonment of the federal priority order regarding coal shipments to the northwest, in so far as it affects the Pennsylvania divisions in Indiana, was received by the public service commission yesterday. In view of the distressed conditions about to result in Indiana from the application of the order issued by Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the national car distribution bureau, the alleviation was noted here with great rejoicing.

The message came to the commission, not from the federal authorities, but from D. F. Crawford, of Pittsburgh, Pa., general manager of the Pennsylvania railroad. It stated in effect that cars recently requisitioned from Hoosier intra-state service would be allowed back again and that the former order would be re-established. Since the Pennsylvania lines in Indiana handle a great proportion, perhaps nearly 50 per cent, it is said, of Hoosier intra-state coal shipments, the relief will be considerable.

Northwest Relief Sought.

The issuance of the order which took cars and coal away from Indiana mines and consumers was made to give relief to the northwest, which is soon to be enveloped in colder weather or at least before the middle western states. As one instance of its effect in Indiana, the Pennsylvania was able to supply about one-half the number of cars wanted from it by coal mines it served in Indiana. Cities like Fort Wayne, Ind., and at least three of the big Hoosier interurban lines faced a grave condition in that curtailment of service was immediately impending and actual shutouts were probable.

The abandonment of the order as affecting the Pennsylvania, however, does not help the other lines much. Mines on some of them face a shut-down, with the consequent unrest and disturbance of miners. In view of this it was arranged at a conference between coal operators and consumers, on the one hand, and Commissioner William J. Wood, on the other, held yesterday, that Ernest I. Lewis of the commission, Carl J. Fletcher of Indianapolis, secretary of the Knox County Coal Operators' association, and Clarence W. Royce of Terre Haute, Ind., coal attorney, should go to Washington Monday or in time to be in the capital Wednesday.

The committee will take up with the federal car distributor the delinquency of the situation in Indiana and endeavor to obtain relief from the imminent suffering and possible business disaster. They will seek such a modification of the order as will enable other Hoosier coal-carrying lines to serve their fields as the Pennsylvania has been permitted to do, according to the Crawford telegram. The commission has worked industriously for a modification of the order already and, while pleased with the Pennsylvania modification, yet was unwilling to let it go at that.

Other Considerations.

Nor will that be the only bone to pick with the Washington officials. Ever since the price of coal has soared it is alleged to have been the custom of railroads serving mines in Indiana to make a sort of a gentlemen's agreement that if the carrier could get coal for its own use the operator so supplying it should not lack for cars, in spite of the attempt to prorate cars to mines according to the supply and demand. This alleged misconduct is laid directly at the door of the carriers, who are said to have almost bullied some of the operators into such arrangements.

This matter will be taken up with Harry Garfield, federal fuel director, and with Judge Lovett, federal car distributor. Another thing which Chairman Lewis will take up with Lovett will be the distribution and priority of coal shipments in Indiana, especially as regards state institutions. Wednesday the commission announced that shortly hereafter the distribution of coal to Indiana points and business should be made to conform to a priority schedule, which it will issue. Along with the announcement of this step came also a part of the schedule.

Institutions First. By its terms state institutions will be given first preference. They will be followed by public utilities, manufacturing plants working on government contracts, private and domestic users and general manufacturing concerns, ranking in the order named. More explicit directions of the shipping will be issued later in the week, it is expected. By such an arrangement the commission hopes to avert much of the suffering and depression expected from the coal shortage which looms up as a great possibility this winter. State institutions caring for dependents and others in forced care will be given priority over other state institutions. Coal operators in Indiana have already arranged among themselves to prorate coal to such institutions.

As to the state fuel question the Indiana Bituminous Coal Operators' association advised the State Council of Defense yesterday to obtain the appointment of a coal distributor for the state institutions.

Purchasing Agent Suggested. The following message was received from the association, which held a meeting in Terre Haute Wednesday night:

"Be it resolved, that our committee on coal for the state institutions be reinstated, and that it recommend to the state officials that some one be appointed by the state to act as purchasing and distributing agent for the state fuel requirements, and."

"Be it further resolved that this association pledge itself to furnish all the coal which may be required for all the state institutions."

Owing to the illness of Governor Goodrich it is not known yet who will be appointed to the position of coal distributor.

TEN HURT AND HORSE KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Dark Spot in Road Causes Auto to Clash With Buggy.

Five adults and five children were injured, none critically, and the horse attached to the buggy was killed, when an automobile driven by Alfred Walda, 1036 Schick street, collided with the vehicle on Maumee avenue at the point where the Lewis street car line turns south. Walda takes the blame for the accident, but reports that a dark spot, caused by shadowing trees, did not allow him to see the approaching rig. The chauffeur was driving at twenty miles an hour, he states.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Popp and their five children, occupants of the buggy, were all injured in the smash. Mrs. Popp sustained a broken leg. The husband suffers from injuries to his neck. A son, Roy, aged 7, has a deep gash in his head. The other children received body bruises.

Walda and his friend, Val Krug, 1406 Hanna street, were not hurt, although the three women in the automobile were bruised and their arms lacerated. Two of the women are sisters of Mr. Krug and the third is Agnes Salott, who lives at Summit and Division streets.

The injured people were cared for in the home of Dr. E. H. Kruse, 2222 Maumee avenue. Mrs. Popp was taken to her home in Walda's machine. The buggy in which the Popp family were riding was demolished and the horse attached to the rig was killed.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED.

Anderson Brothers Given Chance by Judge Eggeman.

Clinton Anderson and Robert Anderson, two brothers, pleaded guilty before Judge J. W. Eggeman in the circuit court Friday and sentences of from one to fourteen years in the state's prison at Michigan City were suspended. The brothers were charged with stealing sugar, flour and other provisions from a Pennsylvania freight car. Leniency was shown by the court for the reason that the two brothers had never been in trouble before and both are heads of families. One of them is the father of eight children. The court warned them, however, that their failure to follow the straight and narrow path would result in the sentences being enforced. Both were given employment at the plant of the S. F. Bowser & Co.

Roy O'Brien pleaded not guilty to the charge of grand larceny and guilty of petit larceny. He was released under $500 cash bond for appearance in the circuit court on September 10 at which time he will be sentenced.

TWO WILLS FILED.

One of Late Marcellus Thurber and Other Late Pauline Romary.

The will of the late Marcellus Thurber, of Pleasant township, was filed in the circuit court Friday. The deceased leaves his entire estate to his widow, Emily M. Thurber, and at her death to be divided equally among each of the children, Cora Beck, Ora M. Thurber, Jesse Thurber, Rosa Work, George Thurber and Dorothy Thurber. By the terms of the will of the late Pauline B. Romary her entire estate is left to her husband, Armour E. Romary.

SEVERE MISTAKE.

It Might Have Resulted in Perry Warner Going to War.

The attorney representing Mrs. Julia Warner, 307 West Berry street, in her suit for divorce filed Thursday, made a serious mistake when she charged her husband, Perry Warner, with non-support. It so happens that Warner had claimed exemption from army service and had made affidavit that his wife and son were dependent upon him. Mrs. Warner told a Sentinel reporter that her husband does contribute to her support as well as to the support of their child and that her attorney in filing the complaint for divorce had followed the usual form. To make matters worse, Mrs. Warner had also filed an affidavit with the selection board substantiating her husband's claim for exemption, which was granted. She, too, might have gotten in bad had the complaint been permitted to stand. However, the first complaint was removed from the files and an amended document was filed later in the afternoon in which Mrs. Warner charges her husband with undelity and asks for a divorce on that ground.

BLOOD THIRSTY HUSBY. Mrs. Hazel Jones Says She Feared for Her Life.

Charging her husband with being bloodthirsty in so far that he had threatened to kill her on a number of occasions, Mrs. Hazel Jones, through her attorney, H. Waveland Kerr, has filed suit for divorce from Robert Jones. She alleges that they were married just five months, which were a plenty. During that time she says that her husband compelled her to keep a boarding and rooming house to support herself. On May 1, she declares, he deserted her, which would indicate that five months were also a plenty for him. She asks for the restoration for her maiden name of Edwards.

Sold Her Garden Truck. Because her husband sold her garden produce and appropriated the money to his own use, Mrs. Victoria E. Wright, through her attorney, Robert B. Drebbelish, has filed suit for divorce, together with the custody of their seven year old daughter, and $3,000 alimony. She also seeks a restraining order to prevent her husband from molesting her. She lives on the St. Joe road.

Two Incorporations.

Articles of incorporation have been filed by the Centlivre Sand and Gravel company and the Fueling & Krudop Construction company. The Centlivre firm is capitalized at $10,000 and Louis A. Centlivre, Charles F. Centlivre and Edward G. Frank are the directors. The Fueling & Krudop company is capitalized at $20,000, with George H. Krudop as president and Charles W. Fueling as secretary-treasurer. Fred H. Fueling, with these two men, constitute the board of directors.

Another Erring Husband. Charging her husband, Earl Fee, with telling her to leave and with frequently striking her, Mrs. Jessie Fee, through her attorneys, Emrick & Emrick, has filed suit for divorce. She also asks for the custody of their four year old son.

Sentenced to State Farm. Andrew J. Bennett was found guilty Thursday on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of his step-daughter, and was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to the state penal farm for six months. Albert Crowell was convicted of forgery and was sentenced to the reformatory for a period of two to fourteen years.

Viewers Named. The following viewers for roads were named by the county commissioners Thursday: Bandelier—Henry Rehber, Henry Gallmeyer and Henry Weise; Greenwell—Henry Becker, John Maricle and Charles Miller; L. A. Todd—Martin Blum, Otto Prange and J. S. Byers.

Judgment for $140. A judgment of $140 was granted the Railroaders' Realty company from Albert Coon.

At State Fair. W. F. Ranke, county treasurer, was at Indianapolis, Thursday, to attend the county treasurers' meeting of the state and also to take in the state fair. He was accompanied by Paul Kinder.

Want Guardian Appointed. A petition was filed Friday by Herman Bruns in the circuit court asking for the appointment of a guardian for William Bruns alias William Bronze, who he claims is incapable of managing his estate and business affairs. The petitioner is represented by Attorney H. Waveland Kerr.

Testimony Concluded. The testimony was concluded Friday in superior court in the case brought by the National Surety company against Henry Hilgeman, and William Geake, judge pro tem, has taken same under advisement.

DEATH OF WEALTHY WOMAN NOT SUICIDE

New Post Mortem in Chicago Indicates Widow King Was Murdered.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—A post-mortem examination of the body of Mrs. Munde A. King, widow of James C. King, late Chicago millionaire, whose death resulted from a bullet wound near Concord, N. H., Aug. 29, indicated that Mrs. King was murdered, in the opinion of Coroner Peter M. Hoffman.

The body was removed from the mausoleum here and the examination conducted just before midnight last night by order of Judge Kersten, of the criminal branch of the circuit court. Dr. William Burnister, pathologist of Northwestern university, conducted the examination in the presence of representatives of the police and coroner's office. "In my opinion from investigation and post-mortem examination the wound was not self-inflicted," said Coroner Hoffman, in contradiction to the opinion of the coroner's jury at Concord.

The verdict of the examining physicians concluded: "The entrance of the wound was about two inches forward of the center of the skull, behind the left ear. It showed no signs of burns nor powder marks, indicating that the revolver was a considerable distance from the head when discharged. The left ankle showed a dark discoloration. The examination revealed it was broken before death. All other organs were negative, in healthy, normal condition."

Mrs. King's death occurred early in the evening of Aug. 29 about two miles from Concord, after she, with Gaston B. Means, her counsel and business adviser; A. Bingham and Alfred Means, a brother of Gaston, had started for an automobile ride. The shot was fired when she and Gaston Means had left the car and stopped at a roadside spring to get a drink. Ernest Eury, negro chauffeur, testified at the Concord inquest that he had been ordered to take the car some distance back on the road when the party descended at the spring.

NEWSBOYS WILL BE GUESTS.

Transfer Theater to Entertain Them Saturday Morning.

Through the courtesy of the Transfer theater management the newsboys of The Sentinel, News and Journal-Gazette will give a complimentary show at the Transfer tomorrow at 10 o'clock. The party will be chaperoned by Charles Phelps, head of the local newsboys' organization, and of the Boys' Wildwood club, which is also included in the invitation. Tickets for the events will be distributed to the boys tonight as they receive their papers from the circulation manager.

Manager A. J. McCabe, of the Transfer, has arranged an unusual appeal to the youngsters. One of the characters of the famous serial story, "The Fatal Ring," will be exhibited. The feature picture of the day, "The Little Soldier Girl," will prove especially appropriate, as many of the scenes in this production are laid in one of the big United States army cantonments and also in a boy scout camp in New York state. Ann Pennington, the diminutive star of the "Ziegfeld Follies," will be starred in the latter picture.

WOMAN REGISTERED

AGE AT 117 YEARS

Relatives Claim, However, That She is Little Past Seventy.

On the slip handed in by a notary public and on the big-leaved record at the city hall registration office Eliza C. Rudisill is signed up as being 117 years old. The notary who recorded her vote registration understood her to say that she was born on Nov. 30, 1850. He so wrote.

Election clerks at once figured that the woman would thereby be 117 years of age. One of the men telephoned to 2900 Spy Run avenue, where the woman lives. "I will not tell anybody my age. I was born in 1800," responded the woman, the clerks say.

Relatives of the woman, who was born in Fort Wayne and has always lived here, say she is but little past 70 years of age. The number of her years is a subject upon which she is taciturn. She meant to convey the general understanding that she was born in the nineteenth century when she said "eighteen hundred," it is stated.

But the fifth ward of the city will be credited with having a voter past the century mark in years when Eliza Rudisill casts her ballot in the coming city election.

Registrations continue to come in at a small pace. It is estimated that at least a third of the citizens of eligible age will not vote because of carelessness in signing for the ballot.

Places where registration will be carried on Friday night are:

Closer Co-Operation With America Planned at Washington.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Such agreements for closer co-operation in war activity as may be entered into by Viscount Ishii, head of the Japanese mission, and Secretary Lansing will be based largely upon the conference between Admiral Takekita and American naval officers.

It was indicated at the state department today that the outstanding points had to do with transportation and it was stated that to determine questions connected with that problem the Japanese naval representatives would confer with experts of the navy department. Secretary Lansing will meet Viscount Ishii again Monday, when it is expected a more definite outline of the negotiations will be made. Involved in the problem are the questions of aid the Japanese government can give in increasing the ship tonnage in the Atlantic as well as in the Pacific; the aid that this government can give Japan in carrying out her ship building program, and the possibilities of Japanese yards increasing ship construction for the entente powers.

By both the American and Japanese conferences it has been made clear that the only questions to be determined are those looking to a better means of uniting the forces of the two countries in the war, and it was indicated that it was probable that on certain phases of the problems the entente nations might be consulted.

TEACHERS' MEETING.

The teachers of Monroe, Jackson, Maumee, Milan and Cedar Creek townships are to session Friday in the assembly room of the court house. The teachers of St. Joseph, Adams, Wayne and Washington will meet Saturday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The northwestern high area has overspread northcentral sections, and temperatures have fallen in the Ohio valley and thence northeastward. In connection with a depression centered in the lower Missouri valley, higher temperatures prevail in the region between the Rockies and the Mississippi river, and showers have occurred in the northern Rocky mountain states and thence eastward to the upper Mississippi river and southward to Missouri. Local showers have occurred in the middle and north Atlantic states and in the far northwest. A high area which has spread eastward over the plateau states has caused a sharp fall in temperature in portions of Wyoming, Idaho, Nevada and southern Utah.

discussion. It has resulted in demands from many quarters that southern chivalry be thrown aside and a conviction obtained in at least one recent case to serve as a lesson.

Only once in Louisiana criminal history has a woman been convicted for killing a man. The lone victim of the law, Miss Dora Murf, was sentenced in 1913 to five years in the penitentiary for complicity in the murder of Milton Delahaye, her sweetheart, at Crowley, La., because he refused to marry her.

Her stepfather, Alec Duval, sentenced to life imprisonment, recently was denied a pardon. The girl has been released and has started out to "get a chance" in life. She is a nurse in a charity hospital, and will be among the New Orleans nurses who will go abroad with the Louisiana troops.

Here is the record of the sixteen months murder wave that gripped New Orleans women and girls:

April 26, 1916—Ernest J. Smith, bar pilot, shot to death in Franklin street home by wife because he accused her of infidelity. She was acquitted.

June 6—Mrs. Augustine Miguez killed Anthony DiFranco, married, because he threatened to break up her romance with a student. Acquitted and afterwards married to another.

December 2—Naomi Myers killed Raymond Castenado, trying to force his way into her home.

June 27, 1917—Pascal Peterson, called to see his estranged wife at her home, killed by her during a quarrel. She is out on bond.

July 4, 1917—Arthur J. Behan, sportsman, killed by Mrs. Carrie Reems Haas. Shooting in her apartments, charged to have resulted from the divorcee's attempt to prevent his

RUSSIAN WOMEN HARVEST WHEAT FOR THE ARMIES

Frank's | 730 Calhoun | Notions | Ribbons | Underwear | Infant's Wear | Linens | 114 W. Berry | Frank's

Russian women are fighting in the harvest field as well as in the trenches—bringing in the sheaves as well as German prisoners. The picture shows that, despite unsettled political and economic conditions, the new republic is assured an ample winter food supply. These peasant women, working on a threshing machine in South Russia, have paid no heed to the German propaganda.

READY FOR GREAT WORK

American Alliance for Labor and Democracy Ends Convention.

Declaration of Alliance is Ringing in Its Tone of Patriotism.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 7.—The American Alliance for Labor and Democracy expected to conclude the business of its three day loyalty meeting late today and adjourn tonight after a public mass meeting.

Most of the eastern delegates will return to their homes on the "red, white and blue" special train. Literature will be distributed along the way, telling of the work accomplished here in the first drive of the big campaign to make American labor loyal and clear the land of pro-German propagandists.

Work of organizing branches went forward rapidly and those in charge predicted every state in the union would have branches within two weeks. These state branches will supervise the establishment of county and town branches.

Clarence Darrow, Chicago, will be one of the principal speakers at the meeting tonight, over which Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor and chairman of the alliance will preside.

Answer to Pacifists.

The convention's answer to the pacifists says: "The so-called People's council and other organizations allied with it, professing to speak in the name of the working people of America, have declared that the aims and purposes for which we are at war have not been definitely stated. These people have made a great deal of clamor, demanding that the president of the United States make a definite statement of the reasons why we are at war and the end we seek to attain.

"We, the members of the Minneapolis conference of the American Alliance for Labor and Democracy, declare that this demand of the People's council and other pacifist organizations, even if made in good faith, is entirely unwarranted. The record shows that the aims and purposes of this nation have been stated with singular lucidity and precision by the president of the United States on various occasions.

"Since the United States entered the war the president has upon three notable occasions clearly and explicitly set forth the American aim, the objects which must be attained by any peace which the United States can agree to—especially to the war message of April 2, 1917, the note to Russia of April 26, and the reply to his holiness, dated Aug. 27, 1917.

Cite the War Aims.

"The war objects stated by the president in these historic documents were as follows:

"1. Recognition of the rights and liberties of small nations.

"2. Recognition of the principle that government derives its just power from the consent of the governed.

"3. Reparations for wrongs done and the erection of adequate safeguards to prevent their being committed again.

"4. No indemnities except as payment for manifest wrongs.

"5. No people to be forced under sovereignty under which it does not wish to live.

"6. No territory to change hands except for the purpose of securing those who inhabit it a fair chance of life and liberty.

"7. No readjustments of power except such as will tend to secure the future peace of the world and the future welfare and happiness of its peoples.

"8. A genuine and practical cooperation of the free peoples of the world in some common covenant that will combine their forces to secure peace and justice in the dealings of nations with one another.

Ideals of Internationalism.

"We the men and women of the trade union and socialist movements of America, organized into the American Alliance for Labor and Democracy, in submitting this record to our fellow citizens, assert that in all history no government has ever stated its aims on entering a war or while such war was being fought with anything approaching the definiteness, clarity and candor revealed by these utterances. We assert, moreover, that in all essential particulars the aims thus set forth are entirely consistent with the great ideals of democracy and internationalism for which the American labor movement has always stood and which are fundamental to its being.

Unofficial Answer of U. S.?

The resolution, viewed by some delegates as the government's unofficial reply to the criticisms of pacifists and pro-German propagandists, was submitted after a lengthy session of the resolutions committee. It was read by John Spargo, former member of the executive committee of the socialist party, and adopted almost immediately amid applause.

It pointed to the German plan, referred to by President Wilson, to throw a broad belt of military power across the center of Europe, and beyond the Mediterranean into the heart of Asia, and continued:

"The only chance left to the masters of Germany of retaining the advantages gained, and of perpetuating their own domination over the German people, is the enactment of an immediate peace upon terms favorable to themselves."

Should the German plans succeed, America itself thereafter would be menaced, the resolution said.

Stamp Out Pro-Germanism.

The organization committee reported plans to form branches of the alliance all over the country.

Pointing to the government's fairness, to labor, the "war organization" appeal states that an agreement has been reached between representatives of the American labor forces and the secretaries of war and navy that union wages, hours and conditions shall obtain throughout all construction work for army or navy purposes.

"Immediate action is vital," the appeal continues, urging prompt organization of local and state branches of the movement. "Funds are needed for the work and we urge that contributions be made immediately for propaganda and organization purposes."

This appeal, labor leaders declared, marked the "finishing of the first gun" in the campaign to stamp out pro-German societies and to bring the nation's labor forces up solidly behind the government.

DR. CALVIN IN EXPLANATION

Tells Why Boy Scout Campaign is Being Waged at This Time.

Field Meet by the Local Troops Will Be Held at Swinney Park Saturday

This has been a year of special activities for the citizens of Fort Wayne along many lines of civic enterprises, and now another has just been launched in favor of the Boy Scout movement.

Dr. W. D. Calvin, this morning in an interview, made the following explanations of the immediate necessity of the work:

"We were perfectly aware of the many calls which had been made. We knew of the changed conditions on account of the war, but if you will consider the matter just for a moment these are the very conditions which are operating against the boys and which we want to counteract. Take, for instance, the experience of England, who at the beginning of the war centered its entire thought and activity upon the immediate war problems. Boys were released from school to work in munition factories; money which had been expended upon philanthropic work for boys was curtailed with the result that junior delinquency has increased 50 per cent in one year.

"War conditions have made it harder to get and keep scout masters, one troop in this city having lost three for perfectly good reasons during the past year. Yes, we know that the citizens had been called upon pretty hard this year, but we felt that they would not neglect their opportunity to help in this work when it was properly explained. The pledges are not all payable this year; the money will be spent in expert supervision. The membership will be doubled and the increased membership will be able to do much in the line of co-operating with civic movements, and at the same time we will be doing our part to prevent the threatening increase in junior delinquency."

Saturday afternoon at Swinney park there will be a field meet by the local troops. This is the first time that such a meet has been held in this city. Scouts will demonstrate a number of different lines of Scout activities. The public is cordially invited.

Miss Edith Morey has resigned her position at Tepper Brothers to accept one in the Wolf & Dessauer store.

They Are Not Keen for War in Any Shape or Form, Report Shows.

Goshen, Ind., Sept. 7.—Members of the Mennonite re-fous faith, meeting at Yellow Creek Mennonite church, near here, where the biennial conference of the Mennonite church of the United States, Canada and India was held last week, heard the report from the special mission of churchmen dispatched to Washington to enter protest to President Wilson, Secretary of War Baker, Provost Marshal General Crowder and other administration officers against members of the church being required to give military service.

Several thousands of Mennonites have entered their claims to exemption, but under a ruling of the provost marshal general, they are required to report for noncombatant service.

According to the report from the mission sent to Washington, Mennonites will be trained for noncombatant service in a special camp or camps to be provided and under no circumstances will be required to leave the United States. They may be used in building highways. Claim is still made that the giving of such service is in direct conflict with the tenets of the Mennonite church, and it is the plan to file further claims to exemption after Mennonites drafted are sent to their special training camps.

The ancient Indians of Peru are now regarded as the world's greatest weavers. This noteworthy revelation in the history of textile art is the result of the critical examination of many rich and beautiful tapestries and other fabrics executed by the gifted ancient Indian population of Peru. Though buried three centuries or more in the sandy desert after being made with primitive handlooms and other weaving implements, these wonderful fabrics are now found to be superior to those turned out by the automatic looms of the great mills of today. The primitive Peruvian handloom consisted of two sticks, one at the top and one at the bottom.

REGISTRATION FOR RESERVE COMPLETED

Many Boys Took Last Opportunity to Sign Cards.

Advantage of the last opportunity to register was taken by 285 boys of Fort Wayne Thursday night, according to figures compiled by A. L. McDonald, director of the United States Boys' Working Reserve in this city, Friday. McDonald reports that he is well pleased with the work that has been done in this city and states that it is his belief that this city will rank near the top when the figures are available for a comparison with other cities of the state.

"It is possible that this city may stand at the top of the list of cities in the state," said McDonald. "I have not figures to show just what has been done outside the city, but I expect this county to stand near the top in the list of counties registering for the Working Reserve." It has already been pointed out that Indiana, with one other state, head the various states in figures compiled so far.

The enrollment at the Harmer school was the heaviest of any district in the city Thursday night. Of 143 to register, eight enrolled. The work at the Harmer school was directed by H. O. Georgas and E. H. Ernst. At the Jefferson school 173 registered and only one enrolled. There were sixty-nine registrations at the Hoagland school and one enrollment. The chance for enrollment of boys who have registered may be had by seeing Mr. McDonald in the Utility building.

DR. ALLEN HAMILTON CALLED FOR TRAINING

Miss Elizabeth Melville Also Leaves City for Hospital Service.

Dr. Allen Hamilton and Miss Elizabeth Melville, two well known Fort Wayne people connected with the medical profession, have been called into training for war hospital service. Miss Melville, probably the most widely recognized professional nurse in the city, left for Indianapolis Thursday evening. Dr. Hamilton will go to Fort Harrison next week.

Dr. Hamilton is captain of the Fort Wayne hospital unit, the complete organization of which is being carried on at present. He will receive a special line of training for the war work at the Indianapolis fort. Dr. Hamilton was born and reared in Fort Wayne and has practiced medicine here for several years, since his university training.

Miss Melville will be sent from Indianapolis to New York in order to join unit No. 32 of the Lilly Base hospital. The date for sailing for France, of course, is not known, but will likely be soon. Miss Melville is a Hope hospital graduate and her work has been principally in this part of the state, though she had been on special missions several times, most recently in relief of flood and cyclone sufferers.

Miss Melville is the first nurse called of the number enlisting in Red Cross work, which she did at the first call for aid.

Col. Tyndall Takes Men from Fort Harrison to Join Mineola Forces.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 7.—Under command of Colonel Robert H. Tyndall, the One Hundred and Fifteenth artillery, which includes Fort Wayne batteries B and D, left Fort Benjamin Harrison today for Mineola, L. I. Dispatches from New York state that the Hoosiers are the only members of what is to be known as the Rainbow Division who are not already stationed at the training camp. This will be under the command of Major General Mann. The departure of the regiment has been delayed for several days owing to lack of clothing and other field equipment. However, this paraphernalia has been received and everything was almost in readiness last evening for departure at short notice.

Packed for Journey.
The soldiers spent the greater part of the day packing their equipment, which is to proceed by freight. Everything in the line of tents, kitchen utensils and other such articles will be taken by the regiment. Whether the men will remain in camp long at Mineola is a matter of conjecture. They may all immediately, and on the other hand they may be stationed there for some time.

Colonel Root, formerly Indiana state mustering officer, will arrive at Fort Benjamin Harrison today to assume command of the army post. He will succeed Colonel Crawford, who relieved Brigadier General Edwin F. Glenn recently when the latter was assigned to another post.

WOULD BAR DRINKS FROM AMUSEMENTS

Chicago Liquor Interests to Keep Dancing and Skating from Cafes.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—The Chicago brewers' association, the Chicago retail liquor dealers' association and several other kindred organizations made known today that they would begin an active campaign to prohibit dancing, skating and vaudeville entertainment in any Chicago cafe where liquor is sold. The move for this separation will take the form of an ordinance to be presented to the city council at its first meeting on Oct. 1, it is said. The only form of amusement to be permitted under the liquor dealers' plan would be band concerts in places which seat 500 persons or more.

William Legner, president of the brewers' association, predicted that with whisky under the ban by congressional action by Nov. 1, of this year, 1,500 of the city's 7,000 saloon licenses will be allowed to lapse.

WAR TAX BILL GIVEN

DEBATE IN HOUSE

Bond Measure, Passed by House is Received in the Senate.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—Retention of the war tax bill's income provisions raising $432,000,000 including $432,000,000 from individuals, was forecast to day on a preliminary vote of the senate by which Senator La Follette's amendment to increase the assessment upon individual incomes to $643,661,000 was rejected 55 to 19.

Senator Hollis' amendment proposing to increase the income tax levy to $557,000,000, or about $75,000,000 more than the bill provides, by increasing surtaxes on incomes in excess of $25,000, also was voted down, 51 to 26.

INSURANCE BILL IN HOUSE.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The administration's $176,000,000 soldiers' and sailors' insurance bill was taken up in the house today with the leaders determined to dispose of it as speedily as possible.

SENATE GETS BOND BILL.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The senate today received the house $11,528,945,160 war bond certificate bill and will begin its consideration according to present plans, immediately after disposition of the pending war revenue bill. The bill passed the house late yesterday by unanimous vote after only three days' consideration. Despite republican attacks on various features the bill was not materially amended. Efforts to create a congressional war expenditures committee and to limit the control given to the secretary of the treasury over bonds and certificates were ineffectual.

CHURCH ORGAN SUPPRESSED BY POPE BENEDICT

Dline, Thursday, Sept. 6.—After the publication of the pope's peace proposals, the Roman Catholic newspaper Corriere Fulli, printed an article in which Italian soldiers were advised that they were freed from the oath of allegiance, and urged to throw down their arms. The paper was suspended for fifteen days and its editor, a priest, and the manager were interned.

When Pope Benedict was informed of the incident he ordered that the paper be suppressed permanently.

farewell march. There were more than 8,000 in line as the parade swept out Webster street to Jefferson and across to Calhoun street for the direct march to the waiting train.

Members of the University club carried a large flag into which they invited those lined along the street to toss coins for a fund to be used in adding to the mess of Company E. There was the continuous flash of silver above the taunt flag. It was found that $212 had been given for the food supply of the company when an accounting was made at the station.

Organizations making up the parade were: A platoon of police; members of the Patriotic council, the Elks' band, Grand Army veterans, Spanish-American war veterans, city officials, the military organization from the Bowser Tank works, the signal corps and Company E.

Twenty-six of the civil war veterans were in line. They marched with firm step and head erect. At the Harrison street bridge they formed into line on the east side of the roadway. They bared their venerable heads as the Company E men, the boys who are taking their places in the battle line for freedom, passed for the station.

Hurried to Work.

Many of the clerks in downtown stores and factory workmen attended the program at the Elks temple and then hastened to their task after bidding "God speed" to the departing warriors.

Citizens lined the walks all along the line of the farewell parade. There was the flutter of handkerchiefs from both sides of the trading company. There was the occasional call of a "pet" name which caused the soldier lad to which the name applied to smile and sometimes to rodden through his coat of tan. There was much handclapping, especially from the groups which rushed from downtown stores to shout "good bye" to the square shouldered lads who leave for service.

All There, But—

There were 135 men in line when Company E drew up before the Elks temple for the departing word of cheer. Every man who has been with the organization during the past two weeks was there. At one time the company numbered 155 men but a part of the youths have since been taken for other lines of service.

"How do the boys feel?" Captain Ray McAdams was asked.

"They feel fit but a little sore," he replied.

The men were all vaccinated on Thursday night and the effects of the inoculation clung with them on Friday morning. Some of the company members were not especially strong in the region of their stomachs as a result.

"Not too strong," cautioned some of the lads with nervous of their friends attempted to shake both hands of the leaving soldier at once and in the act grew vigorous in their treatment of the left arm.

The Company E members will proceed at once to Fort Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis. They will be fitted up in the latest war equipment. New members of the company will be uniformed.

Training will be carried on with vigor. It is expected that the company will be ready for shipment to France in a few weeks.

Were Given Flowers.

Each of the Company E members was the recipient of a bright flower, after the men reached the Lake Shore station. Members of the local chapter of W. C. T. U. pinned a posy to the coat lapel of each departing fighter. To the fragrant blooms was attached a card which bore a verse of scripture.

"God bless you," was the word which accompanied the placing of the small bouquets on the coat front of each man.

Roaring Cheers.

"Three cheers for Company E!" arose the cry again and again.

"Rah! rah! rah!" followed in rhythmic violence. The spirit was that in which a football team is sent away from its home town to crush the man power of its opponents.

"We Are Back of You."

"Remember, we are all back of you," said Col. D. N. Foster in his five-minute talk, which opened the farewell demonstration.

Members of Company E, and you other men who are to leave for the front later, we are here to pay you homage," spoke Colonel Foster in opening his speech. "We have assembled in this early dawn of this September morn to honor all of you men who have volunteered for defense of our flag and the keeping of our sacred principles.

"You men of Company E are about to leave us and to endure the privations and trials of days upon the tented field. You will soon be in the trenches, the muddy trenches, of our allies.

"But you have the assurance that men never went into a more just cause. We kept out of this raging war for over two years. We kept out while hundreds of American citizens were killed and drowned on the high seas. We tried in many ways to settle the war. We were accused of cowardice. As the months went past we came to understand that this is our war as well as the battle of the allies.

"It is a struggle to the death between the forces of individual liberty and autocracy.

"Now that we have drawn our swords we will not sheath them until victory crowns our efforts.

"I have been spoken to, to say a parting word to you men because I once followed the old flag into the flame and smoke of battle to save the glorious emblem which you are now to follow. I am sure that you will bring the grand emblem back to us with its splendor unscathed."

From Heart of a Father.

"I will now introduce to you the Hon. James M. Barrett, who speaks from the heart of a father who has given two sons already into the service," said Colonel D. N. Foster in presenting the second speaker.

Both addresses were greeted by rounds of cheers. In the oration of Mr. Barrett was sprinkled bits of humor, which brought ringing laughter from the gathered crowd.

The honor given me in the introduction by Colonel Foster is more than I deserve," said James M. Barrett in opening his talk. "I am not so exalted as the noble woman who gave eleven sons in the dark hour of the civil war and then who said, 'I am sorry that I cannot give another to make it an even dozen.'

Not Farewell.

"We are not here to say 'farewell' to you men on your spirit of devotion in volunteering to uphold the honor of our common flag. That flag has waved for more than a century over a free people and has never known a defeat. It never will know a defeat as long as there is a drop of red blood in the veins of American citizens."

Makes 'Em All Sick.

"Two months ago when there was a patriotic parade in Boston a foreign-born woman remarked, as the stars and stripes were carried past:

"That flag makes me sick. It looks like a piece of chivalry candy."

Senator Lodge overheard the statement, and promptly retorted:

"That flag is made of the candy that makes everybody sick who tries to lick it."

"You will pardon the prophecy but that flag is going to lead the men who will give the Kaiser the damndest licking he ever had in his life."

We Are Peaceful.

"Americans are a peaceful people. They have built a democracy upon a peaceful principle. The plan is directly opposed to German 'culture,' which has instilled into that nation's science and religion a doctrine of slaughter and destruction.

"This war is not of our making. We were forced into the conflict.

"When Germany invaded Belgium she made war on America. By that act she sought to destroy the principles which America defends. She trampled the sacred right of a free people to pursue their way without violence.

"The issue is one of right against might. It is one of military autocracy attempting to crush out a weaker people against the God-given privilege of freedom.

Will Throttle Treason.

"We American people are behind you departing men. We are back of you in heart and soul.

"We are all soldiers. Some of us have witnessed the passing of too many summers and winters. We would be unnecessary baggage in your company. But we will do our 'bit' and our best here at home. We will scotch traitors and treason whenever it shows itself to stab you brave men in the back.

Will Be a Hot Time.

"When you come back after the war, we assure you we will have 'A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight' for you.

"Occasionally we hear a person with a soft heart and softhead say that we should stay out of this war till Germany comes after us. Is that the way we treat mad dogs? We go after them while there is time.

Germany counted wrong when she thought that her German born men and woman who are in this land would stay by the 'Fatherland.' These people will be loyal to the country which has given them the principle of freedom and a bounteous prosperity. With we American born folks these people resent the German spy system, her ruthless sea warfare, her plotting in Mexico and her atrocities in Belgium.

"We are sure that you men will fight valiantly as true Americans. In spirit we go with you and are back of you.

"God bless you and bring every one safely back to us."

Fritz Was There.

"Fritz" is the dullest fellow to go with Company E. He has been training with night and main for two weeks. He was on board the train long before his comrades on Friday morning. He rode in the baggage car.

"Fritz" is a bull terrier dog who has attached himself to the company. He has been with the boys constantly of late. He will make the trip to Indianapolis and maybe to Flanders as a mascot of the Fort Wayne fighters.

Lunches by Red Cross.

In the baggage car of the departing train were stored 135 well-filled lunch baskets. The food is the contribution of the local Red Cross society, which organization has been handing the sum of rations to soldiers which leave the city. The lunches were taken to the train Friday morning and neatly stored away under the direction of Red Cross workers.

Add to Mess Fund.

While a part of the members of the University club were counting the money gathered for the Company E mess fund, at the Lake Shore depot, several other members of the organization were parading along the train offering to take more money for the fund.

When the train was gone there was a recount taken. The total now at hand for the Company E food supply is $241.55.

best to defend. The Russian leaders were preparing the machine which had broken down, and he was confident that in the end they would succeed.

"What I am concerned about most," the premier went on, "is not the effect which the failure of Russian would have on the war but the harmful effect it would have on the cause of democracy in the world."

It took as long time, said Mr. Lloyd-George, for oppressed people to get accustomed to freedom as it did for free people to get accustomed to oppression.

"One thing gives me satisfaction," he continued. "German attempts to sow dissension between the allies east and the allies west failed. Germany only decided to invade Russia with the sword because her other methods and machinations failed."

ranks immediately with iron discipline and proceed to prompt and decisive action. The proletariat, it says, must rally around its organizations and by a vigorous effort save the country and the revolution. The Semita-Volia, organ of the revolutionary socialists says: History will show on whom lies the blame for our military debacle. Meanwhile the situation demands that all internal political quarrels be forgotten and that an energetic and unanimous effort be made to face the enemy."

SOME PEACE TALK.

Amsterdam, Sept. 7.—The statement that the Germans from the secretary, Dr. von Kuchlerman, is in favor of a negotiated peace is made in a dispatch to the Frankfurter Zeitung from Vienna, which the secretary recently visited.

"Dr. von Kuchlerman's calm and steady manner," the dispatch says, "made a good impression in Vienna, especially as he, like the imperial chancellor, is free from all Chauvinism regarding the situation, and in favor of peace by an understanding."

PLANS FOR ALSACE-LORRAINE.

Copenhagen, Sept. 7.—It is reported by the Vossische Zeitung, of Berlin, that the question of Alsace-Lorraine probably will be discussed at the session of the reichstag, which is to be opened Sept. 26.

Presumably the discussion will relate to the erection of Alsace-Lorraine into a monarchy within the German empire.

A minor reichstag reform bill promised by the government, granting some thirty additional seats in the reichstag to the larger cities and most thickly populated industrial districts, will be introduced. Other bills will be brought forward to deal with the falling birth rate.

The Saxony government has refused to introduce universal suffrage on the basis of the reichstag franchise for the diet of Saxony.

According to the strategical experts Gen. Cadorna has only to obtain secure hold on Monte San Gabriele to give him complete dominance of the Piaveza plateau and the country far to the south, making it possible to push his way into the chiapovona valley and drive a wedge between the two Austrian armies, virtually isolating the southern army, which directly bars his way to Trieste. Several times the San Gabriele peak has been in Italian hands, but the Austrians have battled desperately for this vital position and each time surged back again. There has been no let up in the Italian pressure, however, and it now seems as if the decisive phase of the battle had been reached.

The continued retreat of the Russian armies has not yet caused the Russian authorities to fear for Petrograd, according to current advice, but apparently has had the effect of weakening most of the radical elements in the capital to the necessity of strengthening Russia's powers of resistance. Their newspapers are now urging the dropping of internal political quarrels, enforcing discipline and presenting a united front to the enemy.

The retreat of the Russian armies apparently is continuing but encounters between the rear guard and the German advance are now beginning to be reported. This may indicate that the Russians are approaching a line where they will attempt to settle down and offer resistance.

There is comparatively little activity except for artillery and raiding operations on the Franco-Belgian front. The Germans, however, gained a slight advantage over the British in minor fighting last night, driving the latter from positions they have gained in local attacks yesterday north of Frezenberg, on the Flanders line.

German air raids on hospitals behind the lines in France are continuing. In their latest exploit of this nature the aviators picked out camps in a coast village, manned by Americans. Unofficial dispatches from the front announce that an officer of the American army medical corps was killed, and three others seriously wounded in this attack, while five Americans were among sixteen of the rank and file wounded. Two other persons besides the American officer were killed, the victims being in the ranks.

the responsibility that has been placed upon us."

Gen. Pershing then presented President Poincare and the president, stepping into the semi-circle, removed his cap as he began to speak in a clear far-reaching voice.

He spoke in French, but already a majority of the expeditionary force are acquainted with the language and they followed each sentence closely.

Poincare's Remarks.

"It makes me very happy," President Poincare said, "to be able to bring to you the congratulations of the French republic to this very fine army commanded by General Pershing, and which I have just seen marching before me in such a magnificent manner. It filled me with emotion at seeing so many gallant officers and so many brave soldiers, who faced the dangers of the sea to come to the soil of France to defend the common cause of the allies and to consecrate their lives, if need be, to the common cause of liberty. As President Wilson said the other day, we are all fighting for the same ends and the interests of the free United States are at stake everywhere. The allied armies are at grips with the enemy whether it be in Flanders, before Verdun or on the Isonzo."

"Today, in all great cities of America is being celebrated the anniversary of the birth of Lafayette. Today, also, I will visit the tombs of the heroes of the battle of the Marne, the men fallen in that advance guard of the armies, which are now fighting for right and civilization. Thus are two countries celebrating today two common anniversaries which must drive them still more closely together and inspire them in the struggle in which they are engaged."

Acclaims United States.

President Poincare referred briefly to the gift of a flag from the mayor of Philadelphia to the municipal council of Paris and concluded his address with the cry: "Long live President Wilson! Long live the free United States!"

President Poincare was warmly applauded and then the officers gave three cheers and a tiger. The cheering was taken up by the troops in the distance and continued while the president and his party were moving off the reviewing field. One non-commissioned officer, who stood near the party during the speech was greeted by some of his men when he rejoined his command with the exclamation: "What did he say?"

"I don't know exactly," was the reply, "but I think he said 'Give 'em hell.'"

"That's the stuff!" yelled a number of privates in chorus, and the word ran

ANOTHER RAID.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 7.—Federal authorities here today arrested Pedro Yzasi, secretary of the local chapter of the Industrial Workers of the World and alleged to be head of that organization in the south. The authorities state they suspected Yzasi of trying to foment strikes in lumber camps and other industries throughout the south.

SEVEN DISCHARGED BY APPEAL BOARD

Thirty-Three Other Local Men Are Certified for Service.

Seven Fort Wayne men from the second city district escaped the draft as the result of decisions by the district exemption board, Friday. One young man was exempted because of the nature of his industrial efforts. Thirty-three other local men will become soldiers the state commissioners decided.

The Fort Wayne conscripts who were excused from service by the action of the higher board are: Lewis W. Tore Up Appeal.

John Till, Armenian, and Nick Pope, Rumanian, both of near Hometown, were the two representatives from the rural district of Allen county to leave for Fort Taylor Friday morning.

"I thought your wife made an appeal in your behalf," said one of the county exemption board men on Thursday afternoon when Nick Pope declared his desire to be transported for training at once.

"She go like this," said Nick, and he gestured an imitation of the action required to tear up exemption claim papers.

WABASH RAILROAD TO RAZE OLD DEPOT

Yard Master's Office Will Be Built on Station Site.

The old Wabash station building, towering at the east of South Calhoun street and just beyond the Calhoun street subway, is to be torn away. A part of the structure has been used as a depot for the Wabash railroad since the day when the line was put through Fort Wayne.

Work of tearing down the old red station building will start soon. It is hoped by Wabash officials to have the structure completely removed before cold weather. An office building for the Wabash yardmaster will be reared on the station site, it is planned.

Wabash Official Dames called upon the board of works Friday afternoon and asked permission to tear away the abandoned depot building. He was given the hearty consent of the works board members.

TROOPS REACH CAMP.

LOSES PAY AS STATESMAN.

Washington, Sept. 7.—A congressman who joins the army automatically vacates his seat and is not entitled to further congressional pay. Sergeant Arms Gordon, on the advice of attorneys, has so decided in the case of Representative Laguardia, of New York, who joined the signal corps late in August, and now has claimed his pay for the month. "If the Germans don't get me, I'll get that pay," Laguardia today declared. "I'll take the case up at the close of the war."

THE MARKETS

Market Takes Sharp Turn Upward on Unfavorable Weather Reports.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Sharply higher prices for corn resulted today from cold, rainy weather, likely to postpone the maturity of the corn crop and thus to increase the peril of frost damage. Opening prices, which ranged from $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher with December at 113 to 114 and May at 119, were followed by only slight reactions from initial top figures.

The close was nervous, 2c to 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ c net higher at 114 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 114 $\frac{1}{4}$ for December and 119 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 119 $\frac{1}{4}$ for May.

Oats ascended with corn.

Estimates were current that the government crop would indicate an increase of 25,000,000 bushels in spring wheat as compared with the production in August. No estimate was looked for on winter wheat. Advances in hog quotations carried provisions up grade. Ploving in the winter wheat belt has been under the most favorable weather and soil condition it was said the acreage promised to be the largest ever seeded.

WALL STREET HAS A DAY OF CONFUSION

Weak Opening Followed by Succession of Rallies and Declines.

New York, Sept. 7.—Shippings were the weak features of today's early stock market. New Haven's further decline to the new record of 21 5-8, also caused additional unsettlement. United States steel opened unchanged at $1.08, but immediately fell to $1.06 5-8.

For the balance of the forenoon trading was marked by a succession of confusing rallies and fresh declines. Shippings, steels and a few other equipments recovered 1 to 3 points. Crucible steel led the general recovery of the second hour and United States steel regained virtually all its decline. Liberty bonds were quoted at $93.86 to $93.90.

The market settled down to a more moderate pace in the early afternoon, with further gradual improvement among the leaders.

RECEIPTS HEAVY AT CITY SCALES

Much Concern is Felt Over Small Receipts of Wheat—Railroads Blamed.

With the exception of corn receipts at the city scales Friday were exceptionally heavy. Eighteen loads of oats brought from 56c to 51c a bushel. There were twenty-five loads of hay that brought $14 to $16 a ton. But one load of corn was received.

No change in wheat prices have been made for several days, which, however, is not true of corn and oats. Hog prices continue unsteady and uncertain.

There is much concern over the small receipts of wheat at marketing centers and the blame is placed by many upon the railroads. Complaints of difficulty in getting cars are increasing daily. Preference must be given to the movement of foodstuffs or the transportation situation will be worse than last spring and winter. The opinion prevails that many farmers are holding their grain despite the set price, being encouraged in this perhaps by the relatively high prices of corn.

TOUCH OF MILITARY LIFE AT ELKS' PICNIC

Drill Will Be Given Under the Direction of Captain Ranke.

The military exercise drill given to a bunch of Elks a few weeks ago by Capt. Fred Eggeman has interested a number of local Elks in military work. As a result they have prevailed upon Captain Ranke, who is a Spanish-American war veteran and an enthusiastic Elk, to give them a real course in military work. It is planned to have the men meet at the Elks Country club this coming Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, take a long hike up the St. Joe river, then back to the Country club at 6:00 o'clock and partake of a meal prepared by the hikers themselves, have a campfire and social session until 9:00 o'clock and then roll into their blankets under tents that have been erected by the Elks' social session committee for the Elks "Pic of Picnics" to be held on Sunday. If the weather should be rainy they will use the large covered pavilion. Taps will sound at 5:30 a. m. and the squad will take an early morning walk along the St. Joe road, have breakfast at 7:30 a. m. and spend the rest of the day at the Elks picnic.

To Look After Visitors.
Chairman Charles A. Stanley has appointed a reception committee to look after delegations from Marion, Decatur, Defiance and the other places from which Elks are coming to attend the Elks picnic. The committee is composed of the following men:

H. A. Van Ausdel, Louis A. Cantilive, Clem Fox, Albert C. Hecker, Darrell D. Hallenstein, E. W. Cook, A. A. Serna, Jas. L. Shields, Wm. C. Rastetter, E. J. McDonald, Willo J. Ungemach, S. W. JUDGE HENCH HONORED.

Port Royal Times Tells of His Election as Commander.

"Ex-Judge Samuel M. Hench, of Port Wayne, Ind., was elected commander of the Grand Army of the Republic for the department of Indiana, at the state encampment of that patriotic order, which was held at Indianapolis on the 9th, 10th and 11th days of May.

"As is well known in this neighborhood, Judge Hench was born in Turbett township, this county, and he enlisted in Co. F, 126th regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, and was severely wounded at the battle of Fredericksburg, Va., on the 13th day of December, 1862. It will be further recollected that the late John P. Wharton, of this borough, was the captain of that company.

"The election of Judge Hench as department commander of the G. A. R. for Indiana, makes two members of the 126th regiment who have attained said honor; the other comrade being the Hon. Thad Mahon, ex-congressman from this district, now deceased, who was department commander for Pennsylvania several years ago."

Judge Hench has just returned from Osgood, Ripley county, where on Tuesday and Wednesday he attended a reunion of his old comrades-in-arms, who served in the Eighty-third Indiana infantry during the civil war.

GIRLS! MAKE LEMON LOTION TO WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY SKIN

In all weathers the skin and complexion can be kept wonderfully clear, soft and white by the use of this inexpensive lemon lotion which any girl or woman can easily prepare.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months.

Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothenor and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and hidden beauty of any skin.

Those who will make it a habit to gently massage this lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands once or twice daily may be repaid with a skin that is flexible and young looking and a peach-like complexion.—Advertisement.

REPAINTING EIFFEL TOWER.

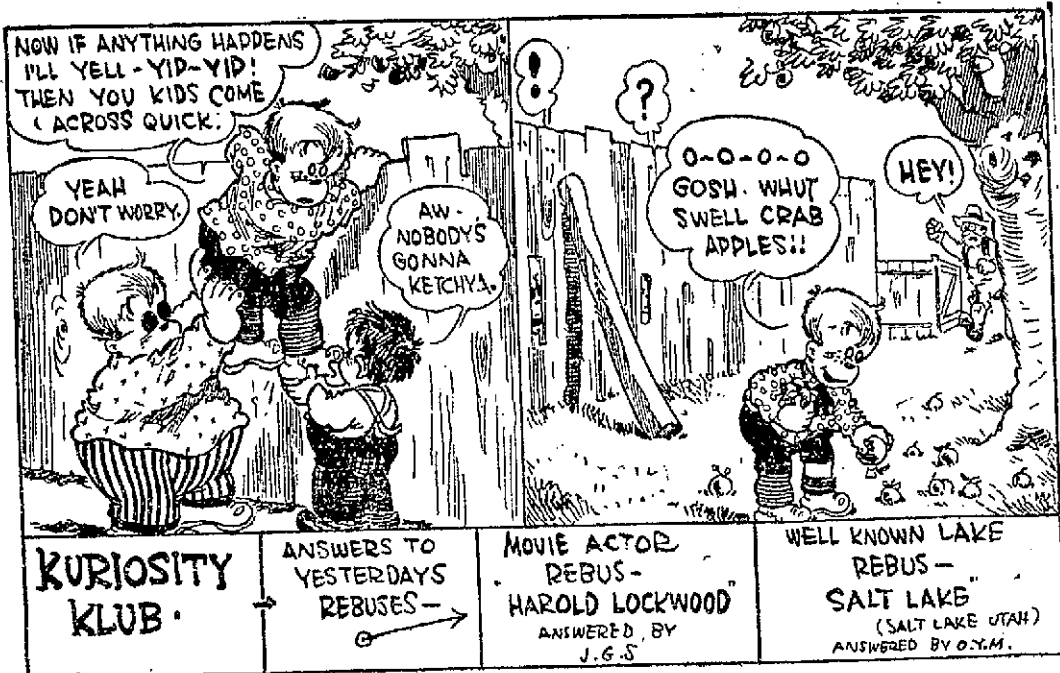

Paris, Aug. 7.--The Eiffel Tower is to be repainted. This is a task which will occupy about three months and require more than 40,000 pounds of paint. The outbreak of war in 1914 postponed the work. The structure was last painted in 1907, when a coat of yellow ochre was applied. The Eiffel Tower has had a curious fate. Built as an attraction for a world's fair, nearly thirty years ago, it was condemned as a monstrosity by those who believed themselves inspired by purely artistic feeling. Since the war, it has paid for its existence over and over again as a wireless telegraphy station.

The first game of the big semi-pro city championship series will start at League park next Sunday afternoon. The game will be called at 3 o'clock new time.

The Lincoln Lifers, holders of the title, will clash with Myer's Cubs. The series will be best three in five.

League players will be barred in the series, with the exception that Carl Vandagriff will be allowed to play with the Cubs and Jake Fromholz will be permitted to play one game for the Myer crew. The Lincoln Lifers will use no leaguers, standing pat on the regular lineup, which the Lincoln Lifers say will take home the bacon.

STILL FORT WAYNE'S PROPERTY.

J. H. Smith, catcher of the Fort Wayne Central league club, is still the property of Fort Wayne, although the Cincinnati Reds are trying desperately to get him. Manager Vandagriff says that Smith is subject to draft by the major leagues and none had yet put in a claim.

HE STARTED IN AT $10 A WEEK, BUT HE NOW LEADS THE CHAMPION GIANTS AND GETS $50,000 A YEAR

Slip McGraw they called him, when he was getting $10 a week as captain of the Wellsville (N. C.) Tan Barks.

That was twenty-five years ago, when baseball still was wearing short pants and the game was not so organized as today. Iain McGraw is the only man who remains of that team still playing the game.

The rest have become grocers or bakers or candlestick makers.

Musky weighed fifty pounds less than he does now. As captain of the team he got his first opportunity to show his ability in leading a nine to victory.

It took him twenty-five years to become the greatest baseball manager in history and leader of the finest combination of players that ever won a national league championship. McGraw is getting $50,000—at least now.

A TOUCHDOWN.

Hammond, Ind., Sept. 7.—The Hammond star football team, which played with Pine Village last fall for the professional championship, was given a body blow by Fort Wayne's Friar's football management, with whom it sought a match. Fort Wayne wrote back:

"We feel honored to think you want to play your first game with us, but nearly all our team has gone to war. We suggest that if Hammond has any men able-bodied enough to play football, that they enlist in the service of the army or navy."

There is possibility, however, that Smith may have made the deal himself, figuring that he could get his release after he secured his opportunity to go to the Reds. Smith was the heaviest slugger in the Chiefs' lineup, and for this reason probably looked good to the Reds, who have a corner of the hitting talent in the National league. Smith's ability as a hitter, it is figured, might offset his backstopping possibilities in making his debut in fast company.

The report that Smith had been purchased by the Reds came from Cincinnati but no confirmation of the story could be made. The situation, if it exists as stated by Essig, may permit of Smith's going up in the draft, but if such were the case, nothing is known of it. Smith's name was not included in the names of drafted Central league players which was announced several weeks ago.

"Smith is still the property," Secretary Essig told The Sentinel, "of the Fort Wayne Central league club. If he had been sold the deal would have taken place before Aug. 30."

"No deal took place. Smith has been trying to buy his release but it has not been obtained."

EMERALD ISLE IS GOLDEN ISLE NOW

Correspondent Finds War is Greatly Enriching the Irish People.

BY KENNETH W. PAYNE.

Dublin, Sept. 7.—The Emerald Isle has become lately an Isle of gold and diamonds!

"America's last year spree of war-time prosperity has been emulated here, on a smaller scale. War profits have converted this land, which used to complain of poverty, into country rejoicing in new riches and reaching out for more."

Without standing sponsor for these assertions, made to American correspondents here by enthusiastic advocates of the great Irish convention now held at work, I can say from personal observation that today in Ireland there are few signs of the misery it is said used to mark Irish life.

The Germans, and certain Sinn Féiners, have tempted to draw a parallel between Ireland and stricken Belgium. As a matter of fact, Ireland is a veritable paradise compared to Belgium, crushed under frightful fines and taxes, devastated, enslaved, its industries ruined, and its populace decimated.

Here in Ireland the war seems far away. Food is excellent, plentiful, comparatively cheap. Life is easy, pleasant and far less oppressed by the war than in England. Those in America who sympathize with the Sinn Féin movement for independence must henceforth buttress their sympathy only with visions and ideals of nationality.

Arthur Griffith, Sinn Féin leader and editor of their paper, Nationally, declares no home rule should be acceptable which did not give Ireland the right to raise and maintain its own army and navy. He declares Norway and Sweden, on less taxation, are able to do this.

A member of the nationalist party, believing in home rule, but not in an Irish republic, answered:

"Norway and Sweden support their own navies by their own taxation, and as a result are so plitfully weak they have had to endure the loss of nearly half their merchant marine through German submarines. I question whether there would be any comfort for Ireland in independence of that kind."

America's vast aviation plans have brought especial joy to Ireland. It takes 180 yards of the finest cambric to make the wings of a single one of the thousands of airplanes America plans to build. "And this cloth can come only from Ireland," say the enthusiasts. "Irish linen, made from Irish flax, can have practically monopoly prices henceforth."

Flax is Ireland's prime industrial crop. This year it covers 107,400 of Erin's acres—an increase over last year of 15,900 acres.

Said one authority, "America's huge military aviation scheme alone will call for over nine million yards of Irish linen, a strip of cambric over 5,000 miles long. In one airplane, the monster ship's wings would span the whole Atlantic from New York to Queens-town."

Ireland expects also to be the terminus of the trans-Atlantic aerial service, which aviation experts are predicting after the war.

While the Irish farmer is prosperous as never before, the industrial north, especially the Belfast ship-building district, has had its war prosperity. And to Dublin the Irish convention has brought not only crowds and money, but the dawn of a new hope for a self-governed and prosperous Ireland.

A Home Recipe For Removing Wrinkles

Who will blame the modern woman for trying to look as young and attractive as the reasonably can? Why should she be placed at a disadvantage in numerous ways by wearing wrinkles, if she can avoid these hateful marks of advancing age? Few women, however, know what to do to effectually rid themselves of wrinkles or sagging. Most of the advertised preparations are unsatisfactory and very expensive. But a very simple and harmless home remedy, which any woman can make, will work wonders where all the patent preparations fail.

Buy an ounce of powdered sassailla at any drug store. Dissolve the whole ounce in a half pint of witch hazel and use as a wash lotion. The results are practically instantaneous. Marked improvement is noticed immediately after the very first trial. Wrinkles and sagging are corrected and the face feels so refreshed and smug.

OLIVIA IS GOING TO MAKE VENUS LOOK LIKE A PIKER.

BY ALLMAN

MAY SHUT HIS EYES, BUT HE DOESN'T DOZE

Like Dreamy Alligator, Senator Chamberlain Snaps When Awakened.

(Staff Special.)
Washington, Sept. 7.—Did you ever watch a large alligator in a zoo? Eyes closed, body a log of wood, feet flopped on the ground, he looks absolutely dead. Poke him with a cane and watch the eyes open, the body lunge quickly forward and the iron jaws snap viciously.

G. E. CHAMBERLAIN.

Without insinuating that he is reptilian or ugly, Senator George E. Chamberlain, of Oregon, reminds you of that alligator. See him when he is in charge of a bill. The sultry air of the senate chamber seems to put him in a somnolent condition. He lolls way back in a chair. His eyes seem closed. He looks the picture of repose. Then Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, makes a wink, nasty thing and quicker than a wink, Chamberlain is on his feet denouncing the Oklahoma man. You could hardly realize there was all that fire and swiftness in Chamberlain's makeup. He has steered to passage more important measures to help this country win the war than any other senator.

That Chamberlain stands for a bill recommends it to his colleagues. He is solid. There is no fluff, no flub-dub about him. He does not indulge in rhetoric.

The same qualities that commended Chamberlain to Wilson and the senate made his fortunes as a southern-born democrat in the republican state of Oregon. Out there he was legislator, district attorney general, then governor for two terms and is now in his second term as senator. Following is a list of bills he has put over as chairman of the committee on military affairs:

- Creating aviation section of the army signal corps.
- Revision of articles of war by army appropriation bill amendment.
- Authorizing sales by supply department of army to certain military schools and colleges having army officers detailed as teachers of military science.
- March 17, 1916, increasing the army

A FACT—The Superiority of Trivers $15 Guaranteed Clothes—And Why!

RIGHT now, we might tell you that the new Fall and Winter Trivers clothes are a startling achievement.

We might tell you about their style superiority, the abundance of these styles, the greatness of the variety and sizes, the perfection of workmanship.

We might tell you about all these features—and a great many more. But we prefer that you establish them for yourself.

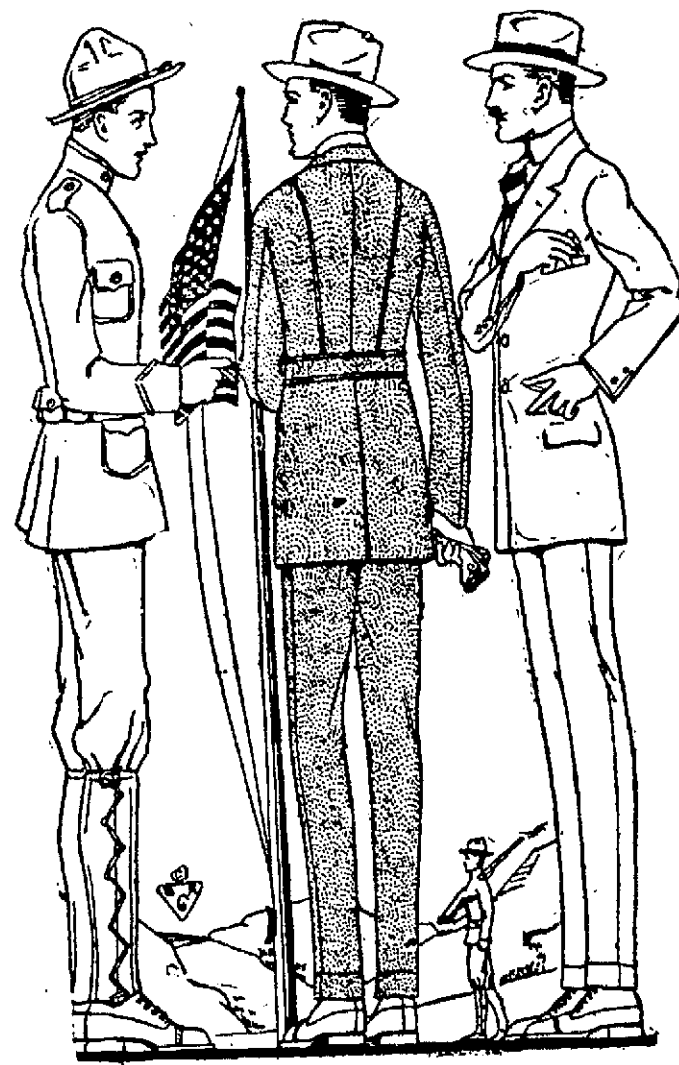

We want you to find in these clothes your ideal of what clothes should be.

We want you to personally "discover" the clothes that you have been waiting for and hoping for these many years.

We want you to set your expectation just as high as you possibly can. Then come in and examine these new Trivers clothes and see if you are obliged to make one single compromise.

We ask you to do this for yourself. We shall be quite content to abide by your decision.

And now, just a few words in explanation of the success which has come to 16 Trivers Clothes Shops in such generous measure.

Trivers Clothes Shop
924 Calhoun Street

FIRST and foremost, let it be understood that Trivers "maker-to-wearer" clothes are built not for price—but for quality.

As we have repeatedly stated in our public advertisements—

"It is by no means difficult to manufacture clothes for a price, but it is quite a different matter to produce clothes of 100 point excellence and still maintain a price of always

$15.00

There you have the very essence of the Trivers idea.

There you have the compelling motive behind every suit or overcoat which has ever left the Trivers Factory in New York.

There you have the reason for the astounding value which you will find in the new Fall and Winter Trivers Clothes.

So long as Trivers Clothes are made, we shall unceasingly maintain our policy of making only good clothes—with quality our first and foremost consideration.

It is a matter of public knowledge that the cost of raw material and labor has vastly increased during the past twelve months.

Notwithstanding this fact, however, we pledge ourselves to jealously guard even the quality of every thread which goes into the tailoring of Trivers clothes.

On this basis, we ask you to buy Trivers clothes—not because of their price—but because of their label and what it stands for—Lowest In Price and Highest In Quality.

ELEVEN BILLION WAR BOND BILL IS PASSED

House Puts Measure Over Without Making Any Material Change.

BY BASIL M. MANLY.
(Staff Special.)
Washington, Aug. 7.—What is Uncle Sam going to do with all these billions of dollars he is asking the American people to pay into the treasury?

Twenty-one billions it was at nine o'clock this morning, and we'll assume it hasn't changed much since. Whew! that's a lot of money—$210 for every man, woman and child in the United States. What on earth can the government need it all for?

Of course, we know all of it except a measly little billion and a third, which is all Uncle Sam is spending in peace times, must be raised because of the war. But what is he buying with it?

In the first place, there are seven billions of loans to our allies that Uncle Sam isn't spending at all. That leaves fourteen billions. And then there are two billions more, included in the estimate of 21 billions, which are just an emergency fund, much of which, however, will certainly be needed to put through the soldiers' and sailors' insurance plan.

That leaves us with about twelve billions that Uncle Sam is sure to spend this year, of which $570,000,000 are required for ordinary civil expenses.

Now we come to the real war expenses. The army is the biggest item, with total estimated expenses of $7,825,000,000 for the year. Of this $3,633,000,000 go through the quartermaster corps to pay the soldiers and provide food, clothing and shelter. Another big item of $3,154,000,000 goes to buy guns and ammunition. The medical service alone is in for $130,000,000 and there are more than $700,000,000 for aviation.

The navy expects to spend $1,524,000,000, of which $897,000,000 are for ships and guns, and the balance to meet running expenses, ammunition, fuel, pay, etc.

Outside of the direct army and navy war expenses, however, are all sorts of indirect war expenses. $1,659,000,000 in the aggregate. The biggest item is merchant ships, the construction, purchase and operation of which calls for $1,323,000,000. Food control will cost $164,000,000.

The president also has a fund of $100,000,000 for anything connected with national defense, generally believed to be largely devoted to the anti-spy activities. There is $45,000,000 for war-risk ship insurance and $47,000,000 put aside for liberty bond cost and interest. This completes the list except for some piffling items of less than a million each for alien detention, export control, and the council of national defense.

It is certainly some money and we are going to have to dig like hell to get it for Uncle Sam. But there are two things we want to remember.

In the first place, nearly everybody in the country is working for Uncle Sam now, either on his own payroll or on the payroll of the corporations doing his work.

Second, and most important, Uncle Sam is trying to crowd into one year the military and naval preparations that ought to have been made and paid for during the last twenty-five years.

NETHERLANDS SEEKS AMERICAN CAPITAL

One of Holland's Mission to This Country Said That Lately.

The Hague, Netherlands, Sept. 7.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—"I regard it as most desirable that more American capital should be invested in the Netherlands, East Indies, and I have done constantly what I could to promote that end," declared J. B. Van der Houven Van Oort, one of three Hollanders who have just been charged with an official mission to Washington in connection with the pending export question, that so vitally concerns the Netherlands. Mr. Van Oort is a colonial official and authority. He has been under-secretary of state for the colonies, and has also filled the post of vice president of the Council of the Netherlands, East Indies.

To the correspondent of The Associated Press, Mr. Van Oort pointed out that there has been a big increase in the commercial intercourse between America and Dutch India since the war, and particularly since the establishment of a direct steamship line between Java and San Francisco.

"The five boats now engaged in that service," he said, "are always packed with goods. Rubber and all kinds of tropical products are shipped to the United States, and the boats return laden with railroad rolling stock, machinery, automobiles, airplanes and the like. If only the ships were available, the service might easily, and to advantage, be extended."

"But the amount of American capital operating in the colony is small in comparison with the British, German, French and Belgian capital. It is true there has been an increase in recent years. There is one American rubber estate in the island of Sumatra that is the largest plantation in the world, and special ships run to United States ports to carry its produce thither. But a great deal more might profitably be done, especially now money is so plentiful in the union. The sugar, rubber, tea and other agricultural branches offer enormous scope for profitable investment, not to speak of mining possibilities.

"Although there are at present very few in the country, Americans are popular in the Netherlands, East Indies, and they and their enterprises are assured of a most cordial welcome. There is every prospect of a big extension of relations between the two countries, to our mutual advantage."

MERGENTHEIM'S

ARMY TELEGRAPHERS

ASKED BY UNCLE SAM

Call is Made for Nine Hundred of Them from Indiana Alone.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 7.—That Indiana is expected to provide nine hundred telegraphers for the United States signal corps was communicated to Will H. Hays, chairman of the state council of defense by the lieutenant-colonel of the corps, stationed at Chicago. The educational institutions of Indiana are requested to establish departments for the training of telegraphers. The matter was referred to the educational section of the council of which Horace Ellis, state superintendent of public instruction, is chairman.

Mr. Hays said that the government had submitted plans for the raising of the next liberty loan, and the communications on this subject were turned over to Evans Woollen, chairman of the finance committee, who will make a report at the next meeting.

John McPhee, city attorney of Muncie, said he had been asked to solicit the advice of the council in regard to the action of the city of Muncie in response to a communication from the Boulevard Four railway to the effect that it could not proceed with plans for a subway at the Elliott street tracks, as the national council of defense had advised the railways to suspend such work temporarily because of more important railway work that has to be done. He said the city could proceed in the courts to force the railway company to proceed with the much-needed improvement, but the administration did not desire to act contrary to the desires of the state and national councils of defense.

After a discussion by members of the state council, it seemed to be the prevailing opinion that the city of Muncie should suspend action temporarily until the railway situation is improved.

Mr. Hays said that Elliott D. Smith, head of the information department of the national council of defense, had written to the Indiana council saying the national body was interested in the account given in the Indiana bulletin of the program for organizing the educational resources of the state for war service work and modifying the curriculum in the schools to meet the extraordinary conditions. The information department asked for full details of the Indiana plans.

WOOL INDUSTRY IN JAPAN.

Tokio, Sept. 7.—Unlimited possibilities in the wool manufacturing business are open to Japan in South America, especially in Argentina, according to Paul Delryn, a wool exporters of Buenos Ayres, London and Amsterdam, who has been in Japan. "The great needs, at present," he said, "are better shipping facilities between South America and Japan, and preparation by Japanese manufacturers for handling crossbred wool as well as the Merino quality." Mr. Delryn said there were unlimited trade possibilities with the South American continent in wool, hides and feathers to be exchanged for all sorts of manufactured goods from Japan.
